Seligmans Head International Syndicate to Pay Venezuelan Debts.

WISH AMERICAN AGENT IN CARACAS

German and British Banking Houses Join Scheme Which May Lend to $50,000,000 Entering Republic's Coffers.

WASHINGTON, March 19.-The interational syndicate headed by the Seligmans has renewed, on a larger scale than t its first venture, the offer to assume Venezuela's debts to the powers.

I. N. Seligman has been in Washington two days. With him is Herr Salomonsohn, representing the discount gesleschaft, or discount bank, of Berlin, which is the largest individual creditor of Venezuela. Mr. Seligman also has made arrangements with Speyer & Co. of London to assist in floating the bonds.

It is understood that no demand is now made for a guarantee by the United States that the investors shall recover their money when the loan becomes due. The president is not asked to make any specific promise as during the first overtures, but the syndicate wants some visible exhibition of the interest of the United States in this matter and wants an American to be appointed an agent and stationed in Caracas to manage the redemption of the loan, and, if necessary, to collect a certain proportion of the customs receipts.

It is believed this proposition is attractive to both England and Germany. Secretary Hay being absent, it cannot be said that the proposition has been fairly laid before this government, but it has been broached in a suggestion and Mr. Seligman left Washington today expecting to return in sbout two weeks, when he may put the proposition in concise form.

Mr. Bowen does not favor the proposition and as his powers are unlimited in Washington, it is apparent that it can come to nothing unless the principals find some way to induce President Castro to act in person. Mr. Bowen made this pretty clear today to Mr. Seligman when the latter called

The success of the undertaking might mean the advancement to Venezuela by the syndicate of probably more than $50,000,000. In diplomatic circles here it is believed that Baron von Sternberg will shortly be decorated by the German emperor in consideration of his services in connection with the recent Venezuelan negotiations and that his elevation to the rank of ambassador will be announced before long.

organization, selected temporary officers, arranged for future meetings and pledged a fund sufficient to carry on a fight against the Western Miners' association for a long period, if necessary. State Senator Voorbees acted as chairman, Edward Benjamin as secretary and J. F. Parsons as treasurer. Chairman Voorhees, on taking the chair, referred to the recent action of the Western Miners' association at Keswick and the present troubles which exist at Haden Home.

Pledges of contributions to combat the employes, amounting to more than $300,-000, were made. This does not include assurance of finan-isk so much. Chancelior von Buelow replied:

Chancellor von Buelow replied:

The Venezuelan matter from the first was neither a question of territorial acquisition nor of giory for us, but to a settlement through extraordinary means of business which had been complicated by the dabtor's untrustworthness, whereby, of course, the maintenance of our honor played a part.

We were able to establish our claim only through common action with England and italy, it was not merely a question of arranging the matter in hand, but of giving a warning which would serve for the future. The mere money standpoint must not control in such cases.

Breaches of the Law.

Brenches of the Law. We dare not submit to breaches of the law. Otherwise we would not need sh'ps or cannons. The Venezuelan case was exceptional. We shall not always dispose of such matters through force, but our action will depend upon special circumstances. Proof that force was necessary here is seen from the fact that the English government also resorted to forcible measures, whereas it is a weil known principle of England's commercial policy that everybody investing private capital abroad does so upon his own risk.

body investing private capital abroad does so upon his own risk.

We found ourselves in a dilemma, but nobody can reproach us with acting without sobriety and calmness. We nad to take care that our relations with other powers should not be disturbed through this relatively subordinate matter.

There was no lack of attempts to create such a disturbance. I here refer, of course, to no government, but the press, which attempted to engender ill will between the governments at London. Berlin and Rome on one side and the United States on the other. The most ungrounded and silliest rumors troops, make conquests or violate the in-tegrity of the South American republics. Scores American Newspaper.

In such lying legends one American newspaper was especially great. It in-vented an official or its own in the Foreign office, who informed the paper that we wanted to swallow Venezuela first, then Colombia and finally Brazil. This statement of the chancellor called forth loud laughter. He continued These perfidious attempts to sow discord were frustrated through the lovaity of the cabinets and the confidence in the honesty of our policy. These antistic and malcious stories, to our ratisfaction, failed of their intended effect. Our relations with England and the United States remained intact and our demands against Venezu la are to be regarded as accepted, according to the protocol settling the controversy. First Installment Paid.

