DEADWOOD, S. D., March 8 .- (Special.) -L. R. Ehrich of Colorado Springs, accompanied by a number of the stockholders of the Belt Development company, operating on the "Homestake" vein to the south of Lead, arrived in the city last Thursday and, it is stated, will complete the arrangements already made for developing the ground which the company is now holding on an option. The option on this ground expired on the first of the present month, but the company succeeded in getting an extension on it. Operations in the workings on the ground were suspended for a 180 feet below the apex of the vein, in few days, but were resumed again on last which the ore shows just as good values. Wednesday, and will be continued with a company has already placed a great deal of money in the ground in the shape of development, having sunk upon it a 700-foot three-compartment shaft, from the bottom of which it has driven 2,000 feet of drifts. It is said that under the new arrangement made with the owners of the ground the company will spend more money than it has already put into the ground in the work of exploration, and that it will also put in most exquisite fans in the Empress Euadditional machinery. The assay office is now one of the most important federal offices in the country, for it receives and pays for a great deal of gold bullion during each asked for a fortnightly sixteen-knot servmonth. So far this month it has shipped ice and a formightly twenty-one knot servover $60,000 worth of precious metals to every month. Before the end of the month three large cyanide plants will be adding to the amount passing through it.

Cleanups Are Large.

The Deadwood-Standard company, on the last cleanup of its mill on lohason guich, produced a brick which weighed a little over $6,000. The plant of the company is now running at its full capacity, and it is believed that the next cleanup will be much larger. Plars have been drawn to enlarge the mill to double its present capacity.

The Alder Creek company on the first of the month sent down a $5,000 brick, the result of a cleanup of its fifty-ton mill after a fifteen-day run. The Alder Creek company adjoins Wasp 2 on Yellow creek, and phry, and an excellent cyaniding proposicreek with an $8,000 brick, the result of its semi-monthly cleanup. The Clover Leaf only Two sent its regular cleanup in from Elk creek, about $5,000. This mine cleans up every week. The Golden Crest made its first regular cleanup after a month of experimental working of its new mill on Strawberry, and the brick weighed about $8,000. This mill has a capacity of but thirty-five tons a day and had not been running full all of the time. an important mining deal was consummated last week in Spruce gulch property by which the Lexington Hill Mining com pany, composed of Colorado and Black Hills people, has acquired title to 320 acres of good mining ground there. The property involved in the deal consists of the Highland Chief group and the Belle Eldridge and Annie groups.

KEYSTONE, S. D., March 8.-(Special.)-The work which has been done on the J. R. mine during the past few months has resulted in again finding the freemilling vein from which so much rich ore was taken by the former owners before they lost it in the country rock several years A shaft was started on the ground forty feet below the point where the old workings ceased, and at a depth of 145 feet a drift was run, which struck the vein at a distance of seventy-five feet. It was still in the same condition as where abandoned in the old workings. It was about forty feet wide, between slate walls, quartz and country rock mixed, but the quartz carried as high values as it did in the old workings. The shaft was continued to a depth of 200 feet, and at that depth the vein came into the shaft, but in a different state respecting the gold, the material encasing it being very refractory. It is a strong vein, and drifting has been done on it for a distance of 200 feet in the hope that at this depth the freemilling ore widened out to four feet. The ore pans well, a long string of gold being obtained in such tests. The ere also carries a large quantity of iron, and this iron carries gold, as assay tests made prove. The company proposes to continue operations on the ground and thoroughly develop the vertical on which the work is being done. The shaft on the Clara Belle is now down 185 feet. The vein at that depth covers the bottom of the shaft. The ore at that depth carries some freem! fling values. but the greater part of the values occur in a refractory state. The ore assays high and will cyanide. The company has made last night.

The Gold Standard Development pany is making arrangements to put a property and operations will be begun witnout delay. A shaft 100 feet deep will be sunk and from that depth drifts will be started ooth ways along the course of MEN WHO LOSE ARE ABLE TO STAND IT the vertical, which shows up on the surface. Some very good assays have been received from ore broken from the croppings, so it is believed that with depth the values will increase.

