VETOES FOR THREE BILLS

Governor Mickey Refuses to Sign the Proposed Exemption Law.

JUVENILE COURT MEETS DISAPPROVAL

naurance Deputy in Auditor's Office Presents Same Figures on Insurance Business Done in the State.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 13 - (Special.) - Governor Mickey today disapproved of three bills and signed two. Those vetoed were the exemption bill, the act for a juvenile court and the bill for a Nebraska-Missouri boundary commission. He signed H. R. 124, authorizing the insurance of live stock, and H. R. 294, to permit mutual insurance companies to do business outside of the state. The governor also corrected a mistake made in the salary bill by the clerks in the out benefit? Are you about enrolling room of the house. The enrolled bill did not contain the appropriation for the three stenographers for the supreme and get well-Use Dr. Kilmer's court judges. The omission was discovered by George Anthes of the state auditor's office. Mr. Aathes called the attention of the office of the attorney general to the fact. The attorney general in the Nebraska report found precedent for an amendment to the act by the state executive. Governor Mickey attached to the bill a statement showing that the engrossed bill contained the appropriation and that the records of both houses showed that it had passed regularly. He then added that he approved also of an appropriation of $1,000 a year each for three stenographers for the supreme court judges, making $6,000 | great natural remedy? for the biennium.

Victory for Unions.

The vetoing of the exemption bill is an for the Omaha labor unions. During the ession the laboring men of Omaha sent delegates here frequently to work against the passage of the bill, but the retail merchants were too strong and the bill finally went to the governor.

In support of his action Governor Mickey filed this statement with the secretary of

In my opinion there is no occasion for a drastic revision of the exemption laws and the placing of this act upon the statutes might result in much annovance and unthe placing of this act upon the statutes might result in much annoyance and unnecessary expense to those against whom it is intended to operate. It is argued that no statutory provisions for the collection of debt can harm the honest deotor, but are only effective against those who seek to evade their just obligations. This is true in the main, and yet it would be possible under the workings of the proposed act to occasion legal proceedings and unnecessary costs against those who made a practice of paying their debts, but who might not be ready to meet the immediate demands of an importunate creditor. It is optional with every business man whether or not hexacted credit. If he does so he assumes a coriain degree of risk, and, beyond the general provisions of law, he cannot expediciselation which in a measure would protect him from his own faulty estimate of the integrity of his patrons. All credits heretofore extended have been granted under the law which exempted the entire wage of the laborer. The proposed law would give the creditor the right to take 20 per cent of the wage which he knew he had no lien upon at the time the credit was extended.

In my judgment there is no occasion for a In my judgment there is no occasion for a nodification of the old law.

Courts to Settle Boundary.

For disapproving H. R. 480 the bill for the appointment of a commission to settle the Missouri-Nebraska boundary, Governor Mickey said:

Mickey said:

There is now pending in the supreme court of the United States an act on brought by the state of Missouri against the state of Nebraska to determine the boundary line between those states. Accordingly it would be unwise at this time, to provide for a commission which would seem to take the case out of the hands of the court. By whom the boundary will be definitely settled for all time, and place it in the hands of parties whose decision at best would be but a recommendation to call for State Warrants.

Juvenile Court Unconstitutional.

The governor held that the juvenile court bill, S. F. 38, is unconstitutional. He said: Senate File No. 38 is "An act to define conditions of child dependency, neglect, cruelty, ill-treatment, and to prescribe methods for the protection, disposition and supervision of dependent, delinquent, neglected, cruelly or ill-treated children, and to provide punishment for violation of this set."

If the bill provided a valid plan for carrying out the beneficent purposes expressed in the title of the act, it certainly merits executive approval; but I am of the opinion that the enactment itself, if approved, would be unconstitutional and void. One important reason which impels me to this onclusion is here given. Section 19, article vi, of the constitution provides: "All laws relating to courts Section 19, article vi, of the constitution provides: "All laws relating to courts shall be general and of uniform operation, and the organization, jurisdiction, powers, proceedings and practice of all courts of the same class or grade, so far as regulated by law and the force and effect of the proceedings, judgments and decrees of such courts, shall be uniform."

Senate File No. 38 violates the constitutional provision quoted. The bill provides that, for the purpose of the act, children

Senate File No. 38 violates the constitutional provision quoted. The bill provides that, for the purpose of the act, children in counties having a population of more than 40,000 shall be examined and subjected to the orders of the district court, while children in counties having a population of less than 40,000 must submit to the jurisdiction of the county court. Under the constitution the jurisdiction of the county courts must be uniform throughout the state. This is also true of the district court. The legislature therefore is powerless to confer jurisdiction of a class of cases in one county on the district court and deprive the district court of another county of that jurisdiction. The provisions of the bill could only be enforced by the courts, and since the provisions relating to the jurisdiction of the courts are unconstitutional, the whole act is void. Accordingly my approval is withheld from this measure.

Figures on Insurance.

department of the state auditor, has received from the printers his publication of a summary of the insurance business done in the state for the year ending December 31, 1902. The report is dated March 20. It shows that the fire insurance companies of the state have written $153,484,489 risks: losses incurred $738,886; premiums received. Three mutual companies have written $10,087,702 risks; have paid $11,670.83 losses; premiums received, $240,032.50.

Mr. Pierce turned over $1,400 to the state reasurer this morning. This amount represents the first payments by insurance companies of the reciprocal taxes collected of companies having headquarters in states where like taxes are imposed on Nebraska companies. The amount to be paid in this year will amount to from $10,000 to $20,000 more than was paid in last year. increase for this year is due largely to a new law enacted by the New York assembly, imposing a 1 per cent tax on all foreign companies. This tax was not imposed last year by Mr. Babcock, the former deputy, because it had not been n force for the whole year. The amounts charged up to some of the larger New York companies by Mr. Pierce, on the account of this reciprocal tax are: New York Life, $3,726; Equitable Life, $1,812; Mutual of New York, $3,613. No specified time is fixed for the payment of these taxes but heretofore the companies have paid them early in the year. The addition of this large sum to the treasury general fund is opportune, since it comes at a time when many legislative warrants have drained the permanent trust funds to the bottom. Total of Claims Bills. Deputy Anthes, of the auditor's office footed up the total of the deficiency claims bills this morning and found that it came to $121,000.
