Four Eastern Clubs Reported Unwilling to Ratify Cincinnati Treaty.

NATIONAL LEAGUE LIKELY TO SPLIT

Adverse Vote on Agreement Will Lend to Disruption and Probably Accentance of Johnson's Ten-Club-Circuit Plan.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 12.-When the conferees of the National and American Hose Ball leagues adjourned here last Saturday night nothing was heard but declarations of peace. The National conferees were as confident as the American, although the former did not have plenipotentlary power. Since then, however, representatives of the New York, Boston, Brooklyn and Philadelphia National clubs have pro- the Cincinnati peace conference). What do tested. If New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston should refuse to enter into the agreement it is said there will be a split in the National league which will result in the owners desiring peace with the American league on the basis agreed upon joining hands with the American league and completely severing all connection with that branch of the league reported by the objecting faction. The plan suggested by President Johnson of a ten-club circuit might be carried out by having the western circuit made up of Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit and Cleveland, and the eastern division of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Pittsburg.

Senate Again Discusses Vest's Preposal to Abolish Duty.

MEMBERS GROW HEATED OVER DINGLEY Allegation that He Placed Tariff High

to Permit Reciprocal Reductions Leads to Bot Debate on Both Sides.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The proceedings of the senate today were enlivened by several spirited speeches affecting the reciprocity provision of the Dingley act. While the Vest resolution directing the committee on finance to report a bill removing the duty on coal was under discursion Mr. Doiliver (Ia.) vigorously attacked these senators responsible for holding up reciprocity treaties in the senate. He defended Secretary Shaw's order instructing collectors of customs to decide differences in the grades of coal in favor of the im-

The resolution went over until tomorrow after Mr. Tillman (S. C.) had given notice that he would then "string a live wire" and lay the blame for the present coal situstion at the door of the president and attorney general. Mr. Nelson (Minn.) concluded his remarks in opposition to the stateheod bill and at 4:10 the senate went into executive seasion, adjourning soon afterward.

Soon after the senate met Mr. Jones (Nev.) favorably reported the resolution of Mr. Stewart (Nev.), authorizing the committee on the District of Columbia to send for witnesses in connection with the coal investigation, to administer oaths and to compel the attendance of witnesses if necessary. The resolution was agreed to. Consideration of the Vest resolution directing the finance committee to prepare and report a bill removing the duty on coal was then resumed.

Mr. Dolliver (Ia.) defended the orders of Secretary Shaw, which were issued last fall and instructed collectors of customs to resolve all reasonable doubts in favor of the importer.

Mr. Dolliver then discussed the efforts made to secure reciprocity treaties and said congress had not given the negotiations the ordinary courtesy of casual consideration. He took up the allegation made against Mr. Dingles and said sarcastically that Mr. Dingley had been charged with the hideous crime of having so arranged the tariff schedule in the law of 1897 as to furnish the basis for reciprocity arguments. "It is true" he declared, "that in the bill which he had reported from the committee on ways and means be did put duties up for the express purpose of having them traded down." All Europe Does It.

When such a work as that is condemned as infamy, he said, against which the mem ory of Mr. Dingley ought to be defended, he could not see the restraint of conscience to stand in the senate and say there is nothing infamous about it. "It is the scheme," he continued, "that is in practice in every government in Europe."

This concluded the Delaware & Hudson case and Major Everett Warren opened for He said in part:

Rete Case is opened.

May it please the commission: The Hill-side Coal and Iron company and the Penn-sylvania Coal company are under one man-agement, and their cases, therefore, will be presented together.

Mr. Mitchell, in his opening address, made large promises as to the proofs of the mins workers' demands, which he has absolutely failed to fulfill. It is passing strange if the demands, as filed by the mine workers, are well founded that we have no evidence here to sustain them. Aside from the opinions of an ex-bituminous mine worker of filinois, who frankly admits that he has little, if any, personal knowledge of conditions in the anthractic field (and he promised us, I may add, witnesses who would claim to know the facts from personal experience in the region), I cannot recall a single witness who has supported in any fair way the demands constituting the complainants' case.

First—As to the matter of wages, our statements and figures, already presented and certified by the other side, will be explained in detail by the auditor. These statements will utterly refute the charges that our employes are underpaid and they will disclose, when supplemented, as they will be, by oral testimony that the earning capacity of the employes is self-limited, and that the men have it in their power, if their union did not interfere and hald them back, to earn much larger amounts, fully as large if not in excess of the demands of the union.

Conditions Not Unpleasant.

Conditions Not Unpleasant. We shall show that the miner's life is not

We shall show that the miner's life is not short, the conditions not unhealthy, the conditions vastly different from those represented. And it is a significant fact, in view of all the testimony as to the dangers of the employment, that the reports of the mine inspector for the year ending 1901 disclose that out of $0.07 employes of our companies there were only twenty-five fatal accidents and sixty non-fatal.

Second—The demand for a reduction in hours of employment, if granted, we shall show would be prejudicial alike to employer and employe. The nominal ten-hour day and employe. The nominal ten-hour da does not result in securing an average of even an eight-hour day in this region, and never has. It will appear that this demand is most unreasonable and aside from crip-

Third—The third demand involves not merely the question of payment by weight, but payment for each ton of 2,340 pounds as it comes from the mines. This is impracticable, as we shall show, and manifestly unfair. "Miners' ton" is a misnomer and is confusing. "Miners' weight," and at all collicries payment is by this method, has a definite and fixed meaning in law and practice.

I think we shall be able to satisfy the commission that the present method of commission that the present method of payment by miners' weight is eminently fair to all concerned.

No Objection to Union

Fourth—There is no objection to labor organizations, no objection to our employes acting together, no denial of their right to be heard by committees and no discrimination against the persons composing them. Two factors have heretofore entered into the whole matter of wages—the ability and disposition of the worker is the greatest factor; the place and surroundings the other. The United Mine Workers tend to destroy the first. It is "labor's war on labor." We shall give you an inkling of how they act—the locals, I mean—of how they destroy individual effort, custs ambition, restrict earning capacity, encourage idleness and discontent, breed lack of respect of authority and destroy discipline. The American standard of living to which our friends on the other side refer, covers something besides wages. It embraces the right to sell one's labor without let or hindrance or intimidation or abuse. It also involves respect for property rights. Fourth-There is no objection to labor or-It also involves respect for property rights.

Under the American flag there is no place Captain W. A. May of Scranton, the general superintendent of the two companies, told of improvements made in and about the collieries during the last twenty-three years. The company had given the men a chance to purchase their own homes and allowed them three months to pay back rent which accumulated during the strike. He said the contr ct miners averaged about six hours a day, leaving the mines anywhere from 8:20 a. m. to 2 p. m. Speaking of the steam men, who work twelve hours a day, he said they did not In answer to questions he said there was no reason why an industrious miner should fell $1.500 helind expenses, the intersection amounting to $100 kms. if he had his way he would make the age limit 16 for underground work and 14 He described the docking system and said it was principally left to the judgment of the docking boss. on cross-examination he could not tell how much of the property was mortgaged. Counsel for the miners disputed his method in reaching the valuation.

Dr. W. G. Pulton, a surgeon in the Lackawanna hospital at Scranton, and Dr. W. E. Keller of Scranton said the occupation of a miner compared favorably with that of most other occupations so far as health was concerned, but admitted on cross-examination that the authoracite mines were
