WHEAT RULES ACTIVE AND STRONG

Oats and Corn Are Idle by Comparison, While Provisions Close Unchanged to Five Cents Down on Day.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The wheat market ruled active and strong today, May closing he over Saturday. Corn and oats were idle by comparison, the May options in both pits concluding the session with a shade loss. Provisions closed unchanged to be down.

May wheat opened '$6\square\text{c} higher to a shade lower at 78\square\text{c} 6\text{c} kg. an irregular condition, brought about by liberal selling by a prominent house on one side and an array of buillish news on the other. The builtin board showed world s shipments 2,003.000 bushels shy of what had been expected and comparatively little of it coming from Russia and the Danube; strong cables, a decrease in the quantity on passage of $85,000 bushels and smaller Liverpool stocks. These considerations early sent the price to 78\square. Scattered profit-taking caused a reaction early to 78c. Here the operations of the leading long, together with reports of a stiff demand from flour interests and a decrease in the visible supply of $39,000 bushels became influential. The operator mentioned bid on every slight dip and accumulated an estimated line of 2,000,000 bushels. Spirited selling answered the tempting price, but the market rose steadily to 18\square, and closed $\square, \text{c} aver $\square, \text{s} aver $\square, \text{s} aver \text{d} aver $\square, \text{s} aver \text{d} aver \text{g} aver \text{g} a shade down at 43%c. Receipts here were 430 cars.

By clinging to the skirts of the wheat market oats held steady, aithough seafiment was inclined to be bearish on liberal country acceptances. Buying by commission houses rescued the market from its bottom price. May sold between 35½c and 35%c and closed a shade lower at 25%g. The provision market was quiet. The opening was lower in sympathy with a decine in hog prices, but the wheat strength saved the market from further decline and even resulted in a slight rally. May pork closed 2½c lower at $15.45, May lard unchanged at $9.47½ and May ribs 5c down at $9.00%.

$9.07%. Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat, 650 cars; corn, 700 cars; oats, 230 cars; hogs The reading futures ranged as follows: Articles. | Open. | High. | Low. | Close. | Sat'y.

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS.

Neither Buyers Nor Sellers Seem Inclined to Do Business. NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The scant orders to buy stock found in brokers' offices this morning indicated the indifference of the public to the stock market. The Monday market is the most active of the week as a result of the intervening holiday and the natural tendency to enter on new activity with the turn of a week. While today's opening declines failed 19 show any buying demand from outside sources, there was no eagerness to sell stocks. The consequence was the same listless and indeterminate movement manifest last week. The speculative pools also desisted from activity, since last week's transactions had pretty well demonstrated the futility of pretty well demonstrated the futility of their efforts to attract a general demand pretty well demonstrated the futility of their efforts to attract a general demand for stocks.

The Saturday bank statement, while favorable on its face, gave evidence of the requirements upon the money market, resulting from the Reading deal, and was accepted as a warning that the resources of the money market as they became repletished are likely to be drawn upon by syndicates for the pushing of projects held in abeyance. The realization of these deferred projects overhanging the market had a depressing influence in contrast to their highly stimulating influence a few months ago. This prospect of syndicate requirements for money was enforced in its influence by a somewhat firmer tone in the money market and an advance in sterling exchange toward the gold export point. The rise in sterling at Paris served to neutralize the advance here, but the conviction is general that an outward movement of gold this winter is probable. The announcement of the terms of the coming Transvaal loan and the probable requirements for the Panama canal purchase are confirmatory to this view of immediate developments. The reports of car shortage and inability to move freight offered was not a favorable influence. The resulting delay in the grain movement is likely to affect the return flow of currency. The shutting down of work on account of coal shortage was also accepted as unfavorable. Secretary Shaw's order requiring the resubstitution of government bonds for other securities deposited against government deposits was regarded as making necessary a contraction in note circulation by the banks.

Amongst the few movements of stocks government deposits was regarded as making necessary a contraction in note circulation by the banks.

Amongst the few movements of stocks worthy of mention that in Chesapeake & Ohio was the most conspicuous. The buying was based on an assumption that part of the Pennsylvania's new capital would be devoted to adding to its holdings of Chesapeake & Ohio. Amalgamated Copper was affected by a surmise of new steps of contending interests in the copper trade.

The rise in Great Northern preferred was supposed to be connected with the return to the east of the president of the road. Missouri Pacific was helped by an increase in net earnings for December.

The whole market gave way in the late selling movement and closed easy. Rock Island led the decline, but losses of from 1 to 13, points were made by many of the leading stocks.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,830,000. United States 3, registered, advanced 4, the registered 38 ¼ and the orisk and just about steady with the close of last week. Packers all seemed to be quite anxious for supplies, so that, although some salesmen thought that the medium grades did not always bring steady prices, the most of the cattle were out of first hands in good season.

Bulls were about steady with last week's big decline and veal calves also sold at good, steady prices.

There were quite a few feeders and stockers offered and anything desirable could be quoted steady. Speculators had practically no good cattle on hand, so that they were anxious for that class of stuff. The common stuff, though, was neglected and hard to move at any price, the same as was the case last week. Representative sales:

August, 8.6978.7tc.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—COTTON—Opened steady at an advance of 265 points and later business increased the increase to 507 points. The improvement was due to cables that were regarded as favorable, with public interest still furnishing the market with orders. Peat started with an increase of 3 points, based mostly on favorable Manchester conditions, which led to a conservative speculative buying at Liverpool. Later the local market became quite weak under realizing and certain bear pressure, under which prices sold off to Saturday's close. But again public buying orders took the lead and prices rapidly advanced, with the market in the afternoon particularly steady. The close was steady, with a net rise of 265 points. Total sales of futures estimated at 22,000 bales, the selling for short account was largely upon the assumption that the strong statistical position had been over-discounted and that the long interest had become too great and too widely extended. The selling was further stimulated by indications of larger receipts at the ports, showing 35,731 bales, against 50,632 last year. Estimates on the amount to be brought into sight this week pointed to at least as much as came into sight last year, when it was 27,834 bales. A feature of the day's figures was the large total of exports, which nearly met the port receipts, being 36,735 bales, against 50,632 last year. Estimates on the same time the spot cotton markets of the same time the spot cotton markets of the south were steady to firm, although the only spot point reporting any actual advance was New York.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19.—COTTON—Steady; middling, 8%c; sales, 10 bales; sceepists, 8,550 bales.

SHEEP—There was a fairly liberal run of sheep here today for this time of the year, which was a fairly liberal run of sheep here today for this time of the year, which was not the requirements of the local trade. Buyers were all out early and an active and fully steady market resulted. The quality of the offerings as a whole was not extra, so that the market on paper does not look particularly good. Considering quality, though, the market was fully steady. Western ewes sold as high as $4.00, and a little bunch to of natives brought $4.25. Wethers sold up market was fully steady. Western ewes sold as high as $4.00 and a little bunch of natives brought $4.25. Wethers sold up to $4.65, and western lambs brought $5.25. Trading was active from start to finish, so that the pens were cleared in good season.
