BANKERS RESERVE LIFE

As the Exemplification of His Ideas -A Strong Local Company Backed by the People of Nebraska and the West.

"I cannot urge the people of the west too strongly to build up their local insurance. companies," said B. H. Robison, president of the Bankers Reserve Life association and probably the best known life insurance expert west of Chicago. "It is essential to the financial independence of the west. We cannot afford to take from $1,200,000 to $2,000,000 a year from our savings and cart It away to New York to be stored in money vaults already overloaded.

"Des Moines, Ia., is the home of a hundred insurance organizations organized under the laws of that state. An army of more than 25,000 people is supported by the more than 5,000 persons paid wages and other forms of compensation by these institutions.

"Nebraska is now the home of three staunch life insurance companies organized under the laws of this state. There are a number of fire insurance, accident and casualty companies and this state is the home state of two of the great benefit socleties and of several younger but promising fraternal organizations.

"There is no reason in the wide, wide world why Nebraska should march in the rear ranks of the insurance advance guard of the west. Situated at exactly the right geographical location to cover the Transmississippl region, in the healthlest section of the American union, with thousands of insurable age, loyal and enterprising, we can and we shall make Nebraska rank with Connecticut and Massachusetts in the insurance world.

"I am very much in earnest about this matter not alone because I am the execuive officer of a promising company, but because my heart is in this patriotic work of building up the great west along life insurance lines.

We would welcome to the field a dozen good, well-managed companies and the home companies can and should make common cause against alien, trust-bound competitors when they will not compete fairly.

"As evidence of the readiness of the people of this section of the west to aid in the good work, permit me to refer to my annual report and to show you by the figures of our financial statement what has been accomplished in a little more than three years of active work:

"New business in 1902	$2,332,750
"Insurance in force	5,234,500
"Premium income
"Invested and other assets	116,820
"Death losses unpaid
"Contested claims
"Current Habilities	None
"Cash in bank
"I want to secure good underwa	riters for several new states we are about to enter. The Bankers Reserve Life is known all through the west. The good fight it has been making for western companies draws to it the support of the loyal local people leve everywber.
