Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—COTTON—Opened quiet at a decline of 1 point, under seiling for both accounts, which was chiefly encouraged by the outlook for receipts. The early estimate for ports pointed to a movement of about 29,000 bales, as compared with 18,567 bales last year, and the interior receipts also have recently shown an expanding tendency. New Orleans showed a disposition to drag after the call and Liverpool, where the market opened unchanged, and advanced 4,6114c, also declined, closing about 2 points lower. The weaker tone resulting from this influence was responsible for a decline of from 4 to 8 points on the active option, from which the market was rallied toward the close by buying by room shorts and commission houses, which with the list finally steady at a net decline of 2 to 5 points. The southern spot markets were held at generally unchanged prices, Liverpool reported spot sales of 12,000 bales and news from various dry goods markets, including Manchester, were distinctly encouraging. Cotton Market. ported spot sales of 12,000 bales and news from various dry goods markets, including Manchester, were distinctly encouraging. It was on the phases of the situation and on the ordinary that the recent liquidation had pretty well cleaned out the weaker long interest that today's buyers were operating. Sales were estimated at 200,000 bales.

majority of cases also joined in the ad-The cow trade was fully as brisk as the market on steers and in fact it only took a comparatively short time for practically all the early arrivals to change hands. The demand was good for all kinds and the market was safely strong to a dime higher than last week. The medium to choice grades, though, improved a little more than the canners, but they also suffered a worse decline last week than the canners. The buil market was in a little better shape today than it was last week. In some cases prices seemed to improve a little and in others the prices looked about steady, but it was easier to make a sale. Veal calves continued in active demand at good steady prices.

There was a brisk inquiry for stockers and feeders and the supply not being very large the market was active and strong to a dime higher than last week. The better grades in particular were wanted and on that class of stuff the improvement was greatest. Speculators carried very few cattle over Sunday, so that they were all looking for fresh supplies, and it did not take them long to buy up everything in sight. Representative sales:

SHEEP-There was a good supply of sheep here today for this time of year, but the quality of the offerings as a whole was hardly up to une usual standard. Buyers, though, took hold in good shape, and anything at all good sold without much trouble at last week's closing prices. When it came to the warmed-up and half-fat stuff, however, the market was not as brisk and if anything the prices looked a shade lower than last week. The weakness, though, was of hardly enough importance to be worthy of mention. It was evident that packers were anxious for good stuff, but that they did not care particularly for the half-fat kinds. Several trains were late in arriving, which delayed the market until the day was well advanced.

The demand for feeders continued active and the few bunches of desirable sheep and lambs that a rived sold at good, strong prices.
