carpenters employed by the district to proceed at once and lay a two-plank sidewalk around the proposed High school grounds at Twenty-third and K streets. This action has caused more comment than the painting bills or the allowing of coal bills. Property owners residing in the eastern portion of the city are indignant and a petition is now being circulated asking the board to reconsider its motion and direct that a permanent walk be laid.

The proposed high school grounds occupy half a block, extending from J to K streets. with frontage on Twenty-third street. As the sidewalk on the J and K street ends of the block has been in bad shape for some time Laverty, Bock and Lott proposed that a two-plank walk be laid.

"If a walk of this kind is laid," said a taxpayer residing in the vicinity, "it will be torn up by indignant citizens. More than this, if the petition for a permanent walk is not considered by the board at its next meeting the city council will be requested to pass an ordinance directing that permanent walks be laid on J street from Twenty-third to Twenty-fourth street, on C street from Thirty-second to Twentyfourth street, and on Twenty-third street from J to K streets. Should the Board of Education ignore this ordinance the city will lay the walks and deduct the cost from the revenue of the board which is derived from liquor lincenses."

President Miller of the Board of Education said last night that he had heard complaints and protests against the Laverty walk and had requested the carpenters to hold off until the next board meeting. Mayor Signs Ordinances.

A Preventive of Pneumonia.

Owing to the prevalence of colds and grip there have been many cases of pneumonia during the past winter. It has been observed, however, that the colds and grip never result in pneumonia when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. Among the tens of thousands who used that remedy during the prevalence of grip in the past ten years not one case has been reported that resulted in pneumonia or that did not recover, which shows that remedy to be a certain preventive of pneumonia and unequalled as a sure cure for colds and grip.

C. H. Wetherford, living at 1016 North Tenth street, was stabbed in the left breast last night in Keating's seloon, Sixteenth and Davenport, and Jim Brughton of 1303 California street, is charged with doing the stabbing. Wetherford himself is charged with assault. George Schiller, living at Twenty-first and Burdette streets, and Russell Fair of 313 North Fourteenth street, were also arrested, and the police are looking for Patrick Lynch and Harry Shelley. Wetherford, Schiller, Lynch and Shelley were at Mickey Mullen's saloon and theater early in the evening and are reported to have said they were going to clean out Keating's place. At any rate, they entered Keating's and Weatherford, who had an unloaded revolver, is said to have begun a quarrel with Brughton and to have struck him on the head with the weapon. The two clinched and Wetherford received the wound which extended in an upward direction for over three inches, the knife cutting through a heavy pair of suspenders and a coat. After the stabbing Brughton and Fair went out, the former being later arrested in his bed. Wetherford was examined by Surgeon Joungbluth at the police station. While the officers were searching for Fair he was run into by a street car at Sixteenth and Davenport and dragged in the mud. He was not injured.

DEBATE POWER ORDINANCE

Engineer Rosewater and Councilman Hascall Talk to Southwest Improvers.

OPPOSITION OF THOMSON-HOUSTON FOLKS

Members of City Council Said to Be Controlled by the Local Electric Lighting Company and Willing to Do Its Bidding.

At the meeting of the Southwest Improvement club at Twenty-fourth and Leavenworth streets Wedneslay evening City Engineer Rosewater and Councilman Hascall Bacussed the Rosewater franchise ordinance with a great deal of fervor.

