ROOSEVELT SPENDS DAY AT SIOUX FALLS

Takes Needed Rest Though Acknowledging Crowd's Eager Ovation.

LAYS DOWN NEW RULE FOR SP. AKING

Will Not Begin After 5:30 and Always Retire at 10 o'clock Until His Tour is Ended in June.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., April 5.—President Roosevelt is the guest of Sioux Falls and will remain on until 9:10 tomorrow morning.

His special train arrived here about 8:30 this morning, when he was met by a delegation headed by Mayor G. W. Burdick, State Senator A. H. Stiles and Senator Kittredge.

The president was escorted to the Cathedral house by detachments of the two militia companies here and enjoyed a day of comparative rest, the first since the trip began.

He attended church both in the morning and evening and in the afternoon went for a horseback ride, accompanied by Seth Bullock, superintendent of the Black Hills forest reserve.

The fact that President Roosevelt attended divine service twice today was due to a mistake on the part of the local committee. The committee had the impression that the president was a member of the German Lutheran church and accordingly arranged to have him attend that church this morning. Later, when it was learned that he worshipped at the Dutch Reformed church, arrangements were made to have services held in the evening at the Livingstone Reformed church here. While it is not the custom of the president to attend services on Sunday evening, he consented to make an exception today when the facts were presented to him.

The services this morning were conducted by Rev. Herman Sell, president of the German-English church at Welton, Ia., who came here for the purpose. The German language was used throughout. Owing to the fact that both in Milwaukee and Minneapolis the length of the program did not permit the president to reach his car until after midnight, he has been obliged to announce that hereafter he will, in the evening, not begin speaking later than 8:30, and always will be back in his car by 10. He will adhere strictly to this rule.

A pickpocket tried to work his game in the crowd gathered in front of the Lutheran church this morning. Just as the president was about to enter the church, a man who gave his name as G. W. Earl abstracted $25 from the pocket of A. Dockstadter, a resident of this city. He was detected in the act, but before he could be seized he handed the money to a confederate, who disappeared. Earl was arrested.

Dynamite Will Boom Welcome.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—In the Yosemite valley President Roosevelt will be given a salute by a battery of dynamite cartridges. The walls of the valley are 3,000 feet sheer, and the report of a toy pistol within them reverberates like a series of volleys by heavy artillery. The explosion of dynamite cartridges is expected to produce extraordinary results. An enormous bonfire will be built on the overhanging rock of Glacier point. The great mass of fire will be the crown of a series of projecting rocks to the bottom of the valley, 5,000 feet below.

DIVORCEE SHOTS HERSELF

Takes Room in Fashionable Jersey Hotel, Where She Commits Suicide.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Mrs. Louisa Ames Vanweik shot and killed herself in the hotel Washington in Jersey City today. She was 37 years old, a blonde and good looking.

She arrived in Jersey City on Friday over the Pennsylvania railroad. She seemed in good spirits and was well supplied with money, and numerous packages arrived at the desk for her from New York. She was last seen alive Saturday evening by one of the maids of the hotel.

Edward Chase, son of the proprietor today noticed water coming through the ceiling from an upstairs room. He forced his way into Mrs. Vanweik's room and found the faucet open and the water overflowing. Mrs. Vanweik was sitting in a rocking chair facing a mirror, stone dead.

Mrs. Vanweik was wearing a dressing gown, which was open at the throat. Apparently while sitting in front of the mirror she had placed a revolver against her breast over the heart and outside her undergarment and fired. The revolver contained four loaded and one empty shell was found beside her.

Several bundles of letters were found addressed to Mrs. L. E. Wolfbauer, care of Mrs. Pease, 1250 McCullough street, Baltimore, and to Mrs. Edward W. Wolfbauer, 1117 Fifteenth street, Northwest, Washington, D. C. All these were signed by Edward W. Wolfbauer and addressed the recipient as wife. The most recent was in 1901 and most of the letters were written from various places in Cuba.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Mrs. Vanweik was divorced from her first husband, and about three years ago married Edward Wolfbauer, a New Yorker. It is said she recently took up her residence in Dakota with a view of obtaining a divorce from him also.

NEW YORK, April 5.—H. Herbert Noyes and H. Ross Skinner from Johannesburg, commissioners appointed by the British government to investigate Chinese labor with a view to its employment in the Transvaal mines arrived today on Umbrin. They are on their way to San Francisco where they will inquire into the methods of working and value of Chinese labor as employed in California.

Owing to the insufficiency of native labor in the Transvaal the immigration of Asiatic labor under government control, which would provide for the indenturing and repatriation of the laborers, is favored by the authorities there.

PATH TO VATICAN IS THORNY

However King Edward Guards Visit to Pope Etiquette May Be Outraged.

ROME, April 5.—The chief topic of discussion at the Vatican continues to be whether King Edward will visit the pope.