Chicago parties have taken hold of the Bullion group of mines near this camp and will at once begin operations on it. Bullion has received a great deal of development work in the past, and has one or two large ore bodies considerably developed. One tunnel has been driven into the ground from the Battle Creek side for distance of 340 feet, and from the portal of this tunnel 200 feet, a drift has been storted, which is already twenty-five feet in an ore body, which gives assay returns at $11. At a distance of 100 feet from the crosscut an upraise has been started, running all the way to the surface, and for that distance in ore. There is also on the property another tunnel 350 feet long.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS arrangements to put a hoist on the ground SHARP DECLINE IN STOCKS force of men at work on its Baid Hills Stringent Monetary Conditions and Congested Security Market

Labor Situation One of the Things Which Tends to Make the General Business Outlook More or Less Uncertain,

NEW YORK, March 8 .- (Special.) -- Henry Clews in his weekly Wall street letter says: The stock market has experienced rather sharp declines this week, the result of unsetting rumors, firm rates for money and further forced liquidation. A considerable short interest had been created, and covering on this account served to check the decline at end of the week. While the market was in this sensitive condition no attention was paid to good rairroad earnings or other favorable features, and the knowledge that several syndicates had quietly or other favorable fentures, and the knowledge that several syndicates had quietly liquidated recently at a loss of without profit only served to increase the seling pressure. In present monetary conditions the congested condition of the security market was made very apparent and the knowledge that further important creations of new railroad capital were pending was, of course, unfavorable to values. Many of the financial leaders are absent and until the financial leaders are absent and until their return and the effect of stringency in-their return and the effect of stringency in-cidental to the end of March is passed no real change for the better is anticipated, al-though it may prove that the worst is now being gradually discounted.

Continued liquidation must eventually improve stock market conditions. More disappointment than necessary was per-haps shown at failure of the Aldrich bill. Unquestionably some additional relief would have been afforded by the liberty which it gave the treasury to accept other high-ciass bonds than governments as collateral for government deposits, but cliure to se-cure this assistance is not really a serious for government deposits, but filter to secure this assistance is not really a serious menace to the situation. It will compete continued conservatism on the part of leading bankers, which has its advantages, and may hasten the adoption of a commonsense modern credit currency system. It is furthers the latter object the Addich bill will not have died in vain, and its enemies will have wrought more good than they knew.

Credit Situation Stronger.

The monetary situation probably shows more underneath improvement than the weekly bank statement indicates. In spite of low reserves and big loans the credit situation is probably stronger than a year ago. In the first place, a very large amount or our foreign indebtedness has been cancelled, a considerable portion having been transferred to this side. This notably strengthened our position abroad; for, having demonstrated our financial abilities, Europe is the more willing to respond to our present demands, the course of the exchange market indicating the replacing of American loans abroad. The chief trouble here is that large sums of money are still locked up in underwriting syndicates, not in artifacts.

here is that large sums of money are still locked up in underwriting syndicates, not in ordinary stock speculation. Fortunately most of these syndicates are well backed and the losses arising from their liquidation or expiration have fallen upon those best able to bear them. It seems very likely that further syndicate liquidation will have to be faced, and the securities thus released must find a resting place before the market resumes a really healthy condition; but from the nature of the case such a movement is likely to be gradual and accompanied by frequent fluctuations. One of the most satisfactory features is that the public is not suffering from these or recent declines. Commission houses are generally in exceptionally strong condition, conservative concerns having persistently advised their customers to lighten ineir holdings for months past. In consesistently advised their customers to lighten ineir holdings for months past. In consequence the losses are falling upon wealthy holders, whose earlier profits render them abundantly able to meet present depreciation; in fact, in many cases the losses are not real, but only a fallure to turn paper profits into cash. Nevertheless the financial struction is at confused by overticing in profits into cash. Nevertheless the financial situation is a confused by overdoing in some directions and by unmistakable strength in others that no safe predictions can be made as to the future. Further liquidation, as we said, is inevitable in some quarters, and if business continues good, if the next harvest proves satisfactory, if we escape serious stringency next fall, and if undesirable speculation be held firmly in check, the market may eventually be gradually and safety guided into a stronger position.

