NEW ERA IN TELEGRAPHY. Marconi's Great Triumph and What

It Signifies New York Tribune

The interchange of messages between the old world and the new now authoritatively announced, was definitely foreshadowed the steamship Philadelphia. His previous experiments on Signal Hill, Newfoundland, last December, however convincing to him individually, were unsatisfactory as a public demonstration. It is not customary to accept the announcement of a scientific discovery or achievement on the strength of any one man's word. Selfdeception is so common an experience among reputable inventors and investigators that corroboration is absolutely nec essary. This was afforded by the selfregistering instruments and the testimony of the ship's officers in Marconi's later tests while himself crossing the ocean. The public was then fully justified in believing that messages had been received 1,550 miles from Poldhu and signals at a distance of 2,100

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.-The suit against J. P. Morgan, brought by Harsy Nevelson, for the alleged failure of the financiar to provide heat in an apartment leased by Nevelson, has been settled out of court. Mr. Morgan's agents promised that there should be an immediate supply of coal in hundreds are dying on the journey. Charles Beresford also declares his conviction that the scheme which the admiralty has in hand will prove of the greatest possible benefit to the service, and he intimates that it will prove to be one of the most drastic that could have been conceived. Already, he says, the Mediterranean fleet has been strengthened, the coal supply has been increased and plans have been formulated to regulate the action of the fleet in case of war. Special committees have been formulated to regulate the action of manning the reserves.etc. Lord Charles vigorously denounced the habit of patching damaged boilers. Faulty boilers, he said, ought to be put on the scrap heap and replaced by new ones. ... Some of the London newspapers are printing details of the consequences of the prolonged drouth in Australia, chiefly in
