

TRAINS SLAY SCORES

Iowa Men Dead and Maimed in Northwestern Smash.

TWENTY-ONE LOSE LIVES IN NEW JERSEY

Wreck on Jersey Central Surpasses Recent Eastern Records of Disaster.

FIRE ADDS TO HORROR, BURNING VICTIMS

Express Plows Through Local, Carrying Death and Destruction to Many.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC ALSO PILES CARS

Twenty Bodies Taken from Debris of Sunset Limited and Others are Supposed to Have Perished in Collision.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Four persons were killed, four seriously injured and eight slightly hurt in a rear-end collision between stock trains on the Chicago & Northwestern railway near LaGrange, Ill., this morning.

Dead: CHARLES X. COE of Woodbine, Ia., imprisoned in the debris and roasted to death.

B. LANE of Vail, Ia., pinned down by wreckage and burned to death.

A. AMEY of Soranton, Ia., badly burned; died an hour later in the station at LaGrange.

J. PETERSON of Battle Creek, Ia., badly burned and died before medical aid arrived.

Seriously injured: H. Johnson, Clinton, Ia. William Koehls, Schleswig, Ia. Evers Nicholson, Schleswig, Ia. Albert Playman, Duplap, Ia.

The trains came together in a dense fog. The Illinois Central was in the lead, the Southern Pacific stockmen in charge of stock on the way to Chicago and the east.

Train Runs Into Funeral Car.

CAIRO, Ill., Jan. 28.—On the Illinois Central railway near Pulaski early today the Chicago fast train No. 3 crashed into the rear of St. Louis train No. 203, which is due here at 4:17 a. m.

Both trains were late on account of the dense fog and the Chicago train was running at the rate of sixty miles an hour, while the St. Louis train was making thirty miles an hour.

The lead car on the St. Louis train was the private car of the late Judge W. G. Peatross and family of Chicago. Judge Peatross, who died in Chicago Monday, was the head counsel of the Illinois Central and his body was in the car enroute to Bolivar, Tenn., for burial.

The rear half of the car was demolished and the coffin broken open. The family of the judge was badly shaken up. Three of the train crew were injured, but none will die. None of the passengers were hurt.

Twenty-One Dead on Jersey Central.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—One of the most appalling railroad wrecks that has occurred in the vicinity of New York for many years took place last night at Graeland, on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, when an express plowed at top speed into the rear of a local train.

Up to noon today the total loss of life was believed to be twenty-one. Of these fourteen bodies had been identified and seven were held at Plainfield for identification. From the wreckage twenty bodies were taken, and Thomas McCarthy, fireman, died in a hospital today.

More than fifty persons were injured, some of them severely. The hospital reports today were, however, that with perhaps one or two exceptions all would recover.

The blame for the accident is being laid on the railroad officials on Engineer Davis of the Philadelphia & Reading express, and, according to a policeman who took Davis from the smashed cab, Davis admitted that he had taken chances and disregarded the danger signals being expected to see the red and green lights changed to white, as he heard them. They did not change, but it was too late to stop and in an instant the crash came, carrying death to more than a score.

A policeman who aided in the work of rescue made this statement today concerning Davis: "I assisted in carrying Davis, the engineer, from his engine. He was terribly injured. He said: 'I am responsible for the accident. I saw the danger signal, but expected it to turn white.'"

The statement made last night that it was a Royal Blue express that ran into the local express was erroneous. This train was not in the wreck.

Statement of General Manager.

W. G. Heller, vice president and general manager of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, who made an investigation of the wreck, gave out a statement today in which he said that the "element of human fallibility" in railroad operation.

"The company," he said, "has installed what is known as the electric-pneumatic-automatic system of block signaling, the signals working before, during and after accidents."

"The signals were working all right before and after the accident, as we found on investigation. It seems then that along came the Philadelphia express, one of our hourly trains between New York and Philadelphia, and, flying past all the warnings, was driven by its engineer into the local train with such force as to telescope three of its coaches."

