Large Attendance and Interesting Session of State Association Expected.

LOOKING UP SUGAR BEET PROSPECTS

Principal Gathering of Iowa Democrats on Jackson Day Indicates Free Silver Element is in the Background.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Dec. 27.—(Special.)—The advance guard of the Iowa State Teachers' association will begin to arrive in Des Moines tomorrow and leaders in educational work will be here in large numbers.

The program begins on Tuesday evening with the meeting of the educational council, but it is usual for the committees of this council to have a meeting on Monday. Generally the reports of the various committees will be prepared on Monday evening so as to be ready for the council on Tuesday.

One of the subjects the council will consider this year is an old one, the "Sequence of Studies." A year ago the committee considered for a second time the subject of the "Sequence of Studies" and made a report, but later the committee requested that the subject be withdrawn from consideration and that the committee be given another year on account of its great importance.

The committee was instructed by the council that in making up its next report, in addition to those studies already reported on, it carefully consider and report upon all studies which are practicable for Iowa schools, and also to consider the relative time which it is profitable to give to each under present conditions in this state.

On the river would warrant any further appropriations, but that the sum named would be necessary to keep the river within its banks. "These improvements," he said, "are as necessary as the leaves along the Mississippi in the south. The Missouri river is constantly eating out the banks and thousands of acres are annually washed away. The damage in this way is almost incalculable."

There is a strong sentiment in favor of the continued improvements and Captain Chittenden's suggestion of a congress is likely to meet with immediate approval.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The will of Mrs. Julia A. Grant, which was admitted to probate today and letters of administration were issued to Brigadier General Frederick Dent Grant, General Grant, as executor, furnished a bond in the sum of $60,000.
