AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Prospects of Street Railway Improvements Please East Siders.

SOME DOUBLE TRACKING EXPECTED

City's Paving Projects Also Affected by Whatever the Company Decides to Do—Other News from Magic City.

Members of the East Side Improvement club are considerably elated over the prospect of some street car improvements. It has been reported to members of the club that the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company contemplates the laying of double tracks on Missouri avenue as soon as the line on Thirteenth street from Dominion street is extended south to Thirteenth and Missouri avenue. Judge Breen, one of the prominent members of the club, said that he recently had a conference with officials of the street railway company and that he inferred from the conversation that the company proposed extending the Walnut Hill line down Thirteenth street and up Missouri avenue to Twenty-fourth and L streets.

"As soon as something is done about the double tracks on Missouri avenue," said Mr. Breen, "the property owners will go ahead and make arrangements for the paving of the street. Of course the street car company will be expected to pave between its tracks. This will naturally reduce the cost of the pavement to the taxpayers a considerable amount."

By the paving of Missouri avenue and of L street from Thirteenth street west to Twenty-fourth street the value of property will be greatly increased, and should a double track line be constructed to relieve the congestion on the Twenty-fourth street line, the eastern portion of the city will doubtless build up rapidly. Petitions for the paving of Missouri avenue and of L street have been in circulation for some time past, but those in charge have been holding back filing the documents until after it is definitely known just what the transportation company proposes doing in the line of improvements.

Transfer Wagons License.

Members of the license committee of the South Omaha city council are being handed complaints almost daily about the number of transfer wagons that are running without licenses. It is asserted that the big barns work half a dozen or more teams on one or two licenses, while those who own and operate only one team are compelled to pay the same license the big firms do. Members of the council say that this matter will be taken up at the committee meeting Monday afternoon and that some action toward making the big transportation companies pay will be taken.

Quickly Arrested.

Harry and Clinton Pickrel were arrested here yesterday by Captain Troutan and Officer Brugeman. The two men broke jail at Nebraska City Friday and struck out for South Omaha. A telephone message beat them and a complete description was sent. Harry Pickrel was found at the Swift plant, but the officers had to chase up to Twenty-sixth and B streets before they found Clinton. An officer from Nebraska City will arrive today to take the prisoners back. Both the Pickrels were fined by the judge in Nebraska City for fighting and were sent to jail for twenty days.

Clamoring for Improvements.

The Southeast Improvement club will ask the city council Monday night for an extension of the water mains south on Fifteenth street from Madison to Polk street and also south on Thirteenth street from Z to Harrison. In addition to the request for water a petition will be put in for electric street lights. A complaint has been made to the club about the sanitary condition of the Albright school and the mayor will be requested to send the sanitary inspector down there to make an examination and report. Members of the club would like to see the schoolhouse connected with the main sanitary sewer, which empties into the Missouri river.

Special Meetings Planned.

Secretary Charles Marsh of the local Young Men's Christian association has planned a series of six special Sunday afternoon meetings for men. These will be held at Masonic hall at 3 p. m. A number of well known speakers have been secured and it is predicted that the hall will be crowded. Three of the lectures to be given will be illustrated. The first of the series will be given this afternoon, when Rev. W. J. Calfee of Council Bluffs will speak. A male quartet will furnish the music at these meetings.

Police Court Appeals.

All of the cases which have been appealed from the police court will be up for hearing in the district court this week. There are but seven or eight cases on the docket, but these will in all probability take up the entire week. Judge Estelle assigned last week to South Omaha originally for the trial of these cases, but other matters pertaining to city business prevented the assistant city attorney from getting ready for them.

Permanent Sidewalks.

There is an increased demand of the city authorities for more permanent sidewalk districts in the city. One of the councilmen stated last evening that in all probability he would introduce a resolution at the next meeting of the council asking that the city attorney be instructed to draft an ordinance incorporating almost all of Q street west of Twenty-seventh street in the permanent sidewalk district of the city. This is being done on account of the many damage cases which have arisen by reason of the poor walks in the vicinity of Thirtieth and Q streets.

Drug Prices Reduced.

D. S. Clark, the leading druggist, has now in stock the largest shipment of fresh swamproot that ever came to South Omaha and can supply all at 40c and 75c; Wine Cardui, just from the sunny south, at 67c; Pinkham's Compound, 69c; plenty of Cascarets at 10c, 20c and 40c; Bromo Quinine, 15c; Bromo Seltzer, 10c, 20c, 40c and 75c; Piso, 20c; Bull's Cough, 20c and 40c; King's, 40c and 75c; Carter's Pills, 15c; all other 25c pills, 20c or less; Dodds', Deans and Pink Pills, 40c. We start the week with 432 bottles of fresh Peruna at 62c; Clark's Lagrippe Cure, 25c, is warranted; Clark's Cough (warranted), 25c and 50c.

We cut the whole line, even if we don't mention each remedy, and the price is good for future purchases.