"So far as I can ascertain, the only explanation of the wreck is that the engineer, Davis, was in such a critical condition that he barely knew what he was saying. Davis was a thoroughly competent engineer and had a very good record."

"Soon after the wreck the Somerset local came through on another track and its cars were scratched a little, but the reports that this train ran into the wreckage and caused further loss of life are wholly false."

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—A number of Philadelphiaans who were on the express train arrived here today. Their stories describing the scenes which followed the collision were pitiful.

M. M. Harritt, a traveling salesman, said: "I was in a day coach; my coach was second in the train. We were going at sixty miles an hour when I felt a terrific shock and I was thrown from my seat. I was all the others in the car. The first shock was followed by a second, almost as hard as the first, and when we came to a stop we were on the side of a car that had been plowed through our car. Before I could get out a train from Philadelphia passed in the opposite direction on the far track, moving through the wreckage of our train and the one we had run into."

(Continued on Second Page.)

HEADS I WIN, TAILS YOU LOSE

Canadian Baronet Explains How America Will Eucure Dominate in Alaskan Dispute.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 28.—Sir C. Hibbert Tupper, in speaking of the commission to settle the Alaskan boundary question, said it simply meant that the United States was to eucure Canada out of its rights.

"I would never fight the United States for one inch of Canadian territory. The United States know that and was sure of its ground when it arbitrated with Great Britain over Canadian questions. That had been proved by three similar arbitrations."

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

For Great Britain there would be one and perhaps two Englishmen who were disposed to lean toward the United States on the ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

On the other hand American jurists on a ground of justice, the merits of the case or strict impartiality. They were also careful as to the legal phase of the question.

BURLESON IS INQUISITIVE

Introduces Two Resolutions Calling for Information Regarding Lands.

ARE AIMED AT THE CATTLEMEN

Suppose That Is to Hear Case Involving Validity of Indian Taxes in the State of South Dakota.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Representative Burleson of Texas, who has the reputation of endeavoring to quickly get at the meat of a proposition and who also believes but very few matters should be withheld from the public, today introduced two resolutions in the house which are the immediate outgrowth of efforts being made in congress to work up sentiment favorable to a bill permitting the leasing of the public lands in Nebraska for grazing purposes. The intent of both of Mr. Burleson's resolutions is the same. One is a concurrent resolution demanding certain information of the secretary of the interior and the other a simple resolution "requesting some information of the secretary of the interior by the hands of the secretary of the interior by Mr. Burleson's resolution is:

1. What steps have been taken to prevent illegal fencing of the public domain in Nebraska?

2. The number of applications or filings for a part of the public domain (lands) under the act of March 3, 1879, and 1892, under what is commonly known as the act of March 3, 1879, and 1892, and how many have fraudulently used said acts to secure color of title to said lands for the purpose of transferring the same to others?

The resolution further sets out that when said report is made the attorney general of the United States be and he is hereby instructed to immediately institute or cause to be instituted suit or suits to declare all fraudulent applications of said land by virtue of any action taken under said home-estead act or desert land act void and for a judgment restoring said lands to the public domain, and in no event shall there be refunded any purchase money which has been paid to the government where purchase was to fraudulently acquire said lands.

Mrs. W. E. Andrews of Hastings, Neb., wife of the auditor for the Treasury department, was at home yesterday to her many friends in this city. Mrs. Andrews was assisted in receiving by a number of Nebraska women.

Suit Over Indian Taxes.

The case of the United States, appellant, vs. James A. Hickert, as county treasurer for Roberts county, South Dakota, appellee, on appeal from the United States circuit court of appeals for the Eighth circuit is docketed to be heard before the United States supreme court this week.

The petitioner is Della Lancaster, a widow, and W. D. Lane will appear as solicitors for appellee. This suit was brought by the United States at the October (1900) term of the United States circuit court for the district of South Dakota to restrain the defendant, Hickert, as county treasurer of the county of Roberts, the collector of taxes under the law of that state, from seizing and selling certain personal property belonging to certain Indians for taxes assessed against such property for the years 1899 and 1900.

