UNSEATING TACTICS ARE TO BE RENEWED

Majority in Each Body Propose to Oust All Elected Representatives Who Differ With Their Particular Views.

DENVER, Jan. 22.—The capital has a warlike aspect today, owing to the presence of armed men in the house chamber...

An unfounded report that the National Guard, under orders from Governor Peabody, to take possession of the state house, probably has its origin in the fact that House Sergeant-at-Arms Plummer had posted thirty guards in and about the house chamber to resist an anticipated attempt of the supporters of Edward O. Wolcott, republican candidate for senator, to capture the hall...

Officers Guard the Senate.

At the senate chamber no display of weapons is made. The guards are all officers and patrol their positions quietly. The two senates, each of which refers to the other as the "rump," are in session today and no progress appears to have been made toward a settlement of the differences between them.

The body which is holding the senate hall at the Capitol, sitting continuously, consists of twenty-four regularly elected democratic senators and two contestants, who were seated in place of two of the regularly elected republican senators.

Democrats Hold Caucuses.

Soon after the opening session at 10 o'clock the democratic senators ordered a recess until 11:30 and a caucus of the democratic members of both houses was held in the senate chamber.

On motion of Senator Rush the sergeant-at-arms of the senate was made sergeant-at-arms of the joint assembly and was ordered to bring in a banner.

LYNCH CLAIMS JUSTIFICATION

Says He was Naturalized by Boer Government Before Taking Arms Against Britains.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—The case in which Colonel Arthur Lynch was being tried on the charge of being a British subject called today. After reading the deposition of an American, Lewis...

He claimed that a man was entitled to become an alien at any time, even after the outbreak of war. He referred to the war of Independence; said that there were at least 20,000 men of British birth in the American mercantile marine and asserted that there were 20,000,000 people in America who possessed two nationalities.

In any event, counsel added, if the country decided the prisoner was a British subject he ought to be tried in Australia, where he was born.

The attorney general, Sir Robert Finlay, replying for the prosecution, argued that Colonel Lynch procured naturalization for the purpose of fighting against his own country, and added that even could naturalization cover the prisoner's subsequent actions, it could not cover his anterior reason, namely, adhering to the "queen's army and declaring his willingness to fight against her forces."

NAVY COSTS TOO MUCH

Socialist Declares that Germany Cannot Keep Pace with Other World Powers.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—During the budget debate in the Reichstag today Herr Bebel, socialist, ascribed the empire's deficit to the enormous expenses for the navy, and to the "effort to play the first role in the world," which Germany was unable to do.

"The government, he continued, was afflicted with the 'malady of suddenness,' which defeated its own aims. The speaker urged the abandonment of the navy bill, which had already been relegated to the second rank.

The United States, Herr Bebel contended, had entered into the competition for armament and, owing to its great resources and energy, had won the prize.

Herr Bebel further said the empire's expenditures for the army and navy were likely to grow even greater under the present conception of the foreign policy.

Germany wanted to be first everywhere. Its attitude toward weaker states would never be tolerated by the rest of Europe.

Spain took to the sea and how, the speaker asked, can Panther's bombardment of Fort San Carlos be justified? Continuing, Herr Bebel remarked: "President Castro is struggling for life and the maintenance of the presidency. We cannot take offense if a man under such circumstances resists excessive demands. The coercion of Venezuela is in the interest of great capitalists and the Krupp firm has a share in it. Such violence should be resorted to only in the most extreme cases."

CAMBON AT SPANISH COURT

PARIS, Jan. 22.—The Temps today printed the following dispatch from Madrid: "Ambassador Cambon presented his letters to the king today."

The Epoca publishes a series of articles recalling the ambassador's services to Spain during the peace negotiations with the United States, and the Epoca and Herald also allude to the ambassador's services in relation to the commercial and political relations between Spain and France strengthened by the presence of the new ambassador, whose knowledge of Algeria and Morocco renders most easy the establishment of a cordial understanding between the two countries.

