Senator Berry Claims Crows Has More Power Than President.

MANY MEASURES PASS UPPER HOUSE

Members Work Hard to Clear Calendar Before Congress Expires and Finally Depose Statehood Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The senate today passed the fortifications appropriation bill and the house immigration bill, with amendments. The general deficiency bill, the last of the appropriation measures to be considered, was reported from the committee.

The greater part of the day was given up to the consideration of the Aldrich bond deposit bill, which was debated at length, but upon which no vote was reached.

The senate took a recess until 11 o'clock tomorrow, when a session will be held to deliver eulogies on deceased members of the house.

Money for Fortifications.

The fortification bill was then considered.

Replying to questions by Mr. Rawlins, Mr. Perkins said the bill made no provision for the fortification of the proposed Isthmian canal. No provision was made for any of the insular possessions.

Mr. Rawlins spoke at some length against the canal treaty.

Mr. Platt (Conn.), who had been closely following Mr. Rawlins, said he regarded it as improper to refer in open session to any treaty under consideration by the senate.

Mr. Rawlins contended that he was not speaking of anything which had not already been made public. He declared that by acquiring title to the land for an Isthmian canal, the United States secured property which was not its property, but that it took money out of its treasury and presented it to a private corporation.

Mr. Fyre stopped the debate by holding that a discussion of a treaty under consideration in executive session is out of order in legislative session.

The senate at 1:25 went into secret legislative session.

Mr. Bayne continued his discussion of the fortifications bill, paying special attention to the lack of provision for fortifying the canal.

When the doors were reopened the fortifications bill was passed.

Mr. Aldrich called up the bill to further protect government deposits in national banks. Mr. Dubois (Iaho) demanded yeas and nays, which was ordered.

By 42 to 18 the senate agreed to consider the bill. The vote displaces the statehood bill as unfinished business.

The detailed vote was as follows:

Yeas: Aldrich, Bacon, Blair, Brewster, Buchanan, Burton, Callahan, Cannon, Clark, Cullerton, Frazier, Gallinger, Gallinger, Gurnea, Harlan, Howell, Johnson, Jones, Kappeler, Lusk, McCann, McCall, McCallister, McMillan, McPherson, Nelson, Nelson, Nugent, Platt (Conn.), Plummer, Pomeroy, Prichard, Quayle, Quinn, Ryan, Sargent, Sewall, Sherman, Sikes, Tamm, Timpani, West—42.

Nays: Bailey, Berry, Blackburn, Carmack, Clay, Callerton, DeLoach, Dubois, Egan, Frazier, Gurnea, Harlan, Howell, Johnson, Jones, Kappeler, Lusk, McCann, McCall, McCallister, McMillan, McPherson, Nelson, Nelson, Nugent, Platt (Conn.), Plummer, Pomeroy, Prichard, Quayle, Quinn, Ryan, Sargent, Sewall, Sherman, Sikes, Tamm, Timpani, West—18.

Morgan All Powerful.

"Under the operation of the present law," said Mr. Berry in opening the discussion, "when money is loaned to national banks it is not intended that it shall ever be repaid."

"No wonder J. Pierpont Morgan today, by reason of the transactions he has had with different secretaries of the treasury, has gained such an immense fortune, such a control over the business operation, that he is more powerful even than the president himself."

After a long discussion the bill was temporarily laid aside and the conference report on the District of Columbia appropriation bill was taken up by Mr. Allison.

The report was agreed to and the immigration bill taken up. Mr. Gallinger's amendment, striking out a portion of the contract labor law, was adopted.

Mr. Bacon offered an amendment for the exclusion of anarchy, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Gallinger the proviso imposing upon other transportation companies the obligation imposed upon steamship owners was struck out.

The bill was then without a division. The senate also passed a bill for the relief of settlers on the Dallas military road land grant; also the bill to—

A NEW DEPARTURE

A New, Effective and Convenient Cure for Catarrh.

Of Catarrh remedies, there is no end, but of catarrh cures, there has always been a great scarcity. There are many remedies to relieve, but very few that really cure.

The old practice of snuffing salt water through the nose would often relieve, and the washes, douches, powders and inhalers in common use are very little, if any, better than the old fashioned salt water douches.

The use of inhalers and the application of salves, washes and powders to the nose and throat to cure catarrh is no more reasonable than to rub the back to cure kidney disease. Catarrh is just as much a blood disease as kidney trouble or rheumatism and it can not be cured by local treatment any more than they can be.

To cure catarrh whether in the head, throat or stomach an internal antiseptic treatment is necessary to drive the catarrhal poison out of the blood and system, and the new catarrh cure is designed on this plan and the remarkable success of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is because being used internally, it drives out catarrhal infection through action upon stomach, liver and bowels.

Wm. Zimmerman of St. Joseph relates an experience with catarrh which is of value to millions of catarrh sufferers everywhere. He says: "I neglected a slight nasal catarrh until it gradually extended to my throat and bronchial tubes and finally even my stomach and liver became affected, but as I was able to keep up and do a day's work I let it run along until my hearing began to fail me and then I realized that I must get rid of catarrh or lose my position, as I was clerk and my hearing was absolutely necessary."

