

LEGISLATORS WAGE WAR

Colorado House Oust Democrats and Senate Turns Out Republicans

UPPER CHAMBER SITS IN TWO SECTIONS

Lieutenant Governor, Accused of Partisanship, is Called on to Leave Chair, Members Split and Hold Party Meetings.

DENVER, Jan. 19.—The threatened war of reprisals between the two houses of the Colorado legislature began today. In the house of representatives the republicans ousted democrats and in the senate, after refusing to recognize what they considered partisan rulings, the democrats suspended the lieutenant governor and proceeded to oust republicans. Later the senate divided, the republicans continuing in session under the lieutenant governor's leadership and the democrats ousting more members, with W. H. Adams in the chair.

House Unseats Democrats. Four of the five republican members of the house committee on election reported in favor of unseating the four republican representatives from Arapahoe county, and one other Arapahoe member, all democrats. All had majorities on the face of the returns ranging from 2,600 to 4,000, but the republicans claim that these were fraudulently obtained. One republican member of the committee favored unseating all of the fifteen Arapahoe representatives.

The four democratic members of the committee presented a minority report against unseating any members, claiming that 500 would be a liberal allowance for the fraudulent votes cast in this city. It is the intention of the republican members of the committee to also recommend the unseating of two Los Animas county democrats.

The state senate today adopted a joint resolution binding the United States senator to be elected at this session of the legislature to favor the election of senators by a direct vote of the people.

The report of one republican member of the elections committee to unseat the fifteen Arapahoe and two Los Animas county democrats, was defeated by a vote of 44 to 21. It received the votes of the seventeen republican members who are supporting Edward O. Wolcott for senator and several others.

By a vote of 33 to 21 S. W. Belford, one of the Arapahoe democrats, was declared entitled to his seat. Two republicans voted with the democrats and one republican refrained from voting.

The house action was taken in rapid succession after the other ten contests from Arapahoe county, the democrats being seated. Then that of McGill against Weir, representing Sedgewick, Yuma, Phillips and Arapahoe counties, was taken up, and McGill, the republican contestant, declared entitled to the seat. The republican contestant, Conchos and Conchos, Garcia of Conchos and Sanchez of Costilla and Huertano, republicans, who were also nominated by the democrats, voted with the democrats on the Arapahoe contests, but changed to the republicans on subsequent votes.

Agular (dem.) from Las Animas, was then unseated, and Stevens, the republican contestant, gained the place. Other Members Are Displaced. The other contests considered were decided in favor of the republicans as follows: Hillyer displaced Traxler of Frower, Baca and Las Animas, and Nauget, Lowell and Morgan got the seats of Monson, Hilliard and Moore, representing districts of which Arapahoe forms a part. This left a republican majority of two on joint ballot.

There are contests against the other fourteen democratic members of the house, and it is understood that should they succeed in carrying out its threat of throwing out republicans an equal number will be unseated. It is also possible that today's action in seating democrats may be reconsidered.

Senate Adopts Minority Report. Late this afternoon the senate took up the contests and the election committee reported in favor of the democrats. Seats were being contested by republicans in favor of the democrats. Lieutenant Governor Haggott refused to recognize the democrats, but recognized the republicans. A minority report from the elections committee was submitted which unseated the following democrats: Buckley, Ballinger, Hill, Kennedy, Hal-

Representatives Allege Pay is Too Small and Agents Too Many.

POSTS MADE ASYLUMS FOR DRUNKARDS

Congressman Slaysden Paints Picture of Shortcomings, Saying Flags Are Pinned and Cool Stolen by Diplomats in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The house transacted considerable business today. Several miscellaneous measures were passed, among them the senate Hawaiian flag claims bill. The consular and diplomatic appropriation bill, the third of the budgets, was passed and fair progress was made in the District of Columbia appropriation bill. During consideration of the diplomatic bill Mr. McClellan (N. Y.) precipitated a discussion concerning our diplomatic and consular service which took a wide range and led to some serious charges against consular representatives in Mexico by Mr. Slaysden (Tex.). Mr. McClellan submitted figures to show the consulates, compared with those of other first class countries, were underpaid, but overmanned. Mr. Grosvenor (O.) declared the charges unjustifiable, maintaining that it was the opinion of European publicists that America had the most efficient consular service in the world.

This was committee suspension day in the house, and immediately after the reading of the journal the speaker recognized several members to move the passage of bills under suspension of the rules. A bill was passed to grant a right of way through the Fort Hill military reservation to the Oklahoma & Western railroad.

Tardy Act of Justice. A bill to revoke the sentence of court-martial against First Lieutenant Francis S. Davidson, Ninth cavalry, who was dismissed from the army in 1875, and to authorize his appointment and retirement as first lieutenant, aroused some antagonism.

While the house was dividing upon the demand for a second, a photographer in the public gallery took a flashlight photograph. The glare of the flash startled some of the members. Mr. Sulzer (N. Y.) cried out: "Mr. Speaker, I thought it was a bomb."