YOU CAN INTEREST HIM.

Any Man Over Fifty.

You can interest any man over fifty years of age in anything that will make him feel better, because while he may not as yet have any positive organic disease, he no longer feels the buoyancy and vigor of twenty-five nor the freedom from aches and pains he enjoyed in earlier years, and he very naturally examines with interest any proposition looking to the improvement and preservation of his health.

He will notice among other things that the stomach of fifty is a very different one from the stomach he possessed at twenty-five. That greatest care must be exercised as to what is eaten and how much of it, and even with the best of care there will be increasing digestive weakness with advancing years.

A proposition to perfect or improve the digestion and assimilation of food is one which interests not only every man of fifty, but every man, woman and child of any age, because the whole secret of good health, good blood, strong nerves, is to have a stomach which will promptly and thoroughly digest wholesome food, because blood, nerves, brain tissue and every other constituent of the body is entirely the product of digestion, and no medicine or "health" food can possibly create pure blood or restore shaky nerves when a weak stomach is replenishing the daily wear and tear of the body from a mass of fermenting half digested food.

No, the stomach itself wants help, and in no roundabout way, either; it wants direct, unmistakable assistance, such as is given by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

These tablets cure stomach trouble because their use give the stomach a chance to rest and recuperate; one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contains digestive elements sufficient to digest 3,000 grains of ordinary food, such as bread, meats, eggs, etc.

The plan of dieting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new-fangled breakfast foods simply makes matters worse, as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

As Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised or is sold in drug stores or is protected by a trade mark must be a humbug, whereas, as a matter of truth, any druggist who is observant knows that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of indigestion, heartburn, heart trouble, nervous prostration and run-down condition generally than all the patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions for stomach trouble combined.

RAIN STILL SWELLS FLOODS

Southern Rivers Rise Continuously and Threaten Destruction.

LEVEES HOLD OUT IN SPITE OF STRAIN

High Water is Yet to Come, However, and Further Damage is Expected to Country Already Losing Millions.

Weather Bureau Bulletin.

The lower Mississippi condition, as anticipated, is somewhat more serious today. The rise has been more rapid than for some days past and the rain that is now falling, though as yet light, tends to increase the gravity of the situation.

CAIRO, Ill., March 14.—The river has come to a stand with the gauge marking 50.5 feet.

Georgia Lee arrived from the south this morning and reported the low levees as being patrolled by armed watchmen who would not let the boat land, fearing its wash would destroy the levees.

METROPOLIS, Ill., March 14.—It has been raining steadily all afternoon and the Ohio river is rising.

PADUCAH, Ky., March 14.—The river is still rising slowly, with 47.5 on the gauge, and it is feared prevailing rains will prevent the expected fall. Several lumber yards and factories are submerged, as are parts of Armour's plant, the Illinois Central's first street track and nearly all of the marine ways. Two feet more will shut down many of the factories and cover much of the Illinois Central railroad yards.

OWENSBORO, Ky., March 14.—Despite the rain which has been steadily falling since 10 last night, the river is a foot lower, but is expected to begin rising again on Sunday night.

Indiana Levees Break.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 14.—There has been a steady downpour of rain since last night.

The Lutz and Henderson road levees broke today causing an overflow of about 1,000 acres of farm land.

Three Drowned in Home.

GADSEN, Ala., March 14.—Will Ferguson, wife and baby were drowned in the back waters of Hytop creek last night. A heavy fall of rain during the night caused the creek to overflow and Ferguson's house was flooded.

Levee Guards Shoot Man.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 14.—The stage at 6 tonight is 37.3 feet, a stage equal to the maximum of the flood of 1897. The highest point is expected about Wednesday and officials of the weather bureau say they anticipate about 39 feet. All levees in this vicinity are reported to be holding.

It is reported from a point twenty miles north of Memphis on the Arkansas side that a man was shot at by a levee guard last night. The situation in North Memphis, where the lumber region is flooded, is growing worse each hour.

Millions Lost Already.

NATCHEZ, Miss., March 14.—There were a few rays of sunshine today, but they were preceded and followed by light showers. The reports from nearly all sections of this territory are of a more discouraging nature. The river end of Jefferson county, for a distance of thirty miles and extending inland more than nine miles, is covered with water, but despite this the Natchez gauge rose and is now 3.6 feet above the danger line.

Gloomy reports come from the back part of Concordia parish, Louisiana, where the cultivated lands along the Little and Black rivers are being flooded and hundreds of acres of unpicked cotton are submerged.

Sycamore levee can stand about two and a half feet more, but the water is backing in from the river at a heavy rate. It is expected that some of the levees will not be high enough to stand the rise that is coming. Even if the levees should hold, the damage already incurred will amount to many millions of dollars.

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 14.—Reports from all along the line report the levees holding splendidly, and if the rains would only cease and give the new work a chance to harden the danger of crevasses would be reduced to a minimum. Several steamers arrived in port today and last night, loaded to the rail with refugees and cattle.

