Fix Value of Property. The sheriff's jury in the condemnation proceedings brought by the Great Western railroad against the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association returned its verdict yesterday morning, finding that the value of the property sought by the railroad was $2,750.

The Great Western decided it needed a lot south of the Wabash freight depot grounds occupied and owned by the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association and on which it had a store building. The brewing association refused to sell and under the Iowa law the railroad was obliged to secure permission from the state railway commission to institute condemnation proceedings as the property sought to be condemned was needed for depot purposes. The commission met here and after hearing both sides granted the requisite permission. Then the condemnation proceedings were instituted with the above result. It was stated that the brewing company would not accept the finding of the sheriff's jury and would appeal to the district court.

Supreme Court Decision Knocks Out Care Against Telephone Company.

SOME DOUBTS CONCERNING ITS SCOPE

County Attorney of Opinion It Only Applies to Companies in Operation Prior to Adoption of New Code.

The ruling of the supreme court Thursday in the case of Chamberlain and others against the Iowa Telephone company is of peculiar interest to the citizens of Council Bluffs, as it will undoubtedly dispose of the proceedings brought by County Attorney Killpack, attacking the right of the Nebraska Telephone company to occupy the streets and alleys of this city.

According to the decision of the supreme court in Des Moines the question of the Nebraska Telephone company's right to occupy the streets and alleys in Council Bluffs, whether its franchise is valid or not, cannot now be attacked.

County Attorney Killpack, after reading the dispatch in yesterday morning's paper, said he was not prepared to say exactly what effect the supreme court's ruling would have on the suit instituted by him against the Nebraska Telephone company in this city until he had secured a copy of the decision, for which he had telegraphed. According to the newspaper accounts, however, it appeared to him as if the decision practically put a stop to the quo warranto proceedings brought by him against the company. As far as he was able to judge County Attorney Killpack said the ruling of the supreme court was to the effect that telephone companies which were operating prior to the taking effect of the new code in 1897 needed no franchise or charter from the city, and that under the law then existing they had the right to occupy streets and alleys the same as any other public thoroughfares.

The Nebraska Telephone company is operating in Council Bluffs under a franchise granted it by the city council in 1889. The county attorney in his quo warranto proceedings attacked the validity of this franchise, alleging that the ordinance granting the franchise was not passed according to the strict requirements of the law inasmuch as the yeas and nay votes were not properly recorded in the minutes of the meeting.

According to the dispatches from Des Moines in some of the papers it would appear that the ruling of the supreme court gives an independent telephone company the right to operate in a city, occupy the streets and alleys, erect poles and string wires, etc., without having to secure a franchise. This, however, is believed here to be a wrong interpretation of the decision and that it refers only to such companies as had been organized and were operating prior to the new code going into effect in 1897. Much depends on the right interpretation of the ruling, as if it means that any telephone company can occupy the streets and alleys without a franchise, independent telephone companies can come into Council Bluffs and without asking the people or the city council take possession of any street or alley for its poles and wires, and the city would be powerless to prevent it, or even compel it to place its wires underground. Attorneys here are of the opinion that the ruling only affects those companies which were operating prior to 1897.

Woman Uses a Revolver. Mrs. Jennie Williams, living at 112 South Thirteenth street, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, preferred against her in Justice Carson's court by Albert J. Hawkins. As proof of the assault Hawkins is carrying imbedded in his knee cap the bullet from a 32-calibre revolver.

According to Hawkins' version of the trouble he had been living in Mrs. Williams' house during her absence from the city, but on her return a few days ago, took up his abode elsewhere. Yesterday afternoon Hawkins, as he says, went to Mrs. Williams' house and loaded up some hay which he claimed belonged to him. Mrs. Williams also claimed the hay and ordered Hawkins to leave it alone. Hawkins continued to load it on his wagon and Mrs. Williams went back into the house and returning with a revolver in her hand shot at him at close range, the bullet entering and lodging in his right knee cap. Hawkins, without waiting to complete the loading of his wagon, at once drove to the office of Justice Carson, filed his information and secured the arrest of the woman.

Mrs. Williams stated that she did not fire until she had been attacked by Hawkins with a pitchfork and several holes bored in her anatomy. Her right hand was bandaged and she said one of the prongs of the pitchfork had pierced it. She retorted by firing an information in Justice Carson's court charging Hawkins with assault and battery. Mrs. Williams, who was unable to furnish a bond in the sum of $1,000, was committed to the county jail pending her preliminary hearing, which is set for Monday morning.

Chance for Professional Ball. There is some talk of Council Bluffs having a professional ball team this season with a membership in the Iowa-South Dakota league. The league is now starting out on its second season and President Lockhart of Sioux City is expected to pay a visit here shortly for the purpose of looking the grounds over and ascertaining what chances there would be for establishing and maintaining a team here.

The league last year was made up of teams representing Sioux City, Sioux Falls, Plaudreus, LeMars, Keokuk Rapids and Sheldon. The team was won by Sioux Falls. Plaudreus has withdrawn from the league and as it has been decided to make it an eight-club league this year, there are three vacancies to be filled. It is said Lincoln will be offered a place on the league as well as Council Bluffs and Fort Dodge.

The motor company is interested in the establishment of a professional team in this city and Manager Odell of Manawa has, up to date, declined to entertain any proposition for the ball park at the lake resort for this season. He is waiting to see if there is any chance of a professional team being formed before he will make any arrangements for the coming season.

TROUBLE OVER PRINTING STATE SEAL

State Superintendent Barrett Reports a Growing Interest in the Consolidation of Rural Schools.