The ceremonial proposed at the king should start from the British embassy, in which the king would be accompanied by the British ambassador, and would arrive at the house, when King Edward having left it had become again an embassy accredited to the king of Italy.

It is, therefore, suggested that King Edward on leaving the Vatican should return to the British embassy, followed closely by Cardinal Rampolla, who would arrive while the king was still there. The objection to this course is that it would create a precedent. The Nuncio at Lisbon has been charged to sound King Edward on the subject.

BIG STAKE ON SMALL FIGHT

Ohio Majoralty Candidates Seek Highest Honors in State and Country.

TWO WOULD BE PRESIDENT NEXT YEAR. Others Hope to Run for Governor, While Hanna Sees Indications of His Coming Senatorial Battle in the Fall.

CINCINNATI, O., April 5.—The local race throughout Ohio tomorrow are of importance, than heretofore, owing to the new municipal code which will be every municipality. There will be no office holding over and for this reason the party advantages secured will be greater than heretofore.

With more at stake than previously the party organizations have been unusually active and there are many charges of fraudulent registration. One hundred warrants were prepared for service tomorrow. It is charged that over 1,000 false registrations have been made in a single ward. The present registration has broken all April records.

The mayors of all the larger places like Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Sandusky, Zanesville and other cities are running for re-election and Jones of Toledo for the fourth time. Ingalls in Cincinnati and Johnson in Cleveland are credited with being candidates this year for the democratic nomination for governor and next year for the presidency.

The election this year is also closely watched on account of its bearing on the candidacy of Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland for the republican nomination for governor and on the re-election of Senator Hanna. The legislature to be elected next November elects Hanna's successor and the control of the municipalities is considered of importance in the coming state election. Senator Hanna while taking an interest in the contest in his own city has been as far as Dayton to speak in this campaign. While the result tomorrow is considered as indirectly affecting the coming election of state officers and members of the legislature, it is also conceded that it will have a bearing at Cleveland on both the democratic and the republican nominations for governor and at Cincinnati it may develop the democratic opponent of Senator Hanna as well as affect the next democratic nomination for governor.

ALLEGED CROOKED VOTERS HEARD. CLEVELAND, O., April 5.—Burton Horn and Edwin Parkin, two employees of the Cleveland City railway, who live in Lakewood, were arrested at the investigation of the board of elections today for alleged false registration in the city of Cleveland.

BURGLAR SHOT RED HANDED

Telegraphist Bears Strange Noise and Locates Robber in Store.

PENN YAN, N. Y., April 5.—The series of burglaries which has been stirring the country around Elmira for the past few weeks was cleared up in a tragic manner early this morning.

The night operator at Elmira thought he heard an explosion in the store of Flood & Forbes. He gave an alarm and a crowd of villagers quickly surrounded the place. A man's form was seen in the store, who was commanded to surrender. For reply he boldly opened the door and drawing a revolver, fired point blank at the crowd. The bullet failed to reach its mark and before he could fire again, his body was riddled with bullets. He fell unconscious and died soon after.

The burglar was a man of 35 and weighed 160 pounds. His face was smooth and he had sandy hair. His clothing was of excellent cut and material. A tattoo mark on the left arm, just below the elbow, may help to identify him. In a book in his pocket was the address 237 Edwards street, and the name "Julia Shaffer." A tag on his belt bore the name of Curran & Broders, Watkins, N. Y., and also the name of Frank Hennessey.

LEVEE BREAK QUICKLY FILLED

Bank Gives Way Near New Orleans, Flooding Valuable Plantation.

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—The only new break reported in the river today was at former Governor H. C. Warmoth's magnificent plantation about sixty miles south of the city on the west bank of the river and close to the tracks of the New Orleans, Fort Jackson & Grand Isle railroad.

Part of the nature caved in, carrying with it 100 feet of the levee. The plantation was soon inundated, but repair work was almost at once begun. A train of material was run to the place and ex-Governor Warmoth, former Congressman I. S. Wilkinson and other planters, as well as the La Fourche levee board, mustered an army of men and a crib was built on the land side.

The crib, 300 feet long, was built and filled with sacks of earth by night, checking the flow so that the drainage machine could carry off the water. This was record time for closing a break, but there is a heavy body of water against the crib and the danger is not past.

The river here today was 20.3, a rise of 0.2.

DOESN'T FEAR LEAD TRUST

Local Dealer in Paint Discounts Report that National Company Will Absorb Others.

OMAHA dealers in paint and whitelead look with considerable doubt upon the recent report from New Jersey that the National White Lead company is making arrangements to absorb the other companies engaged in the same business, and to establish branches of but one house at each point now occupied by more than one, and that there will be central distributing points from which orders will be filled, in place of carrying stock in local houses.

"If such a thing is contemplated," said a dealer in this line of goods, "it seems to me to be foredoomed to failure. In the first place there are too many lead mines producing ore steadily and the commodity is entirely too easy to secure. If such a thing were possible the price of National lead company stock would be much higher upon the market than it is today. There is no occasion to fear a lead trust."