So far only one fatality has occurred, the victim being a Yazoo river ferryman, who was swept off his flatboat.

Seven Inches of Rain Fall.

NEW ORLEANS, March 14.—Though New Orleans experienced the most terrific rainfall in many years today, the river tonight was at the same stage as in the early morning, reading 15.2 feet, three-tenths under the record of six years ago. All the embankments resisted the strain, however, and no breaks up the river had been reported when darkness fell.

The rainfall here during the last twelve hours amounted to 7.92 inches, of which 5¼ inches fell between noon and 2 o'clock. The drainage machinery was simply overwhelmed and many streets were flooded, the lower floors of stores, in many instances, being under water. It is raining tonight.

WASHOUTS ON BURLINGTON

Small Bridges in Iowa and Nebraska Damaged by High Water.

Friday the Burlington main lines caught their share of damage by high water. On the line to Chicago a severe washout was reported over in Iowa early in the morning, and all Chicago-Omaha traffic was delayed twelve hours while the damage to the bridge was repaired.

The line between Omaha and Lincoln was also impaired by the washout of a small bridge between Gretna and Ashland. It was some hours before the damage was temporarily repaired, and trains were sent by way of Plattsmouth and Oreapolis to meet the main line at Ashland.

The Rock Island was greatly inconvenienced by the washout, as it made its trains later than ever. Since it has been using the Burlington tracks the trouble and delay of diverting the trains at Lincoln has been considerable, and a new track is being laid by the road, so as to transfer with the Elkhorn tracks there. This will give the Rock Island a means of running out on the Burlington tracks without backing out of the station at Lincoln and doing a great deal of switching in the Lincoln yards.

Meanwhile, two more bents have been replaced in the Rock Island bridge over the Platte at South Bend, and it may be possible for the Rock Island trains to send from the west to use their own tracks by today.

High water at Grand Island Friday caused a delay of two hours in all of the Burlington trains. The bridge was endangered by the water, and steps were taken at once to strengthen the weakened portions.

JUDGE RESTRAINS BOYCOTT

Issues Injunction in Favor of Waterbury Street Railway Against Striking Employes.

WATERBURY, Conn., March 14.—Judge Elmer in the superior court today granted a temporary injunction on application of the Connecticut Lighting and Railway company to restrain the Trolleymen's union, in Waterbury, from interfering in any way with the business of the company or its employes and from making use of the boycott to injure the business of the company.

The injunction is of a sweeping nature, covering all methods of interference with the operation of cars, intimidation of railroad employes, the picketing and patrolling of the company's property, the formation of combinations to injure the company's business, loitering by strikers on street corners, and any and all combined or individual efforts to bring a boycott into play.

The complaint is directed to W. R. Gilbert, sheriff of El Paso county; General John Chase, Colonel James H. LAUDS CHICAGO UNIVERSITY

CONTRASTS INSTITUTION WITH PARIS

Claims His Alma Mater Has as Many Centuries Behind It as Illinois Has Years, but is Youthful Still.

CHICAGO, March 14.—I. I. Jusserand, the French ambassador, was the guest of honor at the banquet of the University of Chicago at the Auditorium tonight. The occasion was made a reunion of the alumni of the institution, more than 600 guests being present. The banquet proper was preceded by a reception at the Fine Arts building, which adjoins the Auditorium.

M. Jusserand's address was entitled, "A Message from France."

The ambassador said Chicago could certainly be called young, and continuing, said:

Much more youthful is your university. It has all the qualities of youth. Vigorous, plucky, optimistic, ample in its plans and prospects, it does not quarrel with the present and yet trusts in the future.

In no country have your efforts been watched with more sympathy and attention than in mine, and no wonder—we are an ancient, but not a cold nation. I am a graduate of the University of Paris. It is a fact that the sister of yours numbers as many centuries as yours numbers years, but the spirit of youth has not left us. We have toiled and learned, but we have not aged, being pleased to number our years by their springs and not their winters. The same longing for truth, sympathy for those who work, desire to help humanity, to improve knowledge and methods of knowledge, animate us as in those days when the University of Paris was nearly alone, and was, indeed, foremost in Europe—when it drew from abroad for its students, saints, kings and popes, and, better than all, that dreamer, then unknown, who was to go and visit Inferno and come back to tell the world.

If we have a past different from yours we have, we trust, in common with you, an important thing which places us in close contact. That is a long future.

Such close contact cannot fail to be highly beneficial to both. Your doings, your energy, this strenuous life of yours, so well described by the respected chief of your nation, is worthy of admiration, and many among us have come on purpose to watch its developments and observe your methods.

There is only one great country with which France has never been at war; that is the United States. There is only one country with which the United States concluded an alliance, and that is France. This is my statement of facts. Here is my wish: May the friendship and brotherhood that has ever existed between us in the past ever exist between us in the future.