Von Buelow then summarized the terms of the protocol, mentioning that Venezuela had already paid the first installment of the German indemnity and said:

the German indemnity and said:

The claims of the second class have not yet been subjected to investigation. The Venezuelan government is ready to co-operate in a joint commission at Caracas in investigating and fixing the amounts of these claims. The third class calms will also be settled.

The cost of the blockade cannot yet be stated, but it is small. We have decided not to make a demand that Venezuela pay an indemnity to cover the costs of the blockade owing to the rather hopeless financial condition of that dominty.

We attained what we wanted and what under the circumstances was attainable. The action against Venezuela was inaugurated without a fanfare of trumpets and with all necessary vigor and was carried to the end without weakness and within expedient bounds. The chancellor then turned to the Drei-

It will be renewed unchanged at the proper time, which proves it is not an accidental or temporary constellation. Its object is the maintenance of the status quo and peace. The Dribund is the most peaceful, the strongest and the most lasting and the most elastic alliance. I took care that the tariff and other political questions should not be mixed up with the renewal of the Dribund. Prof. Hasse of Leipsig university, Pan-

German and national liberal, said: I am not satisfied with this settlement of I am not satisfied with this settlement of the Venezuela affair. A formal expiation has not occurred. The moral effect of our co-operation with other powers and inviting the intermediation of America will be to increase America's reputation, while ours sinks. I attribute to American intervention the hostile attitude of the Venezuelans.

Herr Oertel, agrarian, said: We came out of the Venezuelan affair fairly well. I cannot pass a more favorable opinion. I rejoice over the co-operation with England, for the latter showed an energetic activity from which our statesmen could learn a lesson.

DES MOINES, March 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The outlook for a winning base ball team in this city is exceedingly bright and at a meeting of the directors today everyone expressed the greatest confidence. Nearly all of last season's team are back and their familiarity with each other's work will be a great help toward a winning team. The lineup will be: Catchers, Marshail and Fohl; pitchers, Leitner, Morrison, Feney, Barry and one or two others whose names have not been divulged; first baseman, Towne; second baseman, Quinn; third baseman, Van Dine or Durkee; shortstop, O'Leary; left field, Backof; center field, Clark; right field, Hoffer, Word was received today from Secretary Farrel of the National association that Van Dine has signed the reserve list with Sedalla, in the Missouri Valley league. If he is lost the blow will be keenly feit, as he has been depended upon to acceptably fill this position. Leitner, who is deaf and dumb is from Pennsylvania, and comes extremely well recommended. COURT DECIDES A FRATERNAL CASE

Wife Cannot Collect Policy on Huaband's Life Because Under By-Laws He Was Suspended Before Beath.

ST. LOUIS, March 19 .- in the United States circuit court of appeals an opinion was handed down by Judge Thayer in the case of the Supreme Council Royal Arcanum against Anna J. Taylor, which is remanded with instructions that the plaintiff is not entitled to recover. The decision will be of interest to fraternal organizations and members who are insured against death in these organizations. Anna J. Taylor is the widow of George F. Taylor, a member of the Royal Arcanum, Arapahoe lodge, of Denver. He was in-sured for $3,000 in 1891, and died in November, 1900. Payment of the insurance certificate was contested on the ground that he had not paid the monthly assessment of October, 1900, due on the last day of that cording to the bylaws.

The collector failed to pay Taylor's assessment for October, as he had been 'n the habit of doing when overdue and when it was tendered three days later, just before Taylor's death, it was refused on the ground that under the bylaws Taylor was under suspension. Mrs. Taylor recovered judgment against the supreme council, which appealed.

Judge Thayer writing the opinion, says the question at issue is to determine whether the supreme council was cognizant of the practice of the collector in accepting the assessment of Taylor after he was de linquent, and whether it ratified such practice by accepting the delinquent's assersment in violation of its bylaws. He finds nothing in the evidence to warrant this assumption, and orders the case remanded, with instructions to the trial court to instruct the jury that the plaintiff is not entitled to recover. ANIMALS BURN IN A BARN
