Regarding the boycott the commission

The trouble was regarded as altogether too great. "Our meetings at Hebron, Nelson and Superior were in each instance held in the parlors of the First National banks and with fifteen or twenty of their leading cit-izens and business men present. "In the meeting at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Superior I had State Senator George L. Day present. When the case had been fully gone into it was considered on all hands that the railroads ought to pay more city and village tax, that the law asked would be a good thing for Superior as well as Omaha. Senator Day was afraid, however, that local assessors could not however, that local assessors could not find out the value or how to assess local railroad property, and that country members could never have it made plain to them that they would in no way be affected by the operation of the law. These arguments are rather worn out at the heels and toes, but they are the best in stock at present. 'Superior is interested and the good work will be pushed along. Why shouldn't Su-perior be interested? Here are figures: Nuckolls county has an assessed valuation of $2,183,022. Of this 22.7 per cent is rallroad property. The railroads, however, pay but 19 per cent of the whole tax of the county and but 8.4 per cent of the city or village tax. The total city tax of Superior is $6,782.12. Of this the three lines of railway pay 6.3 per cent, or $425.54.

"Senator Day, as well everyone present, agreed at once that the railroads owned as large a percentage, or a larger percentage, of the value in Superior as they owned in the county. If this is true, the rallroads of Superior ought to have paid $1 .-541.54 instead of $425.54. This is not quite all the grievance Superior has. For two years one of the railroads has not paid and will not pay by 33 1-5 per cent as much school tax as other property has had to pay. "The people want things brought out into the open. One can't help being struck on a trip of this kind with the bright, wideawake citizenship of Nebraska and its

Wants the Water Analyzed.

OMAHA, March 21, 1903 .- To the Editor of OMAHA, March 21, 1903.—To the Editor of The Bes: It is with no little interest that I have just read in the papers of this city the defense put up by Dr. Raiph, chairman of our Board of Heaith, for the liquid mud which the Omaha Water company has been forcing down our throats the past week. His "defense" is so palpably weak and an-tagonistic to the interests of those who are paying him that Dr. Raiph must consider the people of Omaha a very "easy mark" indeed.

It matters not whether Dr. Ralph has or has not said anything derogatory to the quality of the water which the citizens are having served up to them. As the one em-ployed by the city to look after its inter-ests, it is his simple duty to have a thor-ough analysis of the water made whenever the citizens wish it; in fact, be should be the first to see any occasion for it, such as so plainly exists at present, and to take prompt action in the matter. The water works doctor says that there has been no analysis made of the water and that there will be none, as "he does not know of any necessity for it." In the opinion of the writer, he scens very much afraid that he might find cause to complain of the unfiness of the water being fur-nished at present for general use, should an analygis of it be made.
