DELAY IN LICENSE CASES

Police Board Again Postpones Hearing on Protestants Filed by Papers.

NEWS ATTORNEY NOT READY TO PROCEED

Protestants' Representative Asks for Further Time to Prepare His Case and Matter is Put Over Until Wednesday.

Hearing as to all protested applications for liquor licenses has been deferred by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners until Wednesday, and at the meeting of last evening it was announced as the intention of the board to determine the legality of the published notices of application without consideration of the relative circulation of the newspapers in which the notices were published except in cases in which the good faith of the applicants is called into question.

On behalf of the World-Herald, Mr. Hitchcock said he was willing to admit good faith in advertising in the case of all of the druggists, with the exception of L. E. Peyton, on condition that the record should show the ground that they had advertised in good faith.

The board granted druggists' permits as follows: H. B. Graham, 228 Farnam street; Kuhn & Co., Fifteenth and Douglas streets; Edward T. Yates, 524 North Sixteenth street; E. E. Bruce & Co., 401 South Tenth street; D. C. McNeil, 1665 North Eighteenth street; Richardson Drug company, North and Jackson streets; B. Robinson, 524 South Sixteenth street; Gustave Hahn, 1502 Farnam street; Hugo Wasserman, 102 South Twelfth street.

On motion of Commissioner Wright, N. A. Peterson, 1025 South Tenth street, was refused a permit to sell liquor, on the ground "that he is not a proper person to have a druggist's license." Members of the board explained that numerous complaints had been made, supported by evidence, that Peterson had sold liquor without proper authority from a physician and without compliance with the law in regard to recording sales of liquor and the names of purchasers.

The following applications for saloon licenses, against which no protest had been filed, were granted: John A. Furbill, rear of 1512 Douglas street; Harry May, 1208 Douglas street; Albert Ellipse, 1513 Farnam street.

RAILWAY TRACKS THE TOPIC

Missouri Pacific and Street Car Companies Receive Attention from Councilmen.

Application has been made to the city council by the Missouri Pacific Railway company for leave to run another spur track across Seventeenth street near Izard street for accommodation in handling grain to and from Merriam & Holmquist's elevator. This proposition has been presented in the form of a resolution, which was considered in general committee yesterday afternoon and which will go before the council with a favorable report provided the company will comply with the usual conditions.

The committee also considered the question of the removal of the abandoned street railway tracks from Eleventh and Howard streets. The petition from the business men of that vicinity asking that the tracks be removed was read, as was also a communication from the street railway company stating that plans are now in process of completion that would entail the use of those tracks in the spring. The committee agreed to allow the company until June 1 to perfect its plans and put the tracks into service again.

OMAHA GUARDS GIVE PARTY

More Than Hundred and Fifty Couples Dance at Creighton Hall.

Gayety reigned supreme at Creighton hall Monday evening, the event being one of the regular holiday assemblages given under the auspices of the O. G. Guards. During the earlier hours of the night the spacious hall was crowded with fair dancers and their escorts, who thoroughly enjoyed the excellent numbers played by Dimmik's full orchestra.

The members of the different military companies were present in large numbers and their presence added to the enjoyment of the evening. While the dance went on light refreshments were served to the guests in booths provided for the purpose at the east end of the hall. In the armory rooms the weary dancers sat beneath a canopy formed of American flags.

The event was the most pleasing social function given by the Guards this season and was not only enjoyed by the 150 couples from the city, but also by many from out of the city.

READY FOR CITY COUNCIL

Tax Commissioner Will Certify Return of Board of Review Tuesday.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION NEXT WEEK

Real Estate Tables Show Total Assessment of $72,200,465 for This Year—Personal Property Figures Not Complete.

Tax Commissioner Fleming has now so far completed his work upon the current assessment that he will be able to certify the return of the Board of Review to the city council at the meeting Tuesday evening. This will enable the council to begin its work as a board of equalization either Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, as it is to be presumed and understood that body will allow no longer time to elapse than the six days required by law for the announcement in the newspapers.

Mr. Fleming has not yet completed his figures on the personal property assessment and does not expect to have them in shape until some time Tuesday. The real estate tables show the total assessment returned by the Board of Review for this year to be $72,200,465. The total as presented to the board by the tax commissioner was $72,423,045 and, therefore, the revisions of the Board of Review resulted in a net reduction of $125,580.

The total returned by the Board of Review to the council for the assessment of last year was $28,892,250, which was believed and intended to be 40 per cent of the fair cash value of the property assessed, and therefore represented real estate of value of $72,225,625. By comparison of the figures of last year with those of the current assessment it would appear that a higher valuation has been placed upon the real estate of the city this year than last; but in that connection it must be taken into consideration that the board of review has made additions to the assessment in the course of the year.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

The third annual convention of the Missouri Federation of Colored Women's Clubs closed in St. Louis on Saturday after a two days' session. The meeting was held at St. Paul's chapel and was replete with interest. The "Anti-Cigarette Movement" was the subject of a most interesting paper by Mrs. F. H. Ingalls of St. Louis and resulted in the unanimous adoption of resolutions pledging the support of the members of the organization to an effort to secure the passage of a law in Missouri prohibiting the sale of cigarettes and cigarette paper to minors.

The St. Louis Federation of Women's Clubs, through its president, Mrs. M. L. Harrison, pledged its assurance of ample preparation for the entertainment of the National Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, to be held in St. Louis next summer. By a rising vote it was decided to send a telegram of greeting to the Southern Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, at its session in Memphis.