It is believed that M. Cambon's presence will soon result in a full understanding, providing for the co-operation of France and Spain in the affairs of the district of Morocco.

MAMMOTH GUN BLOWS UP

Cannon Explodes on Proving Grounds and Scatters Sea with Fragments.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—One of the mammoth guns exploded at the far end of the proving grounds today. The gun was valued at $40,000.

The big gun had been through every trial of the ordnance board successfully and was soon to have been placed on its carriage. It was wrecked in the course of experiments in throwing high explosives under actual engagement, but which are spoken of by officers as "abnormal." No one was killed, because of the elaborate precautions for the safety of officers and men. A shell bearing a large charge of gelatine was fired successfully under abnormal pressure. The gun was loaded for a second shot with the explosive shell and a large amount of brown powder, but when the detonating cap and the officers went a mile and a half away for protection. A lieutenant turned on the current. There was a great cloud of yellow smoke and the sea was whipped up a mile off shore with fragments of the gun.

INVITE PRESIDENT TO HUNT

Wyoming Wants Him to Try the Quality of Big Game in That State

UNABLE TO GIVE A DEFINITE ANSWER

Senator Dietrich Receives Photographs to Fortify Grand Island's Claim for a Federal Building—Matters at Capital.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—Representative Mondell today presented to the president Mayor George T. Beck of Cody, Wyo., universally known throughout that state as Governor Beck, and J. H. Peake of the Cody Enterprise.

Mr. Peake, on behalf of the citizens of Cody, extended an invitation to Mr. Roosevelt to go to Wyoming during the coming summer for a big hunt. The president stated in reply that it would be one of the great pleasures of his life to have a hunt in Wyoming, but that if he did go and accept the invitation so courteously extended he wanted to go as a private citizen and not as the chief executive. Laughingly he said to Mr. Peake, who was formerly a well known newspaper man of Washington, that he wanted all reporters rounded up just before he reached the Big Horn Basin, and that if Mr. Peake could assure the president of a quiet hunt without the presence of newspaper men he might accept the invitation to go to Wyoming during the coming summer.

Governor Beck and Mr. Peake are in the east for the purpose of promoting the Cody Oil and Development company. Mr. Peake stated today that the company has $50,000 worth of stock in the company to Buffalo parties for development purposes.

Congressman Burkett has accepted an invitation from the Washington High School Alumni association to deliver an address before the association at a banquet to be held at the New Willard.

Grand Island Sends Pictures.

Senator Dietrich today received a large number of photographic views of Grand Island, Neb., and its environs, to be used in connection with the pending bill to induce congress to make an appropriation for the construction of a federal building in that city. Senator Dietrich will cause these photographs to be hung in the room of the senate committee on public buildings. Mr. Dietrich is using every endeavor to place the bill for a public building at Grand Island in such form as to secure attention at the senate.

While here he also worked his favorite game, passing several checks which were worthless, fictitious names being signed to them. They were cashed by people with whom he became acquainted while employed on the newspaper.

FAIR FURS ARE CHANGED

Cheap Imitation is Substituted for a Valuable Article.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—Referring to the reports that the jewelry of the late Charles Fair and his wife had been tampered with prior to its shipment to the United States, Consul General Crowell, by Henry Schwabacher, the administrator of the estate, reading as follows: "The jewelry story is without foundation—Neal."

The investigation in progress relative to the fur leaves no room for doubt that a cheap imitation was substituted for a valuable sable cloak. The forwarding agents informed Mr. Gowdy today that they are ready to put in their defense against any allegation of tampering with the furs.

Before delivery to the agents the furs were in storage at a leading furrier's in the Rue de la Paix. When questioned by Mr. Gowdy, the furrier said he knew nothing about the substitution.

The consul general is seeking to locate just where the substitution occurred and is inclined to believe that it could not have taken place on board the ship, as the forwarding agents are ready to furnish evidence that no change was made in the package after it was received by them.

