

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

ESTABLISHED JUNE 19, 1871.

OMAHA, SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 2, 1903—SIXTEEN PAGES.

SINGLE COPY THREE CENTS.

DIPLOMATS AT FAIR

FILIPINO FANATIC CAPTURED
Party of Volunteers Make Rios, the Noted Outlaw, a Prisoner in Luzon.

Foreign Nations Join in Rejoicings at Louisiana Purchase Celebration.

FRENCH AMBASSADOR RECALLS CESSATION
Jusserand Declares Treaty Was Mark of Countries' Lasting Friendship.

EARLY PIONEERS ARE BROUGHT TO MIND

Minister Sums Up Work Done by Those Who Found the Land.

SPANISH REPRESENTATIVE ADDS HIS WORD
Exploring Dons Said to Have Pointed the Way America Has so Industriously and Successfully Followed.

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—St. Louis awoke at an early hour. Though the dedication ceremonies of yesterday were so prolonged that it was 2 o'clock in the morning before the thousands of people were able to reach their homes.

On the official program today was designated as "International day." It being set aside for the dedication of the foreign buildings. The members of the diplomatic corps, representatives of foreign governments and other official guests assembled at the St. Louis club at 10:30 a.m. and were driven thence to the exposition grounds.

Spends Five Hours at Kansas City

The carriages during the drive were arranged in strict accordance with the rules of diplomatic precedence and once the line was formed the carriages escorted by four troops of regular cavalry were driven rapidly toward the fair grounds, where a breakfast was served upon their arrival at 12:15 o'clock. The New York provisional regiment, resplendent in new dress uniforms, was drawn up in Forest Park, and as the line of carriages passed along the troops were reviewed by Governor Odell.

Although the time for the commencement of the day's exercises was 12 o'clock, it was long past that time when the diplomats and their escort arrived at the Liberal Arts building. Fifteen minutes later than the time set for the beginning of the program the diplomatic foreign representatives and distinguished guests were preparing to sit down to breakfast a mile away from the Liberal Arts building.

This delay in the proceedings did not cause discomfort to many people, for the crowd showed no great interest in the official program.

It was late when the assembly was called to order by Corwin H. Spencer, chairman of the exposition committee on ceremonies.

Former Senator Thurston Presides.

After the invocation by Rev. Carl Swenson of St. Louis, Mr. Spencer introduced as president of the day John M. Thurston, who spoke in part as follows:

We are here to welcome the ambassadors and ministers and representatives of friendly foreign governments and to thank them for their presence at an exposition which changed the history of America—an event of more importance than almost any other event in our history. This event gave to us a continental habitation.

Today, after 100 years, we come to celebrate a great event in a magnificent exposition, in the exhibition of a country or a state or of the United States. It is an exposition of the world.

Our visitors and our friends in the temple of progress dedicated to the progress of men, are significant to us of the friendliness of the nations. May we not hope that the spirit of brotherhood will continue there may be an exemplification of the words of the Master, "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Mr. Spencer then introduced President Francis of the exposition, who extended the greeting of the exposition to the representatives of foreign countries.

French Ambassador Speaks.

After a selection by the marine band of Washington the French ambassador, M. Jean A. J. Jusserand, the ambassador of France to the United States, replied to President Francis as follows:

We are here to welcome the ambassadors and ministers and representatives of friendly foreign governments and to thank them for their presence at an exposition which changed the history of America—an event of more importance than almost any other event in our history. This event gave to us a continental habitation.

Today, after 100 years, we come to celebrate a great event in a magnificent exposition, in the exhibition of a country or a state or of the United States. It is an exposition of the world.

Our visitors and our friends in the temple of progress dedicated to the progress of men, are significant to us of the friendliness of the nations. May we not hope that the spirit of brotherhood will continue there may be an exemplification of the words of the Master, "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Mr. Spencer then introduced President Francis of the exposition, who extended the greeting of the exposition to the representatives of foreign countries.

JUBILEE GIFT REACHES ROME

Roosevelt's Present and Golden Scroll Cross Atlantic in Safety.

ROME, May 1.—Cardinal Rampolla today received Father Francis J. Van Antwerp of Detroit, Mich., and John Bodine, the bearers of President Roosevelt's jubilee gift.

Both visitors had been sent to the pope in the name of the nation, and the gifts in the temple of progress dedicated to the progress of men, are significant to us of the friendliness of the nations. May we not hope that the spirit of brotherhood will continue there may be an exemplification of the words of the Master, "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

President Francis then introduced President Francis of the exposition, who extended the greeting of the exposition to the representatives of foreign countries.

French Ambassador Speaks.

After a selection by the marine band of Washington the French ambassador, M. Jean A. J. Jusserand, the ambassador of France to the United States, replied to President Francis as follows:

We are here to welcome the ambassadors and ministers and representatives of friendly foreign governments and to thank them for their presence at an exposition which changed the history of America—an event of more importance than almost any other event in our history. This event gave to us a continental habitation.

Today, after 100 years, we come to celebrate a great event in a magnificent exposition, in the exhibition of a country or a state or of the United States. It is an exposition of the world.

Our visitors and our friends in the temple of progress dedicated to the progress of men, are significant to us of the friendliness of the nations. May we not hope that the spirit of brotherhood will continue there may be an exemplification of the words of the Master, "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Mr. Spencer then introduced President Francis of the exposition, who extended the greeting of the exposition to the representatives of foreign countries.

JUDGES' ORDERS CONFLICTING

Federal Court Issues Writ of Habeas Corpus, but State Jurist Commands Men Held.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—A conflict of authority between state and federal marshals has arisen as a result of the writ of habeas corpus granted yesterday on petition of John Laing and John Hurt, indicted for killing the striking miner, John Harless.

The writ, placed in the hands of deputy marshals, was served on Sheriff Harvey Cork, but Judge Sanders of the state court instructed him to keep the men in custody until next Thursday, when he will finally decide the matter. The refusal to obey his writ was conveyed to Judge Keller today.

The writ was granted by Judge Keller on the ground that Laing and Hurt were to be tried for the murder of John Harless, and the trial date was set for June 1.

CINCINNATI, May 1.—The trial of Father Marquette, who, with Joliet, washed your walls and who explored the region of the Mississippi backwoods in the past, and have died for the lonely pioneers of long ago, who came, one by one, to this then unknown land, and tried to make a home for themselves, less known, to make it more productive and easier to reclaim for you, their distant home. No one can tell us, will think it amiss that a competitor of the country, recall at this day their efforts and express today's gratitude to the nation.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Remembers French Pioneers.

In this triumphal day it is only natural that we should look back upon the past, and have a thought for the lonely pioneers of long ago, who came, one by one, to this then unknown land, and tried to make a home for themselves, less known, to make it more productive and easier to reclaim for you, their distant home. No one can tell us, will think it amiss that a competitor of the country, recall at this day their efforts and express today's gratitude to the nation.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the qualities of their race.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 1.—The most brilliant gatherings which this country has ever beheld. Sanguine as he was, Senator Jackson could scarcely believe his eyes and ears when he witnessed the scenes we presently behold and the preparation for the impending exhibition of all the produce, all the discoveries, all the art of the wide earth.

Explorers, missionaries, governors of cities

explorers, came year after year, from the time of Louis XIV, attracted by the charms or beauty of the country, the opportunity of increasing their country's dominions, or of becoming famous, or of instructing some and of dying. If death was not met, brave and hardy, the French they were, with all the