Two amendments to the constitution, one concerning the officers of second and third vice president and the other authorizing all officers to hold office until their successors are elected or appointed. Rev. D. P. Roberts addressed the convention, asking that some action be taken to secure some special representation of the negro race at the Louisiana Purchase exposition. He spoke of the failure of the colored men in securing such recognition, but thought this fact would be no discouragement to the women.

The annual election of officers resulted as follows: Miss Anna H. Jones of Kansas City, president; Mrs. Susan P. Vashon, executive president; Mrs. M. L. Harrison, president of the city federation; Mrs. C. C. Helms, recording secretary; Mrs. M. F. Pitts, Mrs. J. Alice Hamilton and Mrs. C. G. Williams of Booneville, Missouri.

"The Temperance Cause as a Factor in the Elevation of Womanhood" was the subject of a paper by Miss Lavinia Carter of St. Louis, and a paper on "The Future of Our Girls," by Mrs. F. M. Pitts, drew out the most interesting discussion of the entire session from Miss Helen Burrill of the Sumner High school, Miss Georgetta White of L'Overture school and Professor G. N. Gresham of the Kansas City High school.

In view of the fact that many of the delegates to the women's convention are delegates to the Missouri State Teachers' convention, the date and place of the next annual meeting was referred to the executive committee, to be called at a time and place chosen by that body.

Club women of Illinois are manifesting a great deal of interest in the housekeepers' conference to be held at the State university January 19 and 20 and it is expected that a large number of them will attend.

At a meeting of the Pittsburg Women's club held on last Tuesday the adopted resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That we, as members of the Women's club of Pittsburg, protest against the seating of Reed Smoot of Utah in the United States senate. Reed Smoot is one of the most prominent Moralists, a polygamist and an apostle. As women we protest against the degradation of women—against a lawbreaker posing as a lawmaker."

Deaconess Hall, the founder of St. Mark's Students' club of Tuesday City, is making plans for converting that institution into a residential club like the famous art students' club of Paris. Mrs. Hall contends that there is great need of just such a club, where the many young women coming to New York to study art, who do not know where to find suitable boarding places and who have but little money, may find a home at rates within their means. Mrs. Hall proposes to put her plan into operation within a year and in speaking of it she said: "While the purpose there is no hardship involved, but New York students seldom have full purses. What we want is a big house where the girls can be lodged simply but decently and economically."

The Chicago Daughters of the American Revolution have called a meeting for Tuesday to take the preliminary steps toward forming a bill to the preparation for a legislature, asking an appropriation for this purpose. The local organization of Sons of the American Revolution, Grand Army of the Republic, Society of the War of 1812, the Bar association and the school board

MORE AGAINST THE TREATY

Opposition to Ratification of Cuban Compact Developing.

BUT PRESIDENT IS YET CONFIDENT

Two Classes of Senators Now Present Counter Arguments, Some Urging Other Nations Will Demand Similar Concessions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Considerable opposition is developing to the ratification of the Cuban reciprocity treaty now pending in the senate. It is not taking quite the form that the opposition to the Cuban legislation took last spring, but it is sufficient in substance to give concern to the friends of the treaty.

From time to time an opportunity offers the president is discussing the matter with senators, particularly those who are known to have objected to the enactment of legislation extending tariff concessions to the Cuban republic.

Several weeks ago it appeared that the treaty when presented to the senate would be ratified without difficulty, but some senators are now taking as strong grounds against the treaty as they took against the legislation proposed at the last session of congress.

These senators are of two classes—those opposed on principle to "any tariff tinkering" and those who represent states whose products may be affected by the concessions extended to Cuba by the pending treaty.

Senators of the first class might be induced to support the treaty, inasmuch as it does not involve, in their view, an attack on the system of protection, were it not for their apprehension that the ratification of the Cuban treaty may lead to a demand from other countries that they, too, be accorded the special tariff concessions by the United States.

Germany May Also Ask It. It has been indicated to the president that in the event of the ratification of the Cuban treaty a demand may be expected from Germany within thirty days for concessions similar to those accorded Cuba. The most distinct desire of the German emperor, it is pointed out, is for the extension of the foreign commerce of his empire. He, of course, regards Cuba as a nation foreign to the United States, and as far as that point is concerned, on all fours with Germany. If tariff concessions are granted to Cuba, Germany under the most favored nation clause, will request that it be given similar concessions. That request may take the form, almost, of a demand. If the request be not granted, the fear is expressed that Germany may initiate legislation that will be identical to the industrial development of this country, so far as Germany is concerned, even if it should not entail American commerce already established in Germany and its possessions.

The same argument is applied to other countries, Germany being merely used as an example. The president had an hour's conference with Senator Scott of West Virginia, during which they discussed the reciprocity question in all its phases. Senator Scott is offering no capacious opposition to the Cuban treaty, but he is particularly desirous that nothing should be done that in the end might result in concessions on the part of the United States in its tariff policy.

Expect Its Ratification. The president, it is understood, believes that the treaty with Cuba will be ratified. He desires that it should be ratified as promptly as possible and with as little friction as may be. He sees in the proposed ratification no possible assault on the tariff system of this country and believes that it would be simply the redemption of a promise, direct or implied, made to the Cuban people when they were in the throes of the organization of their government.

In this view the president is supported by a large majority of republican senators. While some trouble is anticipated in the
