Bluffs, and George Ward of Walnut. Otto Kahler was arrested yesterday on an information filed in Justice Carson's court, charging him with the embezziement of 155 from David McKnight. It is alleged that McKnight, who was drinking heavily at the Red Light saloon on Broadway, Tuesday night, entrusted the 150 to Kahler for safe-keeping and that Kahler appropriated the money. McKnight was taken in charge by the police. Kahler gave ball and will have a hearing Saturday. The winter term of the Western law first and Trojan was suspicious on account of the glances the men gave him when they left the place. He said he feared they intended to rob him and he pulled his knife and tucked it up the sleeve of his coat. He said that no sooner had he left the saloon than one of the two men jumped at him and struck him a blow on the head. He drew his knife in self defense and slashed his assailant on the arm. Then the second fellow made for him and Trojan struck him in the chest with the knife. Scagge and Brown ran into a nearby saloon where their wounds were dressed by Dr. Rice and were later removed to the Woman's Christian Association hospital. Their wounds, however, were not dangerous and they were both able to leave the custody and placed in the city jall. The police are inclined to believe Trojan's ver-on of the affray. Trojan filed an information before Justice Carson, charging Scaggs and Brown with assaulting him with intent to rob him. A charge of fis-ault with intent to do great bodBy injury was placed against Trojan at the city jall. Brown succeeded in furnishing ball, but Scagge was unable to do so and was committed to the county jall. They will have their preliminary hearing Friday morning before Justice Car-

Hughes Returns to Old Haunts.

Zeph Hughes, who escaped from the State hospital for dipsomaniacs at Mount Pleasant three days ago, arrived in Councli Bluffs Tuesday night and about midnight walked into the police station, where he was at once placed under arrest. He will be taken back to Mount Pleasant today by the sheriff. Yesterday Hughes was permitted, in custody of a deputy sheriff, o visit his family. While making no complaint of the treatment he received at the hospital, he says that he might remain there for five years and yet not be cured of the liquor habit. He was committed to Mount Pleasant about a month ago by Judge Thornell for one year.

Interest in Revivals.

The revival meetings at the Second Pres-Newman Hall Burdick and William Henry Collisson have created a deep interest in those who have been in-touch with them. The childrens' choir, under Mr. Collisson's leadership, is a prominent feature, there being some forty voices. Last evening Rev. Burdick's sermon was to skeptics. He distinguished between skeptics as those open to conviction, though in doubt, and infidels, as those who had closed the argument in the negative. He closed by saying if any man would do God's will honestly and conscientiously his skepticism would vanish. Large audiences continue to attend these meetings.

the old building at Ames which was burned. An Assessment Question.

The state executive council is up against an interesting proposition in connection with the assessment of railroad property. The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad reports that in the last year it has expended upward of $275,000 in permanent improvements in Sloux City, all of which is used as railroad property and for railroad purposes. This is in the purchase of land for yards and new buildings for shops. As the Omaha rord runs into Sloux City over the Northwestern tracks from one side and over the Dubuque & Sloux City tracks from the other, the company has less than one mile of actual main byterian church conducted by Evangelists line trackage in Sloux City. The course pursued heretofore has been to distribute the increased value along the entire line of the road in Iowa. This would give an addttional assessment to the entire fifty-seven miles of the line in Iows and add very little to the taxable value of the property in the council heretofore. Made Illegal Exemption.

The state officials have learned of a peculiar transaction by the board of supervisors of Linn county. The returns on taxation from that county showed that instead of collecting taxes on the full amount of the assessed vale of the telephone property as made out by the state executive council, the same had been reduced by about onethird. Inquiry was made and the county auditor reported that the Linn county board had exempted the farmers' telephone companies. The state executive council had assessed them, but the county authorities refused to collect the state taxes thereon. This was entirely without authority, as there is no provision for the exemption of any class of telephone lines. though the farmers' lines are assessed very low
