NEWPORT, R. I., April 14 .- The wedding of Reginald C. Vanderbilt of New York, the youngest son of the late Cornelius C. Vanderbilt, and Miss Cathleen G. Neilsen, also of New York, which occurred at "Arleigh" at noon today, was a brilliant as well as an early beginning of the social season of 1903 at Newport. As the marriage took place in a private villa, it lacked much of the splendor which usually attends a church function. About 150 guests

The ceremony was brief. Its completion was indicated by the Mendelssohn march. A reception followed and an inspection was clared to be probably as costly an array as was ever bestowed on two young people at the advent of their married life. Then came the wedding breakfast.

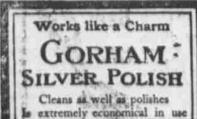

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt left for their new villa at Sandy Point, a few miles up the island, during the afternoon, where they will spend a few days previous to a three months' trip to Europe.

Among those present at the ceremony were: Mrs. Cornelius Vanderblit, Mrs. F. W. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sloane, Mr. and Mrs. H. McK. Twombly, Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burden, George R. Seeks to Recover Face Value of Bonds Presented to Ald State Education Fund, Though Defendant Repudiates Paper.

WASHINGTON, April 14.-The War department has taken cognizance of the reported statements of General Frank D Baldwin, commander of the Department of Colorado, in disparagement of the Filipinos and negroes as soldiers. Secretary Root today directed that a formal inquiry be addressed to General Baldwin asking whether he had been correctly quoted. Pending a reply no action will be taken.

General Baldwin is fresh from the Philippines and has just assumed command of the Department of the Colorado. The alleged remarks were to the effect that he liked the Filipino and negro as a soldier because he was not worried about his safety, as it did not make any difference whether he got killed or not.

State Sues State.

The United States supreme court today heard arguments in the case of South Dakota against North Carolina, involving the legality of bonds issued by the latter in 1866 to aid the construction of the North Carolina railroad. Originally the bonds amounted to $2,500,000, but all but $250,000 of them, which were owned by New York parties, were compromised. Of these $19,000 worth were presented to the educational fund of South Dakota, for the purpose, it is claimed by the legal representatives of North Carolina, of giving the fed eral supreme court original jurisdiction North Carolina contests the suit on the ground that the bonds were not legally issued and also challenges the jurisdiction of the court.

He said in part:

I am here to plead the cause of the white slave of today. He may be partly enslaved by a combination of circumstances taken advantage of by selfish manufacturers although practically every employe is as free as air to go and come at his pleasure and sell his labor where he likes, but the slave of a tyrannous labor union is in truth and in fact, more abject than the negro slave of the past.

There may have been some brutal and tyrannous slaver owners in the south, but I ask you if ever in all the history of negro slavery did there exist such a condition of oppression, of crueity to men, women and children, as now exists under the acts of desperate members of labor unions.

In the gradual solution of the wage question and the establishment of right to both parties, labor unions became a necessity in order to curb the selfshness and injustice of some manufacturers, but such violent and desperate excesses have crept into the operation of labor unions that common safety demands a new union, eliminating the false of the old.

I am decidedly in favor of a union that will help the people keep in work and secure the highest wages the business will stand. This story caused an indignation meeting of the members to be held, at which it is said the board was roundly denounced and the peace and order of the institution was sorely interrupted. President Shanafelt got the boys together in the chapel and gave them a good, fatherly talk and told them the story was groundless and that the board had never thought of such a thing, and said that hereafter any member who should be found guilty of aiding or abetting in the circulation of false rumors about the management of the home would be promptly discharged from the bome. The board then notified the Hill City vet eran that they wanted him to appear forthwith to answer the charges of his circulating false reports, and that if he failed to respond to their call he would be promptly discharged. He failed to come as requested and his name was crased from the roll as "dishonorably discharged," while another who helped circulate the story, but was not a member at the time, was blacklisted and cannot gain admission hereafter.