Some of my friends recommended an inhaler, another a catarrh salve, but they were no good in my case, nor was anything else until I heard of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and bought a package at my drug store. They benefited me from the start and in less than four months I was completely cured of catarrh, although I had suffered nearly all my life from it.

They are pleasant to take and so much more convenient to use than other catarrh remedies that I feel I can not say enough in favor of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets."

HOUSE MAKES SLOW HEADWAY

Democrats Wear Out Reading Clerks and Force Fifteen Roll Calls.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The democrats stuck to their filibustering program in the house today and, even under the operation of the special rules the majority progress of appropriation bills and conference reports was exceedingly slow and laborious. The democrats forced a roll call on every proposition and compelled the reading in extenso of everything presented. Every parliamentary expedient was seized to delay matters, and at the end of a session of over nine hours the house, completely worn out, at 8:35 tonight took a recess until noon tomorrow. There was no sign of the democrats abating their opposition.

The reading clerks tonight were exhausted by the day's strain of trying to make themselves heard above the ceaseless din and confusion on the floor. There were fifteen roll calls and two calls of the house. The feature of the day was the passage of the senate omnibus public building bill, with house amendments, which increased the total carried by the bill to over $8,000,000. The leaders who opposed the bill did not attempt to defeat it and it was passed, 205-28, under suspension of the rules.

Mr. Mann took occasion during the debate to charge "collusion" between the architect and the contractor of the Chicago public buildings.

Mr. Oatnes, during the discussion of a conference report, bitterly arraigned the authorities for selling the "sacred relics" of the White House, including, he said, a sideboard which had been presented to Mrs. Hayes by the Women's Christian Temperance union, and which he declared was now reposing in a Washington brewery.

Mr. Grosvener denied these charges, saying that nothing but "second-hand furniture" had been sold.

The net result of the day's session was the sending to conference of the naval and fortification appropriation bills, the adoption of the conference reports on the railroad safety appliance bill and the military academy appropriation bill, the post-office, the omnibus public building bill and the bill to settle the accounts of officers during the Spanish war period and the adoption of the senate amendments to two other comparatively unimportant measures.

CHANCE FOR NEBRASKA TOWNS

House Stands by Public Buildings at York and Grand Island.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—The house tonight passed the omnibus public building bill as reported to it by the committee on public buildings. The bill passed by the house differs chiefly from the bill passed by the senate Monday in that it provides appropriations for the purchase of sites for public buildings in various cities of the United States. The bill will now go to conference and the probabilities are that the conferees will agree upon some increase made by the house.

The house bill appropriates $10,000 for sites at York and Grand Island, Neb. The paragraph regarding the sale of property at Lincoln and future operations there remains unchanged.

Wesley and Mason City, Ia., are each given $5,000 for sites for public buildings.

The house today passed the bill amending the existing law regarding the importation of breeding animals. The bill provides that any animal imported especially for breeding purposes shall be admitted free whether intended to be so used by the importer himself or for sale for such purpose. No such animal, however, is to be admitted free unless sure-bred and duly registered in books of record established for that breed.

Senator Aldrich, from the committee on finance, today made favorable report on Senator Millard's bill to give the surveyor of customs at Omaha an annual salary of $1,000. The surveyor of customs at present derives his income entirely from percentage of the business of office.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Greene of Omaha arrived in Washington today to remain until after the adjournment of congress.

Judge Norris, representative-elect from the fifth Nebraska district, was today very generally introduced to officials of the Treasury department by W. F. Andrews of Hastings, auditor of the treasury. Auditor Andrews accompanied Judge Norris first to the office of Secretary Shaw, where a few moments were passed in pleasant chat and subsequently he was introduced to the under secretaries and various bureau chiefs and in fact generally put next to all officials of the Treasury department.

The Farmers National bank of Primm, Ia., has been authorized to begin business with a capital of $50,000.

John E. Tillotson has been appointed substitute letter carrier at Des Moines.

The Corn Exchange National bank of Chicago has been approved as reserve agent for the First National bank of Lincoln, Neb.

Postmasters appointed: New Rode, Harrison county, Thomas J. Cochran, vice L. J. Roden, resigned; South Dakota—Nansen, Miner county, A. Henden, Jr., vice A. A. Henden, resigned.

The Rosebud treat bill, amended to meet the objections of Representative Cannon and others of the house, passed the senate today by a vote of 60 yeas and 30 nays.

Up by Senator Gamble. Its passage through the house, however, in its amended form is hardly looked for, in view of the ugly temper prevailing among the democrats, who had received notice that they will designate a roll call on every bill until the speaker's gavel adjourns the Fifty-seventh congress without day.

Representative Burke of South Dakota, who has the bill in charge in the house, today declared he would not abandon hope until the gavel fell, but his manner was that of a man whose cause was dead. The republican leaders despair of passing any general legislation at this late day, in view of the determination to block all legislation by continued roll calls. Beyond money bills, little of a public character is expected to get through congress during the few remaining hours of the present session, unless the temper of the democrats should change over Sunday.

"Tonight things are chaotic at both ends of the capitol and an extra session of the senate seems well nigh impossible.