Mr. Rosewater spoke first, thanking the club for its unsolicited approval of the ordinance and its action recommending that he ordinance be put before the people to vote upon. He then launched upon the terms of the ordinance and showed wherein the granting of the ordinance would be a material benefit to Omaha as a city and to the manufacturers and electric current users. He explained in detail the character of the ordinance, the decreased cost of electrical power from 50 to 75 per cent less than that obtaining now, the royalty of 1 per cent to be paid the city for the first five years, 2 per cent the following five years, and 2 per cent for the year following; the bid for the city lighting of more than 30 per cent less than the present cost, the accepting of which is op tional with the city, and also the fact that not one cent was required of the city in

He then told how he had treated with Thomson-Houston people for the handling of the project before he had 'ntroduced the ordinance and declared that

Mr. Rosewater said he would say nothing about Councilman Hoye, as he was not present to speak for himself, but that Mr. Hoye had declared after the Mrs. James Austin, who has been ill for but that Mr. Hoye had declared after the meeting of the council, which was attended by representative taxpayers of Omeha, that by representative taxpayers of Omaha, that he was not with Hascall any a but had again veered about.

Basis of a Petition.

How the Thomson - Houston people, through a bit of juggling, had managed to obtain nominal support from the Real Estate exchange, the Commercial club and the Central Labor union without the consent of a majority of their members, was explained by Mr. Rosewater. Through the employment of some twenty men, hired for the purpose, they had even presented a fifth and F streets after several weeks petition to the council asking that the open door amendment be put to a vote of This amendment contained people. fifty names more than that Mr. Rosewater had presented to that body, but few of the names were those of taxpayers or of people of prominence and known business stand-

Mr. Rosewater declared that what he desired was that the original ordinance be placed before the people and that they be allowed to decide for themselves whether they desired this or not. The council, he declared, has no right to say to the people that this was not good for them without listening to their desires. It was the right of the Omaha laborer and taxpayer to say whether they desired to give other electric power companies the right to operate in Omaha or not. They had asked that it be put to their vote and it should be. No other company was hindered from coming into Omaha later by this ordinance and he wanted the people to say whether his project should be given an opportunity or

Councilman Hascall denied the statenents made against the integrity of the ouncil in general, although he declined to take any stand in the charges that were made against Mr. Mount and absolutely ignored what had been said about Mr. Whitehorn's connection with the Thomson-Houston company. The open door ordinance, he said, was that which he favored, as it gave no one any privileges over any other party and all were free to come into the city under the same terms. Mr. Rosewater at this point rose to deny that his ordinance as drawn up would deter others from bringing power in'o the city under like conditions as would be Councilman Hascall then continued in a general way and in the course of his remarks touched upon the "old, false theory that the sun is a ball of fire." "It is more han probable," he said, "that people live here and what some people take for fire is merely the succession of electrical sparks flashing over the sun." He neglected to state whether these were the products of the Thomson-Houston company or of a wer canal.

"No heat comes from the sun," he declared. "The electrical flashes cause light, which comes to us, and as the rays of light cass through the air there is friction, and that causes the heat which we have heard omes from the sun. On damp days the friction is greater, and, therefore, the day

The committees appointed by the club reported that some new crosswalks were being placed on Mason street and that it was reported at the city engineer's office that work on sidewalks and crossings is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. The electric light company is placing poles along Poppleton avenue and four arc lights will be put in on Twenty-fourth street north of the viaduct.

It was also reported that the school board has rescinded its action taken previously in regard to the changing of the grade on Twenty-fourth in the vicinity of Mason and that action will be taken at the next meeting that undoubtedly will be of benefit in this direction.

As the president of the club was not present and the secretary was sick, Ab Wagner seted as chairman and E. F. Feenan as secretary.

OHIO MOB SEEKS REVENGE Threatens to Lynch Man Accused of Assaulting School Teacher.

CLEVELAND, O., March 18.-James Beran of North Royalton, O., was brought here and lodged in the county jail today as the result of a strong sentiment among the people of that village to lynch him. Beran is charged with having assaulted Miss Gertrude Moncy, a school teacher at North Royalton, Monday evening while on her way home from school. Intense excitement was caused by the crime and the entire male population turned out to hunt down the girl's assailant.

He was finally found and locked up last night. A crowd of citizens gathered and became so threatening that the officers finally took Beran out through a rear door and hurried him to the county jail in this city. Miss Money is said to be in a serious