Mr. Lawrence (Mass.), in support of the bill for the relief of Lieutenant Davidson, said the bill would do a tardy act of justice to a deserving officer. The bill was passed.

A senate bill was passed to appropriate $1,000,000 for the payment of the Hawaiian fire claims and to authorize the territorial government to issue $500,000 in bonds for the same purpose.

The senate amendments to the militia bill were agreed to, which passed the bill. The house then went into committee of the whole on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

Mr. Pitt, in charge of the measure, explained that it carried $2,002,325, or $73,900 more than the current law, and $216,300 less than the estimate.

Mr. Slaysden (Tex.) severely criticized the character of consular officers abroad, especially those in Mexico. Some of the Mexican consulates, he said, were made regular asylums for "invalids and drunkards."

"It makes an American blush," he added, "to hear the stories told of some of our official representatives in foreign lands."

Proceeding, he narrated how a United States consul at Saltillo, Mex., with two companions, last summer entered the office of a newspaper editor to assault him.

"Were any charges made to its state department against this official?" asked Mr. Adams (Pa.).

"Charges have been repeatedly made," replied Mr. Slaysden. "This particular official left town between night and morning, while I was in the city."

Makes Strong Statement. "The particular service of our representatives," Mr. Slaysden continued, "seems to be the drink and the connection he referred to the case of the special envoy sent by a democratic president several years ago, whom, he said, "got drunk at El Paso and painted a broad red streak down the City of Mexico, 1,600 miles to the south."

He also told of a consular official who, some years ago, pinned the American flag for 40 cents with which to buy drink. The concluding chapter of his arraignment was the charge that an American vice consul had been implicated in the theft of coal.

On a point of order made by Mr. McClellan the provision for a secretary of legation to Switzerland was stricken out. Mr. Grosvenor (O.) declared in the day of the statements made earlier in the day as slanders on the consular service. He declared they were not justified and he was prepared to prove by the opinions of leading Americans abroad that the Americans had the best consular service in the world.

The bill was then passed and the house took up the District of Columbia bill. It carries $7,688,444, being $844,474 less than the appropriations for the current year and $3,263,929 less than the estimate. Half the bill was read and at 5:45 o'clock the house adjourned.

Discovers Many Cases. Mr. McClellan (N. Y.) submitted some interesting figures to demonstrate that the consular service was underpaid and overmanned. He made comparisons with other first class countries, which showed that our consular and diplomatic agents received the lowest salaries, but that the total cost of the service was increased by the excessive number of such officers, in some cases double and treble the number maintained by other countries.

CUBAN TREATY CONSIDERED

Senate Goes into Executive Session for Purpose of Considering the Document.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Mr. Bailey (Tex.) objected to consideration by unanimous consent of all bills from the republican side on the ground that the senators from New York had interfered with a matter purely local to the state of Texas. A discussion arose which was terminated by Mr. Cullom moving an executive session to consider the Cuban reciprocity treaty. After half an hour in executive session the doors were reopened and Mr. Foraker (O.) continued his remarks favoring statehood for Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico. The senate at 5:20 adjourned until tomorrow.

Mr. Cullom reported the executive, legislative and judicial appropriation bill, and gave notice that he would call it up tomorrow.

Senator Lodge today introduced a resolution directing the committee on finance to inquire whether certain counties are discriminating against the United States, and if so what law should be passed to give to countries preferential duties which do not discriminate against this country.

The resolution refers to the discrimination of France, Germany and Russia against the United States. It was the table in order to give Senator Aldrich an opportunity to make a statement concerning the subject.

A bill was passed to provide for holding terms of court at Helena, Ark.

WILL RAISE THE BLOCKADE

Britain and Italy Prepared to Act Even Without German Consent.

PRIVATE CLAIMS TO BE PROBED FIRST

Bowen Due in Washington Today, When He Will at Once Begin Venezuelan Negotiations with Powers' Ministers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The Navy department is advised of the arrival at Charleston of Dolphin and of the landing of Mr. Bowen and his family. The minister should reach Washington tomorrow. It is expected that the representatives of Great Britain and Italy do not feel it incumbent upon them to await the coming of Baron Speck von Sternberg before beginning their conferences.

Neither London nor Rome are inclined to favor settlement of their claims by a joint commission, the point being that they are not interested in the claims of each other or of Germany. The plan outlined and which will be submitted to Mr. Bowen comprises the adjustment of the claims of each power by its representative with Mr. Bowen, each nation taking up its claim separately, but along the same broad lines of procedure.

Private Claims Come First. It has been agreed that the claims of private citizens for injuries suffered in Venezuela shall be the first to be adjusted. These claims in the case of Germany are believed to aggregate nearly $500,000, while those of Great Britain are between $200,000 and $300,000. The powers will insist upon an early settlement of these obligations, and so far as Great Britain and Italy are concerned, they are prepared to accept a reasonable guaranty for prompt payment.

