

HE IS REAL SOURCE OF POWER

Rev. Schable of Oregon Describes God as Wheel Within a Wheel.

MAN IS ONLY A PUPPET, HE SAYS

Supreme Being Is Director of Destiny and Unerringly Guides and Keeps in Motion the Outer Wheel of Life.

Rev. C. E. Schable of Oregon, Ia., preached from the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church Sunday morning, taking for his subject, "The Wheel Within the Wheel." Mrs. Conant, a revivalist singer, sang a solo before the offertory.

"The wheel of human destiny often seems to be turning in the wrong direction and yet there is a power within, the wheel within the wheel, which directs the movement of this wheel of destiny. It is like two cog wheels, the inner one, from which comes the power, moving in the opposite direction from the other.

"We look upon the events of everyday life as governed by a tangible force, but they are, in reality, all prearranged. God has said that it must be and it is. We have five senses and yet we cannot tell what it is to hear, to feel or to see. We know that such sensations are and we say they are caused in such and such a manner, but no one knows why they are.

"It is the power that is unseen that conducts all things. Luther founded a new religion, or rather a new sect, but the founding of this sect was merely an act of God. It is fate, and only belief in God and His works can make us wise in the knowledge of the universe. Man is the puppet that the wheel of destiny keeps in motion and God directs this movement of His fate unerringly through the inner wheel.

IS LIKE ARMATURE OF A MAGNET.

Rev. Jenks So Describes the Church and Its Influence.

Yesterday was communion Sunday at the First Presbyterian church and the pastor, Rev. Edward Hart Jenks, chose for the theme of his sermon the appropriate words: "Draw nigh unto God and God will draw nigh unto you."

"Spiritual life is not based on sentiment, but is based on laws as firm and immutable as the law of nature that requires the sun to best upon the earth and to absorb its moisture and carry it back to the heavens," said the preacher. "Earth cannot resist the power of the sun, but man's soul can and does resist the influences of the divine spirit. To draw near to God we must put our minds and our hearts in a condition whereby he may come to us. There must be some connection between the divine spirit and the human spirit, and the church ordinarily performs that office. Just the same as it is necessary to remove the shadow from the garden spot in order that the sun might reach it and warm the seeds and bulbs into germination and plants so must we remove the shadow of sin from our souls if we are to receive God's help. We cannot lift ourselves from the earth—only God can do that—but we can help by opening the door of our hearts to Him and preparing the way.

"The church and its services and communion may be likened to the armature of a magnet. The armature, stretched from pole to pole keeps in the magnetism and prevents a loss of the electric energy. So the church and its duties and obligations acts as an armature to the great magnet of the divine spirit, once exhausted must be recharged by larger magnets. The empty soul must turn to Christ for recharging. Then such soul must guard and retain what he receives by exercise of the restraining influence of the church."

MUST BE CENTER OF HELPFULNESS.

Rev. Hill Tells One Mission of the Christian Church.

At the First Christian church Sunday morning Rev. Harry Granson Hill preached upon the theme "Helpfulness," his text being Isaiah xlv:7. He said in part: "Helpfulness is strengthening. Help or assistance rendered another may be grudgingly, may be niggardly, but helpfulness is whole-souled. It goes beyond the gift and strengthens the recipient, doing him more good through its spirit than through the gift itself.

"The church today is convicted in the eyes of the world because it does not do its whole duty—is not, in the full sense of the word, being as helpful as it should. I have no complaint to make against the secret societies, nor the mutual associations, but this work belongs to the church and it has permitted its mantle to fall upon other people. The spirit of Christ is not confined to the church today, but it is to be found in other organizations. The people who manage these organizations may not call themselves Christian; nay, they may even deny the theology of the bible, but in their lives they are reflecting the life of Christ and the spirit of helpfulness which he taught.

There will be 125 of these, it is estimated, and seventy-five or more friends from various corners of the universe, making a probable total of 200.

ANDERSON LOOKS TO THE MOTIVE.

Baptist Preacher Goes Deeper than the Deed Itself.

Rev. Thomas Anderson of Calvary Baptist church took for his text yesterday morning John vii and part of the forty-fourth verse: "And some of them would have stoned Him; but— Rev. Anderson said in part: "There was no doubt as to the intention of those men. They were undetermined as to what they wanted to do. They had already laid murderous hands on the Christ to punish Him for His condemnation of their sins. They did not lack of will, but they were checked by worldly prudence. They were overawed by the spell that He

Nothing has developed thus far to indicate that John Bohn, who shot himself at the Klondike hotel, Saturday, has any heirs to claim his estate of nearly $40,000 in securities, except two supposed nephews somewhere in Arizona or Mexico. The authorities have thus far been unable to communicate with them.

It is further learned that Bohn was possessed of considerable real estate in the western part of this state, but its location has not been definitely determined as yet. The suicide had been very reticent in regard to his affairs for three or four years past, and had few if any confidants, consequently very little is known of his family affairs, and probably will not be until his nephews are communicated with.

The coroner's inquest over his death will be at 9 o'clock this morning.

On Tuesday, April 21, the Missouri Pacific railway will sell both one-way and round trip tickets to certain points in Kansas, Southwest Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, etc., at half rates plus $2. Stop-overs allowed on the going journey. Final limit of tickets 21 days. For further information call or address Thos. F. Godfrey, P. & T. A., S. E. corner 14th and Douglas streets, Omaha, Neb.

An irate parishioner put in an appearance at the police station early Sunday morning with a large hammer, and notified Captain Mostyn that he proposed to prevent church services going on today in his church because of diphtheria prevailing in the family of the preacher. He was anxious to know what the consequences would be should he use the hammer on the preacher if the latter persisted in preaching, and wanted him quarantined.