Nebraska Bills in Congress.

Representative Mercer today introduced in the house Millard's bill to increase the pension of Louis Weber to $25 per month.

Representative Burkett today introduced a bill to increase the pension of William F. Thompson to $30 per month.

The joint resolution which passed the senate January 24, extending the time for construction of the Akron, Sterling & Northern railway, in which Omaha capitalists are interested, was favorably reported to the house today.

Routine of Departments.

James H. Wise has been appointed postmaster at Raymond, Blackhawk county, Ia., vice W. W. Scott, resigned.

These rural free delivery letter carriers were appointed today: Iowa, Rockwell, regular; George W. Tinsman, Earl E. Brown; substitute, D. C. Shultz; South Dakota, Alexandria, regular; Walter J. Crouch, Fred C. Loomer, Max U. Graves; substitutes, Verner B. Benedict, James E. Graves, Artesian, regular; Milo J. Strong, John E. Dyer, substitutes, Frank B. Whitney, Silver Brae, Astoria, regular; Gustave O. Halverson; substitute, Henry Halverson, Canova, regular, Earl F. Sweet; substitute, Sylvester H. Sweet; Del Rapids, regular, Alonzo W. Hunt; substitute, Benjamin Porter, Komona, regular; Henry C. Corlis; substitute, J. J. Morris; Taber, regular, Frank W. Beeman; substitute, Homer S. Beemer, Toronto, regular, Peter A. Peterson; substitute, C. O. Peterson, Ward, regular, Thomas Cassidy; substitute, William Cassidy.

The postoffice at Bella, Lancaster county, Neb., has been ordered discontinued.

Peter Peterson has been appointed janitor in the public building at Council Bluffs, Ia.

Piando B. Kingsbury has been appointed carpenter in the Omaha public building.

Ray W. Connell has been appointed substitute letter carrier at Waterloo, Ia.

Oscar V. P. Stout of Lincoln, Neb., has been appointed hydrographer in the geological survey.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF CRIME

Deathbed Confession of Man Read in a Pulpit Leads to Her Arrest.

APPLETON, Wis., Jan. 28.—Charged with setting the fire which caused the destruction of the village of Bear Creek, Wis., last July, entailing a property loss of $25,000, Miss Lucille Robert has been arrested as a result of a letter addressed to a Catholic priest at Bear Creek, which was read from the pulpit, and which purported to be the deathbed confession of a man in a Chicago hospital.

He claimed to have set the fire through a desire for revenge, the letter alleging that he was Miss Robert's jilted lover. Miss Robert is held under $2,000 bonds. She was proprietor of a millinery store in which the fire started, and for which she collected $300 insurance.

HARD WOOD PRICES RAISED

National Association Decides to Electate Charges by Ten to Fifteen Per Cent.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 28.—The National Hardwood Manufacturers' association today decided to immediately increase prices from 10 to 15 per cent on the various grades of lumber produced by the members.

QUAY TAKES BOLD STEP

Tacks Statehood Bill Onto Many Measures by Way of Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A few minutes before Senator Lodge (Mass.) introduced his speech in opposition to the omnibus statehood bill today, Senator Quay (Pa.), in charge of the bill, introduced the statehood measure as an amendment to each of the appropriation bills, the agricultural and the civil sundry bill.

The documents are handed in quietly, and the occurrence attracted no attention at the time. The amendments contained in each case all the provisions of the bill, as it came from the house and provided for the admission of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona as states of the union.

Senator Quay would not discuss the purpose of this step, but his friends practically admit that it is the intention so to join the measure with the bills voting money for the conduct of the business of the government as to render it necessary to accept statehood in order to secure the passage of the appropriation bills. This purpose is made more evident by the fact that Mr. Quay requested that the amendments be referred to the committee on organization and conduct of executive departments. The information regarding the rule of the senate requires that in order to prevent being thrown out on a point an amendment to an appropriation bill must be reported by some committee of the senate.