NO FORT FOR OUR LEGATION

American Minister at Peking to Have No Stronghold for Headquarters.

NEW TREATY LOOMS UP ON HORIZON

Consideration Shown During Boxer Troubles Believed to Have Been Inspired by Some Wise Chinese Statesman.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, April 5.—(Special.)—The War department, after consultation between the president and Secretary Root just before the president left the city, has decided that it would be unwise to attempt to fortify the American legation in Peking.

General Miles, upon his return from the Philippines, made a very strong recommendation in favor of this project. But the military authorities realized the futility of any means of fortifying the American legation in China in the event of an attack by the Chinese with heavy siege guns. It is very well known that the Chinese have at their command powerful batteries which, if trained upon the foreign quarter of the city, would destroy every legation in short order.

Any attempt to fortify the buildings occupied by the foreign representatives so as to resist a siege would be utterly useless. Should another outbreak occur among the Boxers and other attacks be made upon the foreigners, fortifications and siege guns contained in the small space assigned to the legations would be of no purpose.

The United States has fewer men to guard its legation in Peking than any of the other powers, the total force being only about 150. On the other hand, the American forces in the Philippines are within two days' journey of the Chinese ports, and it is probable that in the event of trouble this country would have in the vicinity of the Chinese capital a force in excess of that which could be so quickly landed by Germany, England, France or Russia.

Quiet preparations for the transport of a large body of American troops to the Philippines have been making for some months past, and in the event of the probable renewal of the anti-foreign uprising of 1900 a very large percentage of the American forces now in Manila will be rushed over to China to protect American interests there.

It is very well understood by the authorities at Washington that someone else in authority in Chinese affairs prevented the use of the heavy guns against the Boxers during the last uprising. It is believed by the same authorities that every possible effort will be made by some of the dowager empress' best advisers to prevent overt acts by the fanatical yellow men, which overt act would undoubtedly lead to a general war.

What China is After. One of the reasons for this desire upon the part of the most advanced Chinese statesmen is the hope entertained by such men as Wu Ting Fang, late Chinese minister to Washington, that the new treaty between the Chinese empire and the United States, soon to be negotiated, will result in certain concessions to China, especially in the matter of more liberal immigration laws.

During the last months of his career here Mr. Ting was convinced that there was a decided disposition upon the part of the Americans coming into close relations with Hawaii and the Philippines to favor letting down the bars to an extent sufficient to relieve the labor situation in those islands.

He was in all probability inspired through notification on the part of China upon the day fixed by its terms. This will be within the next year. It was first ratified in 1859, at a time when the commercial relations between the empire and the republic were very little developed.

But since the open door policy has been declared, the United States has every reason to desire trade concessions at least equal to those enjoyed by Germany, France and Great Britain. Congress has in the past declined to concede to Chinese subjects the same facilities for immigration which the enlightened nations of the world enjoy.

The Chinese desire more liberal laws, so that subjects of the empire will be admitted into American possessions on terms equal to those granted by Great Britain in Canada. At least it is in the hope of obtaining such concessions that the best men of China will use all their diplomacy toward preventing an outbreak which at this time would seriously interfere with their desire to secure a more favorable treaty with this country.

Tariff Revision Talk

It is now quite probable that the proposed extra session of congress will not be called until after the fall election. The principal reason for this change of program on the part of the president is the fear that a September session would result in the precipitation of a tariff changing program just prior to an election.

The demoralization of the president to secure legislation putting the Cuban treaty into effect at the earliest possible moment is just as pronounced now as it was on the last of March, when Mr. Roosevelt originally declared his purpose to convene congress in October. But the protests against the October program have been so pronounced and so widespread that the chief executive has concluded that it would be unwise to open the tariff debate and the possible defeat of the treaty legislation before the end of the year.

The so-called Iowa idea seems to be gaining strength in the west and it will take clear headed generalship on the part of the managers of the house of representatives to prevent attempt at a general revision of the tariff schedules upon the introduction of the Cuban bill into the house.

While the opponents of the Cuban reciprocity treaty seem to have lost a good deal of strength during the last twelve months, there is a confident air among them today and they seem to believe that with the aid of the extreme protectionists, who in fear of general tariff revision may help them, they can perhaps prevent any discussion of the tariff during the next two years.

On the other hand the president's earnestness in the matter of helping Cuba is so marked that the house leaders are already using all their efforts to solidify the majority upon a program which will bring about the enactment of the Cuban bill without general tariff riders.

In the senate, however, a different condition of affairs prevails and many democratic senators have declared their purpose to add a general tariff bill to the Cuban measure at all hazards. It was because of the fear of some such program that some of the foremost sticklers for senatorial precedents during the last days of the extra session of the senate that the rules of that body shall be changed so as to limit debate and prevent the continuance of the one man power.

Party leaders in both houses are already engaged in a quiet party canvass (Continued on Second Page.)
