NORTH DAKOTA
And the rush for its homes is without a parallel in the history of the country, and a few reasons explain it all, viz.: It's the last chance to buy cheap homes east of the Missouri river, where the soil is the most fertile, where the climate is healthful, with the best of pure water, plenty of railroads, towns, schools and churches, good markets, and where lands will double in price in 1903. Can the renter or man with small means afford to overlook this, or can the capitalist fail to see an investment that is better than government bonds. One of the largest land companies in the United States. The Hackney-Boynton Land Co. of St. Paul, Minn.