Mr. Quay's committee is composed of nine members, a large majority of whom are favorable to the admission of all the territories, and although it is a committee which has not had a meeting for years, it is contended that it is perfectly competent to pass on any measure that may be referred to its consideration.

In the usual order of business amendments to the sundry civil bill would have been referred to the committee on appropriations and to the agricultural bill to the committee on agriculture, but this was not done.

The intention is to have the committee called together at an early date to consider the amendments. It is understood that the decision to take this step accounts for Mr. Quay's motion to adjourn at an unusually early hour today.

John L. McDonough, formerly secretary of state of New York, has been consulted by President Roosevelt with a view to his appointment as associate justice of the supreme court of the United States.

The letter written to Mr. McDonough amounts practically to an offer of the place if the latter desires to have it. Mr. McDonough has replied, expressing his appreciation of the offer, but at the same time, it is said, not definitely accepting. A positive statement of Mr. McDonough's intentions was not obtainable in official quarters tonight.

The vacancy is caused by the promotion of Colonel James F. Smith from the position of associate justice to that of a member of the Philippine commission, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Commissioner Moses.

BUY PERJURERS CHEAPLY

New York Tax Fixers Pay a Few Dollars for False Affidavits.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Philip Barr, librarian at the city hall; Moses R. Springer, Nathan Springer and Walter H. Sawyer, the alleged tax swindlers, were arraigned today. Applications for separate examinations were refused.

District Attorney Jerome announced that Sawyer had been accepted as a state witness and partially exonerated Moses Springer.

William K. Secor, a detective, was the first witness and said he was introduced by District Attorney Jerome to Nathan Springer and Baer as the man who was to impersonate Monroe B. Bryant.

"Springer gave me a list of figures showing Bryant's valuations," he continued, "and I learned them by heart. Then Baer catechized me three times on the list, committing me on my memory and said that I would do."

After that he went with Baer to the tax office, where, as Monroe B. Bryant, he signed and swore to an affidavit reducing Mr. Bryant's assessment by $70,000. For this service Secor said he received $5.

DEAD FREIGHT IS REFUSED

Eastern Lines Will Only Carry Perishable Goods and Coal, Owning to Lack of Cars.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Nearly all eastern routes centering in Chicago have served notice on the connections that until conditions change they cannot accept any more "dead freight."

Until further notice efforts of eastern lines will be concentrated upon moving perishable freight and coal.

The traffic conditions are said by eastern agents to be unprecedented. Western railroads which are not suffering so much from lack of equipment and power, are materially injured by the congested conditions of their eastern connections, as they could move a much larger percentage of traffic than they are now handling. If there were eastern connections to turn it over to, strenuous efforts were made by the board of trade to induce the Lake Shore and other main eastern roads to make some additional provision for the movement of grain. They were told that the Lake Shore alone could use 10,000 more cars than it possesses.

ROOSEVELT WILL AID FAIR

President is to Dedicate St. Louis Buildings and Grounds in April.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28.—The grounds and buildings for the world's fair will be dedicated on April 30 by President Roosevelt, when an address will be delivered by Grover Cleveland.

The grand marshal of the day will be Major General Corbin. The military pageant will precede the program of dedication. The column will include all branches of the service and be composed of two brigades of regular troops and several of national guards.

A display of fireworks will be given in the evening.

BABY BOY SHOTS MOTHER

Falls Trigger of Carelessly Held Rifle and Immediately Slays Parent.

BOONVILLE, Mo., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Alice Hoefler, wife of a prominent farmer living near here, was accidentally shot dead tonight by her 4-year-old son.

Mrs. Hoefler and her husband were shooting out of the window at English sparrows and their son pulled the trigger of a rifle while his mother held it pointing at her left breast.

