MOVE MINE HEADQUARTERS

Union Decide: Oskaloosa Is Better Place for Them Than Albia

QUIET TIME AT DES MOINES PRIMARIES

Judge Prouty and Friends Believed to Have Captured the Party Machinery-Making Arrangements for State Fair.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, March 6.—(Special.)—The district convention of the United Mine Workers for Iowa and Missouri this morning decided upon removal of the district headquarters from Albia to Oskaloosa. This will cause the removal of both President Perry and Secretary White from Albia, where they have lived in the past. The convention also decided upon holding the convention next year and the joint conference with the operators in Des Moines. Ottumwa and Oskaloosa also wanted the convention, but Des Moines won by a close vote. The convention put in the entire day today considering changes in the constitution, principally fixing salaries of officials and special funds.

WANT MINERS ALL IN

The resolutions committee made its final report introducing two resolutions. The first was that the association make an effort to bring the miners of western Iowa, who have grown to extensive proportions, under the state law for the protection of the lives of the miners. The convention decided unanimously to adopt it. The other resolution, which was referred to the convention without recommendation, was that the United Mine Worker should furnish coal to a brickyard or other factory that refuses to recognize union labor. In the discussion it was brought out that the matter could not be definitely fixed without the co-operation of the operators and it was therefore referred to the scale committee with the hope that they may secure such an agreement from the operators. The discussion that was called forth showed clearly that the sentiment of the convention was for the union.

Whisky Cannot Enter Kansas Unless Freight Charges Are Prepaid.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 6.—The Courier-Journal tomorrow will say: Whisky dealers who ship goods to Kansas are faced with a proposition in the shape of an order issued by all railroad lines in that state which will probably have the effect of depressing trade to a considerable extent.

The order requires the prepayment of freight with the guarantee of return if not delivered in ten days, and prohibits the practice of consigning shipments to fictitious individuals or firms.

Kansas is a prohibition state and this order comes at the result of a state law which aims to cut off the source of supply of the "blind tigers" as far as possible. It is believed that the order will have the effect of stopping all shipments of liquor on consignment.

Earnest Southworth and James Rice, prospectors for Bangor landowners, have just had a series of misadventures in the forests beyond Lobate's lake, reports the New York Sun. Their ill luck came to a head when, after being caught in a severe snowstorm, they reached an abandoned camp.

There Rice fell ill with a cold, which developed symptoms of pneumonia. His companion, believing that he would die unless help came at once, set out for the nearest lumber camp, leaving a note from his survey book to tell where he had gone.

Three days later, when Southworth returned with a horse and sled to remove the sick man, he found Rice able to sit up.
