

DESTINY MAKES EMPIRE

Thurston Claims Providence Has Named America Foremost Power. ALL EXPANSION HAS BEEN ACCIDENTAL. United States Never Sought to Conquer Lands, Which Have Come as Natural Result of Freedom's Actions.

DETROIT, Mich., March 6.—The eighteenth anniversary banquet of the Michigan club at the Hotel Cadillac tonight was the most brilliant ever given in the club's history.

Four hundred men sat at five long tables, which stretched the full length of the large banquet hall. The speaker's table was set on a platform at the north end of the hall, under a canopy of flags and bunting, facing a great flag-draped portrait of President Roosevelt, which hung over the entrance.

At the speaker's table were: Senator J. H. Gallinger of New Hampshire, General Leonard Wood and ex-Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska; the speakers of the evening, Congressman William Alden Smith, the toastmaster, Senators R. A. Alger and J. C. Burrows of Michigan, Captain F. M. Alger, president of the club, and a number of other prominent men in Michigan politics.

Many of the club members were delegates to the state judicial convention, which did not adjourn until nearly 10, and it was late before all of them had found their seats in the banquet hall.

Senator Gallinger responded to the first toast, "Patriotism and Protection."

Wood Describes Cuban Work. General Wood was introduced as the honored, intimate friend of President Roosevelt. The banqueters rose to their feet, waving napkins and cheering as General Wood arose to respond to the toast, "The United States in the West Indies."

General Wood described conditions when the Spanish army surrendered at Santiago and how the American army brought order out of practical chaos in the island.

The conditions in the island after the surrender, he said, were appalling. The army had to care for the Spanish prisoners, feed the natives, combat fever and disease.

"When I was sent to the island as governor general," he said, "my first work was to implant in the people the idea of self-government. My instructions from President McKinley were broad, simply to get the people in shape for self-government."

Thurston Speaks on Expansion. Ex-Senator John M. Thurston was the last speaker and his toast was "Our New Possessions."

Our new possessions, the acquisition of territory, has been the salvation of the republic from the beginning and from the beginning every acquisition of new territory, every expansion of our domain, has been opposed by dry rot statesmanship.

Expansion in the United States has been the life and progress of Americanism. We never acquired a foot of soil purposely by conquest. Our most recent possessions came to us as the inevitable result of the responsibility which we declared that it was the duty of a government of free people to use their arms that others might have the same rights as we enjoyed.

Men make war but a higher power controls it once it is made and leads on to results that are unexpected.

So it was with us. No man had any idea when we went to war with Spain that it would bring us new lands. Our destiny led us on. When we sank the Spanish fleet at Manila we had no idea that we had won the Philippine islands, but a responsibility came on us that we could not ignore.

It was to set up some government to take the place of the one we had destroyed. We took the islands because they came to us as the irresistible results of a war that commenced and was carried on by a great sense of public humanity.

That it was a great blessing that we have acquired them in the struggle for free supremacy they will assist us in becoming what our destiny points out for us—the foremost nation of the world.

A Bodily Swollen Leg Cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "During the past summer I had typhoid fever for seven weeks," says William M. Gentry, a well known justice on the peace of Dawson county, Georgia. "After the fever left me the disease settled in my leg and it was swollen to twice its natural size. I tried the doctor and many liniments, all of which did me no good until I was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first application of that relieved me and I am now able to walk. The swelling is fast leaving and I will soon be well. Pain Balm is the best liniment on earth."

RAILROAD LESSONS USELESS. British Government Inspector Says American Lines Are Interfering.

LONDON, March 6.—The report of Colonel A. H. York, chief inspector of the railway department of the Board of Trade, who recently investigated American railroading, was issued this evening as a blue-book.

Colonel York found much to interest him in the practical construction of American railways, but decided that comparatively little of it was available for English use, chiefly because the expense of a change would nullify its advantages. He was much interested in the automatic and other mechanical devices, but thought the gain was counterbalanced by the increased risk to passengers and employes, which, in the case of automatic signaling, might be due to the weather, or possibly to the failure of the mechanism. He thinks Great Britain must adopt a more economical freight car, but does not believe it will be advisable to copy the American designs.

He approves decidedly the American system of examination for promotion in the railroad service and says in this respect the American railways are ahead of England. He points out that New York and Boston furnish valuable lessons to London in the matter of urban car lines, because those cities "outlined" the system needed and financed the undertakings, not leaving the concessions to be scrambled for by private companies.