NEW YORK, March 8.—President Ban Johnson of the American league and President Charles Comiskey of the Chicago American league club today answered Joseph McGraw's question as to whether Fleider Jones of the Chicago club would be reserved by Chicago at the end of this year or would be allowed to go to the New York club, with which he has signed a contract for 1904 and 1906.

'The agreement reached at the Chicain nati conference, said Mr. Johnson, 'was that all players now with the American league should remain with the American league and all nen with the National should remain there. Some transactions in China staples were made where makers did not hold out for extreme lates. The India trade was not brisk and was chiefly confined to the lower grades of the lighter fabrics. The values were much to high to permit of any freedom in the operations. There was a minor eastern demand for miscellaneous goods, but the purchases were limited. Business in yarns was difficult to arrange. The buyers operated very generally and the spinners showed no anxiety to sell.

There are signs that these demands have been pushed to the breaking point, simply because costs of production have been pushed so high as to seriously curtail, if not destroy, profits and to check new enterprise. Such an attitude on the part of the labor leaders is foolish to the last degree and will prove most unfortunate, not only for capital, but for labor, which in the end will be the chief sufferer from its own excesses. Should present demands be enlarged and pushed to the point or rupture, it may be the chief sufferer from its own excesses. Should present demands be enlarged and pushed to the point of rupture, it may easily start a reaction which, if wisdom and moderation prevalled, could be indefinitely postponed. Those who control large capital and large enterprises view the situation with serious concern. American labor is already securing generous reward, and if costs of production are to be further raised our industrial supremacy, like that of England a few years ago, will receive a blow requiring years of suffering and repentance for recovery. It should not be forgotten that we are anavoidably an important factor in the world's markets, and we cannot withdraw if we would. Great Britain and Germany, our chief rivals, are rapidly adopting all our best methods of organization and equippling their plants with improved machinery; so that, with lower costs for labor and smaller capitalization, they are arready able to outrun us in the foreign markets until we come down to thely cost of production. The latter event must fall with most severity upon American labor, because its present extertionate policy plays right into the hands of foreign labor, enabling Germany and dingland to undersell the American product and secure a foothold from which they will be driven out only through costly sacrifices and struggle. 12607. LONDON, March S.—The stock market last week was absolutely featureless except for Grand Trunks, the January exports of which caused a quick realization by the bulls who had been bearing them for some weeks. This flurry affected the gen.rai trading, which continued dull, though there was still some evidence that the general public was coming into the market. Consols, which rallied last Monday on the dividend declared, dropped when the advance induced holders to sell, and continued depressed during the remainder of the week. Americans were dull, the list generally showing the closing prices to be below those of the previous week. This, moreover, was true of all the departments with few exceptions. The scarcity of money, the extreme cautiousness displayed by outsiders and the depression on Wall street were tributary causes of the unfavorable conditions prevailing here.

BERLIN, March S.—The events in Wall street were tributary causes of the unfavorable conditions prevailing here.

BERLIN, March S.—The events in Wall street received unusual attention on the bourse here last week and caused speculators to show great reserve, which was increased by the rising money rates. The domestic and government bonds lost fractionally and most foreign rentes were weaker. Canadian Pacifics were sold heavily owing to the reaction in New York, the week's drop being 5.37. The influence of Wall street operators, however, was fell here chiefly as a borrower of morey, for which they were offering 5 per cent and above. Much was taken for New York yesterday, but several of the largest Berlin houses having New York connections showed manitest disinclination to place money there now, believing that the ex sting rates of exchange would not continue and that they might have loss upon the withdrawal or the loans. greatest decline has been on the part fat kinds. Half-fat sheep are also a little weak, but still the prices paid have not shown much change.

Feeders have been in very light supply all the week, and the demand has been sufficient to hold the market steady.