Further inquiry into the matter must await the receipt of affidavits from San Francisco. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—Charles S. Neal, administrator of the Fair estate, in an interview today, stated that the story of the tampering with the personal effects of Mrs. Charles Fair, who was killed in an automobile accident with her husband in France last year, had been rife, and that garments and valuable pieces of jewelry had been replaced with cheap imitations.

Mr. Neal said that a Russian sable cloak, said to be one of the most valuable in the world, was replaced with an imitation cloak not worth over $30. Where and how the substitution took place, Mr. Neal is unable to state.

However, when Consul General Gowdy searched the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Fair in Paris a receipt was found calling for the sable cloak.

Mr. Neal says that Mr. Fair, in his lifetime, was the victim of a gigantic swindle at the hands of a Parisian jeweler. When the jewels of Mrs. Fair arrived here an expert pronounced what was supposed to be a very valuable string of pearls and a pair of earrings, imitations.

Several small and practically valueless pieces of jewelry are missing, but it is thought they were lost and not stolen.

The Omaha delegation to the Thompson reception returned to this city at 12:30 o'clock this morning. About fifty of the prominent citizens of Omaha, including a number of women, made the trip, and all reported an enjoyable time, although some were never able to get in sight of Mr. Thompson, except from distant high places, owing to the crush of enthusiastic handshakers. Among those who were in attendance were Mayor Moore, Judge Baxter, John C. Wharton, George W. Holdrege, Judge Dickinson, Gould Deltz, Victor Roemer, D. C. Batters, George Looney, W. R. Heller and E. E. Bryson.

TURN DOWN FEENAN'S BOND

Judiciary Committee of County Commissioners' Board Gives Custer Post Another Opportunity.

The judiciary committee of the County Board of Commissioners has prepared a report to the board which is to be effected that the committee cannot approve the bond of P. J. Feenan, recently appointed to succeed James W. Thompson on the soldiers' relief commission. This report will go to the board Saturday and may result in giving Custer post a chance to get Thompson back into the position. That the post desires to do so was stated to the board last Saturday by Comrade Samuel Driesbach, who, as a representative of the post, declared that Thompson is preferred by reason of his long experience in the office.

The judiciary committee, in its report, will state that it withholds approval of the bond because Feenan was appointed by the old board January 6, whereas he should have been appointed by the new board at its first meeting, January 13. This is what Driesbach maintained when before the board, but the only answer at that time was Connolly's remark that the board need appoint no commissioner at all if it so preferred.

Feenan's bond, which is in the sum of $500, was signed by W. H. Green and also by James W. Thompson, whom the post wishes given the place. Comrade Driesbach said, in explanation of this latter circumstance, that Feenan had asked Thompson to go on his bond and that the latter could not comfortably refuse. He further said that Feenan had been placed on a committee to help Thompson for the place and that Feenan's course seemed to him (Driesbach) very strange.

The judiciary committee thinks the board will have to make a new appointment, either of Feenan or some one else.

CORONER'S JURY DON'T KNOW

Declines to Specify the Cause of May Cox's Death at the Cambridge Hotel.

After listening to the testimony of Dr. R. C. Moore, who conducted the autopsy on the body of the late John Cox, her husband, the jury empaneled by Coroner Bradley came to the conclusion that May Cox died from "causes unknown." She was found dead in a room at the Cambridge hotel Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Moore went into details as to the physical condition of the woman, showing that she was in such a state that death might reasonably have been expected at any time. He found no external evidence of violence, but found internally many signs of complete breakdown.

John Cox, the husband, testified that his wife had not complained of being ill or even indisposed. He said she had had but one epileptic fit since their marriage, and also said that she had with her at least $5 in cash when she went to the room with the stranger, for he had been so informed by someone who saw her count the money. In his opinion the fact that this money is missing is evidence of foul play.

Mrs. Cox's body will be taken to Waterloo, Mich., for interment.