In conclusion, he pays a tribute to the uniform courtesies, including those received from President Roosevelt, and the facilities extended to him, and expresses the hope that he will be able to return to America and traverse the entire United States in his work of investigation.

DESCRIBES VOLCANIC CLOUDS. United States Scientist Speaks of La Soufriere's Daily Pranks.

KINGSTOWN, St. Vincent, March 6.—How the United States geological survey, after a personal inspection of La Soufriere, gives this description of the slight eruptions now frequently occurring:

Without warning big puffs of steam rise constantly and countless rockets of black mud and stones are shot up from the crater and spread outward. Then the mud and stones fall back into the lake with a loud roar. Other clouds of steam charged with dust rise and drift over the country.

Other interesting feature of the region is the deposit of ash. The Wallibus river is still hot enough to cause the water in the stream to evaporate in huge columns laden with dust.

Earthquakes in Saxony. BERLIN, March 5.—Earthquake shocks have been felt for two days in the district of Voigtland, Saxony, in the Erzgebirge (Ore) mountains. Yesterday's shocks were slight, but those of today were violent.

AUDITORIUM WALLS TO RISE

Rochester & Gould Get Brick Contract and Schall & Co. the Stone. WORK TO BE FINISHED WITHIN 150 DAYS. Contracts for Over Hundred Thousand Dollars of Construction Are Now in Force—Work to Begin Monday.

Rochester & Gould will begin laying brick on the auditorium building Monday morning and will place as large a force at work as can possibly be used. Between now and Monday a force will be employed to move brick, sand and other building material to the grounds, so there will be no delay. This is necessary because of the fact that the company has insisted upon having the first fourteen feet of the walls completed within sixty days of the signing of the contract. This did not seem possible to the contractors at first and they attempted to have the time extended thirty days, but the arrangements on this question were made yesterday and the Auditorium company succeeded in impressing its views upon the contractors.

The entire walls are to be completed within 150 days from the time the contracts are signed, and the brick and stone contractors will work simultaneously after the bricks have been laid to the point where the stone is required. A. Schall & Co. have the stone contract.

The steel work is now being put into position and the contractors for this work will be kept busy with a large force for some time to get the work in shape for the brick and stone masons.

The total cost of the brick work complete, under the present contract, is $37,850, and the cut stone work $27,321.18. The cost of the steel construction under the contract is $41,350, so that at the present time the company has contracts for construction, exclusive of the foundation, of $106,442.18, the cost of the foundation and architect's fees making the total expense so far incurred about $130,000.

This amount will place the building in shape for the carpenters, roofers and finishers, and these can start to work as soon as the walls have been raised to a certain height. The company hopes to have the building completed by August 1, but the present contracts give the brick and stone contractors until August 5 to complete their work, and for that reason it is believed that the building will be ready some time between August 1 and October 1.

CAPTAIN WINDER IS DEAD. Veteran of Mexican and Civil Wars Passes Away at Millard Hotel.

Captain William A. Winder, one of the most prominent generals in the United States, died at yesterday morning in his apartments in the Millard hotel. Captain Winder had been afflicted with cancer, which compelled him to retire from active service and seek rest and quiet some weeks ago. At the time of his death he was nearly 80 years of age.

The deceased was born in Maryland and won recognition from his government for valor on the battlefields of the Mexican war. When the civil war broke out he again took up arms. He came from patriotic stock and was closely identified with the government and its battlefield successes during his entire lifetime. He was rewarded with a position in the United States land department, where his military career ended. For the last eighteen years he served as an allotting agent in the land department and for some time past was stationed at Rosbush, S. D. He was a member of California commandery, Military Order of the Loyal Legion.

Captain Winder was a brother-in-law of Admiral George Dewey. He was a favorite with his superiors and had a host of friends in the government service, both on land and military departments, who will regret his demise.

The captain is survived by a wife, who resides at Portsmouth, N. H., and who is the daughter of former Governor Goodwin of that state, and a son—William—who is commander of Michigan, now stationed at Erie, Pa., and was the navigating officer of Raleigh during the Spanish-American war. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, but will be held in the presence of relatives of the deceased regarding the disposition of the remains.

HAIR. VASELINE NO GOOD FOR HAIR. Dandruff Gern Thrives in It, as Well as in All Grease.

