

SOCIETY IS EVENLY BRISK

Early Advent of Lent Fails to Stir the Local Flow of Events

CALENDAR SHOWS USUAL LIST OF THINGS

Some Really Smart Affairs Set for the Early Part of the Week and Nothing for Ash Wednesday.

As though there were not forty long days, not to speak of the evenings, when little is expected to be going on, society has planned but little for the two days remaining that are still open to festivity.

Of course there will be the table d'hôte dinner at the Omaha club on Monday evening, and dinners are always in order, even during Lent, so that occasion, at least, promises to remain popular at all times.

On Tuesday Mrs. John L. Webster will give a whist luncheon; Mrs. F. H. Cole will hold an informal reception at her home, 1910 Spencer street, from 3 until 5 o'clock.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Bayles will entertain the Hanscom Park Whist club; Miss Mabel Carey will entertain the members of the Charmante club in the afternoon.

The first of the Lenten musicales to be given at Mrs. Kirkendall's home on Saturday, and the table d'hôte dinner for men at the Omaha club complete the calendar for the present at least, for of course there will be ever so many things, in spite of Lent, for which no cards are to be issued.

To what extent the French class has taken hold of the local fashionable mind was illustrated recently in a little incident that, while a bit embarrassing to the lady concerned was altogether amusing to the onlookers.

A fitting close of one of the most brilliant winters in the social history of the city, was the annual birthday party and reception of the Visiting Nurses association held from 2 until 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon at the home of Judge J. M. Woolworth, at 2211 St. Mary's avenue.

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED.

Every Sufferer from Catarrh Knows that Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douche.

Do Not Cure. Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood, and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy, which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Red Gum, Blood Root and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opium or any injurious drug whatever, and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure."

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and promptly bought a fifty-cent box from my druggist, and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of Catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the Catarrh, has greatly improved, until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment, and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for Catarrh cure.

year of her age. And some did even more for there were checks and bills of a denomination that, combined with the contents of the bags, will relieve the association of the anxiety occasioned by the shortage of funds the past few months and insure to the sick among the city poor the attention and comforts that it is the association's mission to supply.

For her guests, Miss Wood and Miss Chovin. Miss Beale entertained at 8 o'clock coffee on Saturday evening at her home on South Tenth street.

The "Strollers" were royally entertained on Wednesday by Mrs. Frank Green at a 1 o'clock luncheon. The table decorations were white and red. Six courses followed, at the end of which each member was presented with pretty heart-shaped plus as souvenirs of the occasion.

Among the smartest of the week's end affairs was the dinner given on Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McWhorter, at their home, 104 South Thirty-ninth street, in celebration of their nineteenth wedding anniversary.

A large crystal candelabra, its candles shaded in red, formed the centerpiece on the table and was surrounded by several single, red-shaded candles that with a bunch of nineteen brides' roses completed the very effective trimming.

Mr. John L. Webster and Miss Webster expect to leave on March 7 for a visit to California. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Porterfield will entertain the next meeting of the Hanscom Park Whist club.

Colonel and Mrs. McClelland, Major and Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Guy Howard, Mrs. Herman Kountze and Captain Michie made up one of the parties at Boyd's last evening.

The Neighborhood Club was entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Van Buren. Mr. B. Scribner entertained the Harmony Card club last evening at their home on Woolworth avenue.

At high noon Wednesday, February 19, 1930, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hanger of Waterloo, Neb., Miss Cecil Marie Hanger was united in marriage to John W. Moore, Jr., of Ogden, Utah. Rev. Henry Hobeisel of Papillion officiating. The groom was formerly a Douglas boy and the bride has been a successful teacher in Douglas county.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greene expect to go to Washington, D. C., the early part of the week. Miss Black of Chicago is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manderson.

Manager Howe of Armour's Tells of the Effort Made to Keep Accurate Record of the Degree of Cold.

"Temperature is the most important thing about a packing plant," said Manager Robert Howe of Armour's South Omaha establishment a few days ago, when the cold weather turned the talk to thermometers. "We have, if I am not mistaken, 750 of those things about the plant and eight men who do nothing but make temperature readings."

Practically all the products of the packing industry are perishable and must be kept at even temperatures. In the case of some of the things which are kept in storage, eggs especially, a deviation of a degree or two in either direction may mean the ruin of the entire season's output.

The lowest temperature maintained in the refrigerating rooms, where are kept the frozen poultry and beef cuts, is 10 degrees above zero to 15 below. In the apple rooms the temperature must go but little either way from the freezing point.