REFUSES WOMEN THE VOTE

Kansas Senate Throws Out Bill Giving Female Suffrage in that State.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 28.—The state senate today voted down the woman suffrage bill, but received a report favoring the use of voting machines, which the house has already approved.

The general opinion is that the Australian ballot system at present in use is too cumbersome.

UNIVERSITIES MUST TEACH

Yale President Defines Duties of Professional Schools Toward Country.

RESEARCH SHALL NOT BE SOLE AIM

Discoveries Are Not to Be Underestimated, but Creation of Men to Do World's Work is to Be Borne in Mind.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—In the presence of an assembly of educators and alumni from all parts of the country, Northwestern university's new professional school building at Lake and Dearborn streets was formally dedicated today. In connection with the ceremony there was a celebration of the fifty-seventh anniversary of founders' day.

Dedication exercises were held in the assembly hall of the new building. At their conclusion Arthur F. Hadley, president of Yale, was tendered a reception in the rooms of the law school. The celebration commemorates the founding of the university which was held in the Auditorium tonight, when Dr. Hadley delivered an address on "The Place of the Professional School in the Modern American University."

Teaching Equals Research.

Dr. Hadley said: "There is in these days a tendency to exalt philosophical investigation at the expense of teaching. Far be it from me to say any word which might seem to depreciate the value of research. It is a thing of great importance to the community, and those engaged in it often find themselves better equipped than those who do not. It is a mistake if we fix our eyes too exclusively on research at the expense of teaching and estimate the value of a university solely on the former basis. It may be true that our best teachers are also the best ordinary lawyers, that one medical discoverer does more good than 1,000 physicians; that a physicist is worth 100 preachers of the conventional type. Nevertheless, the institution which tries only to make the most of its faculty is not a university. It is in the power of the professional school to be more than a mere professional school, to be a school of practical life, to be a school of technical training. To emphasize the needs of practical life was the original function of the organized professional school in university affairs, and amid all the changes which have taken place, it is still charged with the same duty and invested with the same power."

The annual banquet of the alumni of Northwestern university at the Auditorium hotel tonight was made the occasion for conferring a number of honorary degrees on men who have distinguished themselves in their professional careers in the country.

Among those who were so honored were: James Barr Adams, dean of the Harvard law school; W. W. Keen of Jefferson Medical college, Albert B. Prescott of the dental school, University of Michigan, and Dean Charles C. Kirk of the dental school, University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Kirk was given the degree of Doctor of Science, the others that of Doctor of Laws.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Enough Members to Make Quorum Respond to Call for Special Meeting.

As was expected, there was no difficulty in getting a quorum of the city council for the special meeting of yesterday afternoon and the roll call showed Messrs. Karr, Burkley, Zimmann, Whittaker, Haas, Trotter and present. The business specified in the call was gone through in a formal manner and but a few minutes were consumed in the proceedings.

Tax Commissioner Fleming was not yet ready to submit his certificate of the value of taxable property and was allowed until Monday to complete it.

The resolution completing the formalities in the recent sale of $200,000 of city bonds to Spitzer & Co. of Toledo was adopted, and the appropriation ordinance providing for the payment of December bills was passed.

The forms of the tax levy ordinance were given their first and second readings by title.

None of the estimates from heads of departments as to their expenses for the coming year had been received, but it was reported that some of them had been placed in the hands of the mayor and could be secured at any time. After some discussion it was decided that the members should meet Monday morning at 10 o'clock to decide upon the apportionments to be made to the various departments and determine the amount it will be necessary to raise by taxation.

GROWTH OF DAIRY BUSINESS

John Francis Says It is Becoming Great Factor in Nebraska Enterprises.

"There is no general realization of the enormous growth of the dairy business in Nebraska recently," said John Francis, general passenger agent of the B. & O. railroad. "As it is now, our passenger trains carry milk solely for milk every day and I prophesy that it will not be long before we will be running entire trains for milk alone. Take a town like Beaver City