City Henry Stacey, whose husband was killed by a Rock Island train four weeks ago, is in a delicate condition. She and three small children were found Sunday to be without a stove or fuel at their home on Avenue D and Fifteenth street. Another family had been occupying part of the house and Mrs. Stacey's rooms were heated by their stove. The family moved Saturday, leaving Mrs. Stacey without any means of warming her apartment. The board on discovery of the condition of the family afforded temporary assistance and the attention of the county authorities was called to the case.

Union Pacific Wins Case Over Taxes on Missouri River Bridge.

CUTS OFF CONSIDERABLE REVENUE

Illinois Central Likely to Refuse to Pay Taxes on Its Bridge in the Face of the Present Decision.

The circuit court of appeals has sustained Judge Smith's decision in his ruling that the Union Pacific Railroad company was not required to pay taxes on the east half of its bridge across the Missouri river for municipal purposes, on the ground that it did not receive any benefit resulting from the payment of such taxes. Ward of the decision the circuit court, which was banded down yesterday in St. Louis, was received by Attorney Emmet Tilton, who was employed by the city to assist City Solicitor Snyder in conducting the appeal, to the court.

The decision of the circuit court is a hard blow to the city of Council Bluffs, as it not only means the loss of a considerable sum in back taxes, but the tipping off of a major portion of its revenue in the future.

The ruling of the circuit court may also be far-reaching, as according to it the Illinois Central, which now owns the Terminal company's bridge across the river, may decline to pay its assessment of municipal taxes on the ground that the Union Pacific did not.

The suit in which the circuit court has handed down its decision involved the sum of $13,713.97, being the city taxes assessed against the east half of the Union Pacific's bridge for the years 1897 to 1900 inclusive.

To recover which suit was brought in the name of William Smith, county treasurer, Judge Smith McPherson of the federal court, before whom the case was tried, held that the bridge could not be assessed for taxes for municipal purposes on the ground that the bridge, owing to its location and distance from a business portion of the city, did not receive any benefits from the public library, the police and fire departments and the city water works. It was admitted, however, that the eastern terminus of the bridge was within the city limits, but it was shown an agreed statement of facts that the land east, north and south of the bridge for the radius of a mile or more was held as farm land for agricultural purposes only and not subject to municipal taxation.

The ruling of the circuit court deals practically a body blow to the city, as it not only deprives it of over $13,000 back taxes, but cuts off about $2,500 from its annual revenue from this source. This loss will have a material effect on the appropriation for the maintenance of the city departments for next year. The city has the privilege of taking the suit to the United States supreme court, but it is doubtful if it will do so.

FIGHT OVER COUNTY PRINTING

Protest Filed Against Circulation Statement of an Avoca Paper.

The newspapers seeking to secure the publication of the proceedings of the county supervisors filed sworn statements of their circulation with the board yesterday afternoon. As three of the papers filed notice of contest of the alleged circulation of the Avoca Tribune, the board postponed its hearing until Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

The Council Bluffs Nonpareil, by Victor E. Bender, its business manager, presented a statement to the effect that the circulation of its daily and weekly in the county outside of the city limits was 3,250 copies for the last three months; the Oakland Acon sawed to 724; the Avoca Journal-Herald to 643 and the Avoca Tribune to 585; the Oakland Acon, Neola Reporter and the Avoca Journal-Herald disputed the statement of the Avoca Tribune as to its circulation and filed a joint protest alleging that the statement was not bona fide.

It was contended that as the Avoca Tribune, which was formerly the Council Bluffs Tribune, had not been published in Avoca prior to January 1 of this year was therefore not entitled to consideration at the hands of the board. It was further alleged by the protestants that the Avoca Tribune was a totally different paper from the Council Bluffs Tribune for the fact that the Council Bluffs publication had been a democratic organ, while the Avoca paper was now republican in its politics.

According to the provisions of the code which went into effect in 1897 the supervisors are compelled to award the publishing of the proceedings to the three papers published in and having the largest circulation in the county. The law has been ignored by the Pottawattamie county supervisors and the publication was divided annually between eight or nine of the county papers. This year two of the papers declined to abide with the law and the Harrison county authorities were called to the law governing the matter. Under the law the board is obliged to pay 33 cents an inch for the publication.

A large number of farmers from Rockford and Pottawattamie counties interested in the proposed drainage ditch scheme were present, but owing to the failure of the Harrison county authorities to appear the board took no action in the matter, although a greater part of the afternoon was taken up in an informal discussion of it.
Many of the farmers present made objections to the scheme as at present outlined.
Those south of the proposed ditches insist that levees be constructed alongside of the ditches to prevent the overflow from them and the backing up of the river onto their land, while farmers north of the proposed ditches object to any such proposition unless Harrison county will take care of its own water and drain it into the Missouri by an outlet in that county without using the waterway through Pottawattamie county.

The following claims for damages, aggregating $24,804, by reason of the proposed drainage ditches through this county were filed yesterday with the board:

J. W. Frazer, Mary E. White and Eunice I. Frazer.....$2,900
Mary P. White and Eunice I. Frazer.....3,000 Cyrilus Crispin.....2,000
J. H. Wall.....200
P. S. Friend.....1,000
Patrick Gilmore.....2,104
J. S. Skelton.....500

It was stated yesterday that the Harrison county authorities would be present at today's meeting of the board and present their side of the proposition.
