WILL COMMAND POLICE NOW

Mayor Moores Says He Will Exercise Power Conferred by Charter.

WILL STOP BROATCH'S PRIVATE ORDERS

No More Secret Sessions Will Be Held and No Further Discrimination Will Be Practiced, Says the Mayor.

Instead of giving the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners additional power, as the enemies of home rule had hoped, the decision in the fire and police board case promises to shear the commission of the arbitrary control of the police and fire departments which it has exercised since seated by order of former Governor Savage last August.

Mayor Moores announced yesterday that, while accepting the decision pending a possible reversal, he will assume his position as chairman of the commission and will proceed to use the power conferred in the office of mayor by the charter, making that officer the real source of power in controlling the acts of the police and fire departments.

In accordance with this determination, reached before noon yesterday, a meeting of the board will be called probably for today by the mayor, who will resume his position as chairman ex-officio, which he relinquished temporarily while awaiting the supreme court decision. Hereafter he proposes to see that all the rights of all the people are protected and no discrimination shown.

To Stop Broatch's Orders.

Secret meetings of the board will be stopped and Chief of Police Donahue will be instructed to disregard the private orders of Mr. Broatch or any other member of the board.

This step Mayor Moores has considered necessary because of the purely arbitrary and capricious manner in which the board and its individual members have accomplished acts of intimidation for political effect.

City Attorney Connell and the mayor have not given up the fight for home rule. As announced by the former, as soon as the election is over motions for rehearing will be filed on the ground that the controlling point was not considered or used in arriving at the judgment just handed down. Far from being discouraged, the administration regards the act of the supreme court as merely a temporary setback that sooner or later will be overcome by force of the will of the people.

It did not require a long time for the mayor to decide what he should do. He was fully aware that toward the police and fire departments he stands in the same relation as the president of the United States does to the army and navy, as commander in chief, and now he proposes to assert the rights vested in the office by the charter.

What the Mayor Says.

Mayor Moores said:

"Until the notice for rehearing can be determined I will acquiesce in the decision of the supreme court and accept as law the determination that the members of the governor's board have the right to perform the duties of the office. I would call attention, however, to the provisions of the charter regarding the power and authority of the board concerning the right of the board to consider and make appointments and removals in the fire and police departments and to make the necessary rules for their government and action.

"Nowhere is there any authority for the board, except in conjunction with the mayor, to give any orders to the chiefs or members of the fire and police departments. This power is absolutely vested in me as mayor. I propose now to assert this power and to see hereafter that the high-handed methods of the present board are brought to an end. I propose to see that all citizens shall be treated fairly and that none shall be discriminated against. If it is right to close three or four saloons, it is right to close all saloons. No discrimination will hereafter be permitted.

No More Secret Sessions.

"No secret sessions of the board will be held hereafter or tolerated. Every thing relating to the fire and police departments shall be done in the open.

"The chief of police will be at once notified and required to hereafter disregard the private orders of Mr. Broatch and to observe only the orders that emanate from myself as mayor of the city and chairman ex-officio of the board.

"I know what my rights are as mayor, and I propose hereafter to exercise them to the end of maintaining an orderly city and protecting every citizen without reference to his business, politics or religion."

Connell's View of the Case.

City Attorney Connell gave out this interview: "I do not know why the decision of the supreme court is rendered at this particular time. I can only conjecture. The decision bears evidence of having been hastily prepared. It does not cover the points involved. It does not touch upon and utterly fails to decide the vital point in the case.

"As soon as the smoke of the battle of Tuesday passes away I propose to file motions for a rehearing. I propose to file one motion for all the members of the old board, and also file a separate motion on behalf of Mr. Kennedy, whose original term of office has not yet expired. I refer to the identical term of office which was litigated and decided in his favor in the so-called Kennedy case. Mr. Kennedy was appointed in pursuance of an ordinance which provided for his term for three years and until his successor should be appointed and qualified.

"Under the law as recognized by the supreme court in the decision just handed down the prior judgments in the Moores and Kennedy cases are res judicata as to the term of office that was involved in either of those cases. I did not expect to win the case on the points covered by Judge Holcomb's opinion which has just been filed. I did, however, expect to win the case on the proposition that the facts put in issue in the Kennedy case and decided in favor of the members of the old board could not be disputed in a subsequent suit between the same parties or their privies.

"The law in support of this proposition is so positive and clearly declared by the highest courts of the land that there can be no question regarding its correctness. In a recent case decided by the United States supreme court the following was announced as the true statement of the law.

"A right, question or fact distinctly put in issue and directly determined by a court of competent jurisidiction as a ground of recovery cannot be disputed in a subsequent suit between the same parties or their privies, and, even if the second suit is for a different cause of action, the right, question or fact, once so determined, must, as between the same parties or their privies, be taken as conclusively established, so long as the judgment in the first suit remains unmodified.

Law Points Involved.

"While it is true that a number of the parties in this case are different from those in the Kennedy case, all are in privity with their predecessors. This is what has been declared by Judge Sullivan to be the law. A public officer is regarded as being in privity with his predecessor when both derive their authority from the same source.

"As stated, I did not expect to win out before the supreme court as at present constituted on the great fundamental proposition of home rule. Neither did I expect to win out, excepting as to Mr. Kennedy, on the ground that the present terms of office of the members of the old board were the same as determined in the Kennedy case. The proposition on which I did expect to win out, and with regard to which the authorities overwhelmingly and unanimously sustain me, is that in the prior litigation all the rights, questions and facts now in controversy were presented, litigated and determined, and without regard to whether the same were determined rightly or wrongly, such determination by the solemn judgment of the supreme court is final and conclusive on all the parties in the Kennedy case and to their successors in office.

"It is a remarkable thing that this important, and as I believe controlling feature of the case, is not touched upon or determined by the supreme court and so far as I am able to learn from the newspapers none of the cases I cited are mentioned, nor are any of the previous decisions of the supreme court of Nebraska which sustain me overruled."
