CHARITY BALL LEADS THE SCHEDULE

Coming Week Centers Around the Function Planned for the Benefit of the Clarkson Memorial Hospital.

Society certainly lost no time last week in making up in a measure at least something of the pleasures it had foregone during the previous forty days and nights, from Monday until Saturday there was so much going on that, as one young woman expressed it, it made her sick to think that she could be in but one place at a time. The weddings seem to have commenced unusually early this year and their dates are so scattered along through the next two months that one is really afraid to start away early for fear of missing something.

A whole lot of people have moved, or will soon do so, out to their country places for the summer-that is until they get ready to go some place else-and a whole lot more are talking about shutting up their houses for the summer and going to Bepson or Florence or Bellevue or some of the other places near by where they may rusticate and still be near enough to town patrick at luncheon on Wednesday. not to miss anything, until it is time for Overshadowing everything else of the spring, at least so far as is known now, is the charity ball to be given at Metrobenefit of Clarkson Memorial hospital. Society, regardless of creed or clique, bas joined hands to make the affair a success and if the heat efforts of the smart set can bring re uits, then Clarkson hospital ought to have its new wing before long. Of course the tickets are sold only to those who have invitations from some of the patronesses. They are to cost $2.50 a single ticket. The invitations bear the following list of patronesses: Mesdames C. F. Manderson, Barton, E. A. Cudahy, Henry W. Yates, John L. Webster, Harry Cartan, G. W. Smith, Charles T. Kountze, W. S. Poppleton, N. P. Dodge, jr., Luther Kountze, Clement Chase and Frank Haskell will constitute the floor committee. For those who do not care to participate in the dancing, card tables will be arranged down stairs, Mrs. George E. Pritchett being in charge of this branch of the affair. A half dozen handsome prizes have already been donated for the occasion.

The marriage of Miss Grace Ludeke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ludeke, and George A. Greenough was solemnized at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon in the study of the First Methodist church, Rev. E. The rooms were trimmed with greens and pink and white roses, the ceremony being performed in the rear parlor under a canopy of smilax and asparagus fern. Mr. and Mrs. Creedon left Wednesday for Denver and other western points of interest and will be at home after May 1 at Twentyfirst and California streets.

Theobaldi to Play in Omaha.

Ole Theobaldi, the Norwegian violinist, will make his first appearance in Omaha at Washington hall Friday evening, April 24, in a varied program containing many of his own compositions. Theobaldi is a young man who has met with great success, and press comments from the larger cities where he has played have been uniformly warm in their praise. An eastern paper said recently; "His playing was crystalline in tone and winged in execution. His execution of four parts in close harmony, one finger in tremelo and the other three sustaining full, round tones, was remarkable."

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

Not a little discussion has been pro-A son was born last week to Mr. and voked of late by a proposed club for women to be established in Chicago. It is to be of an athletic-social nature and its pronoters recommend among other special attractions a bar and smoking room. A special effort is being made to interest out-oftown women in the enterprise, it being held out that such a club will afford ideal accommodation for non-resident members during their various shopping trips and other visits to Chicago during the year and will be a welcome substitute for a hotel. The promoters seem immensely proud of their enterprise and have emphasized in numerous interviews the novelty and advantage of the bar and smoking room, holding them out as "unique," "new, 'daring" and, most surprising of all, as 'desirable." It is interesting to note the class, of women that the projectors are endeavoring to interest. As, a matter of fact, there is nothing especially "new" in the privileges they offer, though it must be owned that the project is "daring," and it is safe to say that the majority of women who would be attracted to membership in such an organization will not be unfamiliar with such privileges as it affords, but will rather have already acquired a taste for them. It has to be admitted, though, with shame, that smoking and drinking are by no means new or uncommon among some women of the wealthler and leisure class, and Mrs. Gannett were guests of Mrs. Kilthough a majority of them have still the grace to be ashamed of their weakness, but is it difficult to understand how women of refinement or culture can lend their sanction to such brazen flaunting of this sort of thing by giving such an institution the moral or financial support of her mem-

One frequently hears the argument that it is no worse for women to smoke and drink than it is for men. So far as the right and wrong of it is concerned perhaps it is themselves with time to spare. To be sure, eon on Saturday for Mrs. W. A. Wyatt's not, but because a distorted public opinion admits of men debasing themselves in such ways, does it follow that women should imitate them in this any more than in other degrading customs? And that, too so long as the purity and higher moral father-in-law, Mr. C. Jastram, will leave standards of society are so largely in the keeping of woman, even though a "onesided justice" has made her their guar dian, have women no responsibility in maintaining these standards?