A well known Chicago hair specialist invited the Inter Ocean reporter to come to his office and see, under a microscope, how the germ that causes dandruff thrives in vaseline. The specialist said that all hair preparations containing grease simply furnish food for the germs and help to propagate them. The only way to cure dandruff is to destroy the germs, and the only hair preparation that will do that is Nerbore's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect. Without dandruff no falling hair, no baldness. Ask for Herpicide. It is the only destroyer of the dandruff germ."

WHOLE FAMILY LIKELY TO DIE. Mother and Two Children Already Dead and Father and Four Children Ill.

LONG PINE, Neb., March 6.—(Special Telegram.)—A family of affairs in a German family in the sand hills has come to light. The wife and three of the six children of Gus Beyer were attacked with a disease which they called tonsillitis. The woman suddenly died and a physician was called. The disease was diphtheria of the most malignant type. Two of the children have since died. Seier has the disease also and it seems likely that the whole family will be wiped out. The disease undoubtedly originated in the house, which was in a bad sanitary condition.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES

"The Moonshiner's Daughter" at the Boyd. All that is attributed to the inhabitants of the Cumberland and Blue Ridge mountains, where the peaceful farmer doesn't yet understand why the government wants to interfere with his heaven-given right of making whatever disposition he elects of his Blunt corn, raised in such sweet soil, with unkind nature—whether he turns that corn into alcohol or the bacon that comes from harel-splitter hogs, or the powerfully drunk-compelling liquor that dribbles from the end of the home-made worm at his stoups—is drawn upon to provide dramatic action for "The Moonshiner's Daughter," which was presented to a large audience at the Boyd last night. A little foretaste of the Hatfield-McCoy feud opens the play; incident to this is a couple of murders. During the action the people "down in front" are treated to a raid on an illicit still, which requires the discharge of much ammunition and the apparent taking of several human lives, a lynching, the murder of a suspected spy, and other minor episodes of a similarly elevating character. Everybody goes armed, even the heroine, who is an expert with her six-shooter as the star of a wild-west show—that is, in the play, and the young tender-foot from New York, who "butter his bread" as one accustomed to hunt for trouble. It is unnecessary to state that he gets it, just as a wholesale dealer gets bananas—in bunches. At the end of the play there are left just enough of the "shiners" and "reef-brokers" to wish the hero and heroine a long life and a happy one. Incident to the presentation of the piece are some specialties, one of which is worthy of mention. Miss Nellie V. Small, who tips the beam at 250, is cast for the part of a negro mammy, and in its execution sings somecoon songs in a way that would make May Irwin envious. She has a sweet and powerful voice and has caught the genuine darkey expression, that subtly elusive feature that makes the negro's vocal music peculiarly his own. Her songs won her great applause last night. The piece will be repeated at a matinee and evening performances today.

KOCIAN COMING TO OMAHA. Noted Bohemian Violinist to Play Here Two Weeks from Monday Next.

Last night late Manager Burgess of the Boyd theater received a telegram from Rudolph Aronson, who is managing the American tour of Jaroslav Kocian, the noted Bohemian violinist, to the effect that the virtuoso could play in Omaha on the evening of Monday, March 23. Mr. Burgess wired at once, accepting the offer.

Kocian was to have played here last month, but was compelled to cancel the date owing to illness. He has since visited the Pacific coast and returned to Europe. His return to Omaha is of great interest to the Bohemians of Omaha in his coming and they will rearrange for the reception they had planned for him.

These garments are made from this season's newest materials, such as imported fancy novelties and French voiles, broadcloths and chevots. We wish to call your special attention to the garments we are showing at $16.75, $19.75, $22.50, $24.75, $29.75 and up to $65.00. SAV TREATY WILL AID TRUST. Cuban Condemn Protocol as Help to Sugar and Tobacco Combines. HAVANA, March 6.—The reciprocity treaty was up in the senate again today and the debate was adjourned until tomorrow. In the course of today's debate Senator Ruggly denounced the treaty as a scheme on the part of the United States to keep European commerce out of Cuba in order that America might secure the entire commercial control of the island. Senator Silva quoted figures to prove that, even if the allegations that the sugar trust would benefit under the reciprocity treaty were true, the result could not be otherwise than beneficial to Cuba. It had been asserted that the sugar and tobacco industries will make an additional profit under the treaty of $6,500,000 annually.