All hope that the United States intended standing surety for these obligations has been dismissed, but an effort will be made to secure them either on the customs collections of Venezuela or the proceeds of a Venezuelan loan. A cash payment will be demanded, so far as Great Britain and Italy are concerned, provided a satisfactory guaranty is offered by President Castro.

The method of procedure in settling the claims will not be decided until Mr. Bowen arrives, as the representatives have been instructed that the first move along this line is to come from Venezuela.

Mr. Bowen while here will act solely as Venezuela's representative. The State department has made it plain that the United States does not intend to take a hand in the Washington conference, but merely act as means of communication.

The allied powers have not committed themselves as yet regarding the raising of the blockade. No request has been made, and as one diplomat put it today, "We do not intend to cross that bridge until we come to it," but intimations have reached Washington that Italy and Great Britain are not inclined to favor a continuation of the blockade after the opening of negotiations, and that Germany will be requested to give its consent, providing Mr. Bowen makes such a request. Should Germany refuse, the other powers, it was stated, are unable to make a favorable consideration of Mr. Bowen's request, but will withdraw their ships.

BOMBARDMENT NOT REPORTED

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The Navy department has not received any official advice regarding the bombardment of Fort San Carlos, at the entrance to Lake Maracaibo, by the German cruiser Panther, on Saturday, and is unable to either confirm or deny the press dispatches.

The officials say, however, assuming that something in the way of a bombardment took place, no orders on the subject were sent from Berlin. Whatever was done was done in the way of the maintenance of the blockade, to whose discussion the conduct of the blockade was left.

The government relies on Commodore Schneider to observe all the formalities usual in applying force and is confident that neither he nor any subordinate commander did anything not in accord with the usages of international law.

MARACAIBO, Jan. 19.—One hundred and twenty shots were fired from the fort during the bombardment of San Carlos and the walls of the fort were slightly damaged. Panther has resumed its position at the entrance of Lake Maracaibo, where it maintains the blockade.

CARACAS, Jan. 19.—The government forced loan, which amounted to $420,000, was subscribed today by the banks and the native and foreign merchants of Venezuela. The government is gratified with the answer to its appeal for funds.

MRS. SECREST IS TO APPEAR

Woman Will Be Principal Witness for State in Kansas City Murder Trial.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 19.—After many delays the sensational case of Dr. Louis Zorn, for the murder of Albert Secrest, his testicles, was called in the criminal court today. Mrs. Secrest of Lincoln, Neb., who some time ago dropped a note on the bank of the Missouri river at Leavenworth, Kan., giving the information that she had killed herself and baby, will be the principal witness.

PRaises Work Done by Organization

Says One-Sided Men Are as Useless as Officers Who Can Neither Shoot or March, Although Inured with Ideas.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—President Roosevelt was the guest of honor tonight at the banquet commemorative of the fifth anniversary of the Washington Young Men's Christian association and the International Committee of North America.

Over 300 guests were invited. Among those present were Justice Harlan and Brewer, Secretary Root, George Foster Peabody, Baron Forster, Secretary Shaw, Admiral Dewey, General Corbin and Young, Secretary Cortelyou, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Darling, Major Vignal, Lieutenant Commander Lafajole, Count Hirokley Matsui, General O. O. Howard and Representative Cannon, Helen Gould and Mrs. Scipio of the woman's auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian association.

H. B. McFarland presided. President Roosevelt was greeted with loud applause as he arose to address those at the banquet.

World Forging Ahead.

He said: Chairman and gentlemen: It is no accident that we should meet to celebrate the ending of fifty years. That period has been a hardy sea within any preceding five centuries. Life during that half century has been carried on at a higher pace than ever before. That means, of course, that all the forces have been raised to a higher degree of power, the forces of evil and the forces of good as well.

If it has not been for the organization as this the material progress of the world would have been progress that would have shown for ill to the nations instead of good.

We can say we are better off than we were. We can see all around people who are better off than they were. We can see a sufficient number of men with the root of righteousness in them who are bound to see us come out right.

A hundred years ago there was no such need for the Young Men's Christian association and every movement of this kind. Life was smaller. Temptation would come rarely and more rarely, but it would come so frequently and in so intense a form. As the forces of evil manifested themselves in a stronger and stronger form they had to be met, if they were to be successfully grappled with, by organized effort.

There are many movements supported by excellent people which have produced results incomprehensible with the efforts spent, because they failed to combine as this movement has combined, a recognition of the need of human nature with a resolute effort to make human nature better.

I have been acquainted especially with three branches of your work, among railroad men, business men and colleges, going to be effectively represented as classes by any effort which fails to take account of the fact that they demand manliness as well as virtue, and you can make them straight only on condition that you keep them that it is necessary for them to be strong.

An old and favorite quotation of mine has been Wesley's remark when someone criticized him because his "hymn tunes" were so good. The answer was that he was not going to leave all the good tunes to the devil, and we want to be exceedingly careful that the impression shall not go out that good men intend to leave all the strength to those who serve the devil.