> It is scarcely to be believed that an Omaha woman would lend her support, morally or financially, to such an organization as that proposed in Chicago when our own city is making so great an effort for only $160,000 for a Young Women's Christian association building, that must bring inestimable advantages, morally, educationally, financially and in fact in every way, to the 6,000 or 8,000 working women of dependent women that weekly enjoy its privileges even in the present inadequate quarters. When one takes into consideration the amount some of these working women are putting into this local building fund it would seem that other women who have $75 or $100 to invest in any member ship might forego the luxury and advantages of the Chicago institution and turn it to the local enterprise, which could with their assistance be furnished with all the athletic equipment they desire, and other things as well that might be in a large measure exclusive when occasion demanded. and also bring benefits to many other or even the common comforts.

The Omaha Woman's club will celebrate he tenth anniversary of its organization on Friday, April 24, and the members are planning for a celebration of the event that will be in keeping with its importance. The elebration, for want of a better name, will be held in the club rooms and will begin at o'clock with an organ recital in the audiorium, this to last until 2:30 o'clock. Folowing the recital there is to be a program, to which each department will contribute.

Not a little mystery surrounds this feature of the afternoon, for secrecy has been maintained by most of them and it is only known that what is to be done will be limited to a certain number of minutes. Some of the departments will simply be represented by a member in costume. There is also to be a history of the club given by Mrs. S. R. Towne and a prophesy by Mrs. Frank Heller. Following the program will be a social hour. Members will be admitted to the church upon presentation of their club tickets at the main entrance and the charter members will be distinguished by badges to be provided them. It was at first proposed that the club birthday be celebrated with a banquet, but realizing the advantage of a more general acquaintance, the above plan was adopted and the celebration promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs in the history of the club.

The regular meeting of the board of diectors of the Woman's Christian association will be held at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning in the Young Men's Christian association parlor.

The social science department of the Woman's club will meet at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoop instead of the regular time for the annual election of officers, the business meeting to be followed by a social hour, to which a general invitation is extended.

Chicago women have joined forces in an effort to secure better street car service and have begun another crusade against the disgusting habit of promiscuous expectorating. Like other women who have made similar attempts, they soon learned that appeals to the officers of the company were useless and they have now turned their attention to the conductors, with incouraging results, a great improvement being notice able on many of the lines.

While regretting the veto of the juvenile court bills in this state, club women are glad to know of the success of the Colorado a state law or municipal ordinance, who is limit to return not later than September incorrigible, who is growing up in idleness or who frequents places of ill-repute. Compulsory education of children between 8 and 16 is provided, also heavy penalities the community, besides the hundreds of in- for persons who cause or contribute to delinquency in children.

The Federal Equality league is urging the policy of forming at every election a woman's suffrage balancing ticket, composed of the candidates most positively and reliably favorable to woman's suffrage, selected in nearly equal proportions from the tickets of the principal political parties in the field. The balance of power between the parties may be thus affected. The association contends that in no surer way can be brought about the election of woman suffrage than by getting women to take an ored delegate present:

However, I would like to say that I do not fully appreciate the logic of the argument that by allowing me a seat as a delegate at the national council anything in the nature of social equality, which I do not aspire to, would follow. I am going this evening to attend a meeting of colored women who are now engaged in establishing kindergarten work among our people here in the city. We are assisted in this work and in other enterprises for good by such eminent people as Bishop Sissums and Mrs. J. L. Harris. When they are present to help us on one would for a moment consider that social equality was established. Why would not the rule work the other way when a colored woman was seated as a delegate at a meeting of white women seeking to accomplish some noble purpose.
