

LAWYERS OF NEBRASKA MEET

Third Annual Convention of State Bar Association Begins Work.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES COME FIRST

Program Includes Number of Papers on Live Legal Topics, Reception and Smoker and Big Banquet at the Close.

The numerical strength of the supreme court was the dominant consideration in yesterday's session of the Nebraska State Bar association, which is now in third annual assembly.

President Davidson's Address.

Yesterday's session opened at 2:30 with the address of President Davidson, which was in part as follows:

Two years ago the docket of the supreme court of this state was not only increasing but was rapidly increasing with the work before them, the docket being produced in many cases an absolute denial of justice, and the practice of the court was becoming settled and disorganized.

Some permanent relief in the way of an increase of the number of the judges of the supreme court is urgently demanded. It is evident that the only permanent relief from an overcrowded docket can only come from an increase in the number of the judges of the supreme court.

To Curb Anarchy.

The people ought not to let their deep indignation, so justly aroused by the assassination of President McKinley, to limit an adequate remedy for such emergency laws.

It was through the blue haze from many rich Havanas that the visiting delegates to the annual meeting of the State Bar association sat Omaha on their first night here.

Committee on Legal Education.

The gist of the report of the committee on legal education as presented by Chairman H. H. Wilson of Lincoln is found in the following resolutions, which were adopted with only one dissenting voice:

Resolved, That this association recommends such legislation as will require all persons before receiving the study of law with a view of admission to the bar to prove by satisfactory evidence that they possess a good English education.

Resolved, That this association recommends such legislation as will require all applicants for admission to the bar to show that they have devoted at least three years to the study of law.

Legislation Affecting Profession.

In presenting the report of the committee of legislation affecting the profession, Chairman R. W. Breckenridge said in part: The temporary expedient of a supreme court commission has worked excellently.

ASHHATA

Climate warms out. Snakes and spiders do not cure. The business of the supreme court shall make it expedient to do.