DES MOINES, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—A state meeting of the bookbinders and blank book makers of the state of Iowa was held here today and organization effected for mutual benefit. There were representatives present from Dubuque, Sioux City, Council Bluffs, Davenport, Keokuk, Cedar Rapids, Waterloo and a number of other cities, including heads of firms and companies and the salesmen for different houses doing business in the state. There were about fifty present at the meeting, which was held in a clubroom at the Savory house, and it was held quietly. The purpose of the meeting was to consider trade matters and especially the condition of labor and prices. Members of the association say that it will be necessary for the blank book makers and dealers in county supplies to get more for their goods if they are to continue in business; that there has been an increase in the cost of labor and material and that there has been no corresponding increase in prices. This is the first meeting of the blank book makers for several years. Their business with the state and county officials runs into immense sums yearly.

Conterfeiting a State Seal. The new state auditor, B. F. Carroll, has just compelled George A. Miller, a printer of this city, to turn over to him the cuts from which he was printing the facsimile of the signature of the former state auditor, F. F. Merriam, and putting on certificates issued to insurance companies a counterfeit of the seal of the state auditor of Iowa. It had been customary for the companies to secure these certificates from the state auditor with the genuine seals attached and for this state received 50 cents for each. After the new state auditor entered his office he discovered that the fees from this source had stopped. He investigated and found that Miller was printing these certificates in large quantities for the Northwestern Life and Savings, the National Life and Trust, the Mutual Life and Savings, and formerly for the Security Life and Savings. The names of the smaller companies are not recalled. The heads of companies and the printer claimed they had received permission from the former state auditor to make copies of the seal and his signature. After consultation with the attorney general the new state auditor demanded the cuts and put a stop to the practice, as the state law is rigid against counterfeiting the seals for purposes of deception and fraud. The matter has created something of a sensation as the companies named are officers by men high in financial affairs.

Went Down in The Whirlpool

LOSS OF THE STEAMER STECKLER IN THE GREEN RIVER RAPIDS.

Many Passengers Narrowly Escape with Their Lives—Thrilling Experience of a Rochester Girl—Story of the Rescue.

The captain of the steamer George Steckler, which went down during a blizzard in the whirlpool of the Green river, had navigated the rapids for over twenty years without a fatal trip. The accident occurred soon after the passengers had breakfasted and many of them were on deck watching the troubled waters. Among them was Miss G. E. Reifler of 98 Ambrose street, Rochester, N. Y., and her account of the accident and her thrilling rescue gives the best story of the passenger's fierce struggle for life.

"When the boat sunk," says Miss Reifler, "some of the men jumped into the water and swam for shore. Others were clinging to floating bales of goods, and these were rescued by some men in a long boat. I was caught on a projection of the steamer and went down with her. One of the crew dived and brought me to the surface, when somebody threw a live preserver over my head. A young man helped me on a bale of wool which floated past, and so I reached the shore."

At the time of the accident Miss Reifler was returning to Rochester from Kentucky, but, owing to the shock of the accident, she reached home in an alarming state of health.

"I was covered with ice," she said, "when they brought me ashore. I was black and blue from my bruises and my relatives said they did not think I would live. But for a long time, until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, my nervous system was a wreck. Doctors had not helped me and I was very miserable. My health ran down to an alarming degree. I was weak, grew thin and was extremely nervous and irritable. But Dr. Williams' Pink Pills changed all this. In a short time after beginning with them I felt better, and, after using a few boxes more, I felt like old myself again. I have recommended this remedy to all of my friends and acquaintances and know it has accomplished much good."

The accident which befell Miss Reifler was not of the kind which falls to the lot of most persons, but the results which followed were the same, inasmuch as the many nervous troubles with which thousands of people are afflicted. Only in her case they were unusually severe. Her nervous system was wrecked and no medicine did her any good until she tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They cured her.

These pills have become famous all over the world for their wonderful efficacy in cases of this kind. They have cured when the trouble was as severe as Miss Reifler's and they cure lesser nervous disorders without fail. Acting directly on the nerves and blood, they are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headaches, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, and all forms of weakness either in male or female. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box, or six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents, by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Indicted for Bigamy. DEADWOOD, S. D., Feb. 13.—(Special.)—William S. Hall has been arrested on the charge of bigamy, in having married Etta Hall without being legally separated from Lottie M. Hall. The arrest was made at the instance of Etta M. Hall, who was married to Hall at Deadwood, September 15, 1890. It is alleged that Hall's former marriage took place at Topeka, Kas., in 1888, where his first wife is still living. Hall and his second wife were separated during the year just past by divorce. Within twenty-four hours after his arrest Hall was indicted by the grand jury. He is in jail here, being unable to furnish the $1,000 bonds fixed by the committing magistrate. He says he was divorced from his first wife before marrying the second.

FAVORABLE TO VALUED POLICY

Bill Has Passed South Dakota House, with Chances Favorable in Senate. PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The valued policy bill had its readings in both houses today, coming up first in the house, and with little discussion passed by a vote of 64 to 14. It was sent to the senate and given its first reading, then, by a close vote, forced to second reading and reference. The measure now is for its passage through the senate as well as the house, the advocates of the measure claiming twenty-eight votes favorable on final action, with only twenty-three necessary to pass it.

The house met in morning session for the first time and passed the latter calendar, which must be dragged. The only bill introduced was to allow the holding of terms of county court in other than county seat towns, which practically applies to Charles Mix county alone. The senate bill to abolish the board of medical examiners, which had been scolded for adverse claims to real estate by proceedings in circuit court; the valued policy insurance bill, to limit electric franchises to twenty years;
