ment and of the federal government to the states will be a double construction.

It will be told how the mistaken notion that slaves labor was required for profitable cultivation of sugar, rice and cotton in the southern section of the union, whilst in the northern section, responding to the movements of mankind, there arose a great moral sentiment against slavery.

The confederate states, gradually but surely sectionalizing party lines, was as inevitable a result of the war as the union was fought out to the bitter and logical conclusion at Appomattox. It found its huddle of petty squabbles, though the forces of Jefferson Davis and it left as a nation.

Mr. Russell, in replying to the toast of Jefferson Davis, said: Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis were both sons of Kentucky. The courage, the sincerity, the honesty of purpose that seem the heritage of all true Kentuckians are thereby in fact, measures of their ancestry, their education, their surroundings, their life, their opportunities and their responsibilities.

To the one the Declaration of Independence, the other the Constitution, are created equal, and therefore free. That was the dominant and compelling motive in the public life of Abraham Lincoln. To the other the same declaration meant that certain colonies, owing separately allegiance to Great Britain, had declared that they were and of right ought to be free and independent states.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 26.—At today's session of the Mine Workers' convention the special committee on the defense fund recommended the collection of a large sum. Urges New Injunction Law. The report of the special committee on injunctions went into detail, on the committee giving the history of the operation of the injunction law and, after showing the great abuses to which it has contributed, recommended that Mr. Mitchell appoint a committee of two to go to Washington and use its influence to secure the passage of the anti-injunction bill now pending in the senate, the committee also to be instructed to get the record of every senator and representative on the bill.

The report says: Injunction suits are usually granted against violent or unlawful acts, for which the statute or common law provides no remedy. They are granted in violation of the right of trial by jury. They go far beyond the point of protecting the property of the plaintiff and deny to members of the trade unions the right to meet and hold meetings because it may be difficult to imagine how it would be possible for a union to exist if it were not adjacent to some other property.

They deny to us the right to talk to our fellow citizens on any subject, to persuade them to cease working for the plaintiff, and injure him by any means. It is alleged that if meetings are held and employees are induced to join the union, that the union will be injured beyond any legal means of redress.

Their property is entitled to the same protection as that of other citizens. They receive no special protection. They are not a union in any manner interfering with the right of trial by jury. They are not a union in any manner interfering with the right of trial by jury.

Needs More to Make Strike. The report of the committee on constitutionality suggested many changes. The most important of these was a change in the representation of the districts so far as the power to inaugurate a general suspension of work was concerned. Heretofore every district has had one vote in such matters, irrespective of its size, and it seems to the committee that the two-fifths of the districts could vote to suspend work in all parts. Under the amendment adopted there will be one vote for every two hundred members of the district. Under the new order it will require about three-fourths of the districts to order a general strike.

Following this suggestion, Delegate Ray Hudson offered an amendment that boys under the age of 14 years old be charged with work in all parts. Under the amendment adopted there will be one vote for every two hundred members of the district. Under the new order it will require about three-fourths of the districts to order a general strike.

Delegates Get Mileage. A bill for $10,860.40 was reported by the committee on transportation to cover the railroad expenses of the 746 delegates. A delegate from Montana, who drew $38.75, led all of the delegates.

The election for delegates to the American Federation of Labor resulted in the selection of President Mitchell, Secretary Vice President Lewis, W. D. Ryan of Illinois, John Fahy of Pennsylvania, W. H. Haskins of Ohio and John Dempsey of Pennsylvania.

Michael McTaggart, John Moss and Patrick McPherson are the new national officers, and Joseph Pope, Reese Bennett and John C. Heenan alternates.
