TWO YEARS FOR THORSEN

Judge Reminds Prisoner That is Only a Starter on What is His Due.

TAYLOR GETS VERDICT AGAINST CITY

Jury in District Court Says Charges Made Against Former Street Supervisor Will Not Stick.

John Thorsen entered a plea of guilty in district court yesterday to breaking into the premises of Mrs. Susan Thome on the night of January 6 last and stealing eight-five chickens and a set of harness. Judge Wheeler sentenced him to two years in the penitentiary at Fort Madison. In passing sentence Judge Wheeler stated that he understood that Thorsen had confessed to other robberies, all committed within a year, and that he had been in and out of the prison bars for the term of his natural life almost, but he had been informed that his (Thorsen's) career of crime had started from the time he had taken up with the woman now under arrest and who had admitted being responsible for his downfall. This being the case and in consideration of the prisoner's previous good character, Judge Wheeler said he would only give him a light sentence. There is another indictment pending against Thorsen, but this will be dismissed.

John S. Heller, charged with robbing a companion, De Whelan, while the latter was asleep in the railroad yards at Neola, also pleaded guilty and was sentenced to ten months in the penitentiary. Heller has been two months in the county jail and the court took this into consideration in passing sentence. Heller and three companions, one of whom was Whelan, started from Avoca, where they went to get a horse to see the sights. They had all been drinking and on reaching Neola Whelan fell asleep and was robbed. The money was found on Heller when arrested in this city the same night.

The trial of J. V. Sadowski, charged with breaking and entering in front of Snyder's pawnshop and stealing gun and several revolvers, was again continued over to the next term on motion of the defendant. Sadowski's alleged accomplice in the robbery, C. Shoemaker, was tried, convicted, sentenced and has served his term in the penitentiary. Sadowski has succeeded in convincing the jury that he did not see the sights. They had all been drinking and on reaching Neola Whelan fell asleep and was robbed. The money was found on Heller when arrested in this city the same night.

The trial of H. T. Bryan, charged with issuing fraudulent orders on a nursery firm by which he was employed, will be begun today.

Taylor Gets His Salary. Last night the jury in the district court before which the suit of G. C. Taylor against the city of Council Bluffs was tried, exonerated the former street supervisor of the charges brought against him, that he had defrauded the municipality by falsifying his pay rolls and vouchers, in returning a verdict for him in the sum of $39.60. Taylor sued for $49, the amount of his last month's salary, which the city council had refused to pay alleging that Taylor was in debt to the city. The city first filed a counter claim of $100 but subsequently increased it to $260. The verdict was for the full amount of the month's salary and interest to date less one tenth of $8 which Taylor admitted in court might have been charged in error.

W. C. Utterback, a former saloonkeeper on Broadway, filed original notice of suit in the district court yesterday against A. Wells, local agent of an Omaha brewery, to recover $681.40 which he had paid for beer purchased from the defendant between July 10, 1902 and April 2, 1903. The right to recover money paid for intoxicating liquor is one of the peculiar provisions of the Iowa laws.

The Foster & Williams Manufacturing company of Racine, Wis., began suit against David Bradley & Co. to recover $59.72 claimed to be the balance due on a shipment of 150 seeders to the defendant company in the spring of 1902.

The estate of Mrs. Margaret Fox, year of the estate of Mrs. Margaret Fox, yesterday filed objections to the final report of J. P. Greenhalgh. In his final report the administrator recommends that the legal firm of Saunders & Stuart be paid a further sum of $200 for their services in carrying out the estate already paid them. This the heirs object to. They contend that as the administrator has been allowed $500 for special services in addition to $137.49, his statutory compensation, he should pay the attorneys if they performed any special services.

N. Y. Plumbing Co. Tel. 250, Night, P667. Pickpocket Safe for a Time. The authorities have learned that Charles Lee, who was indicted at the September term of district court for attempting to pick the pocket of Charles A. Beno at Lake Manawa, and who jumped his bail bond, is under arrest in St. Louis, Mo., whose right name is said to be Knapp O'Brien, and under which he was arrested in St. Louis about two months ago, is now serving a sentence of one year in the work house in the World's fair city. His term expires February 13, 1904, and it is doubtful if he will be brought back here before then, although requisition papers have been applied for.

Lee skipped from Council Bluffs the day following his arrest at Lake Manawa, after his attorney had secured his release a $300 bond. When he was indicted and his case called in district court last September he failed to put in an appearance. The day after he left Council Bluffs the local authorities learned that his right name was Knapp O'Brien and that there was reward out for his capture. If the St. Louis authorities will surrender him he will be brought back here at once.

Plumbing and heating. Bixby & Son. Packers Abandon Delivery. The South Omaha packing houses have notified the butchers of this city that beginning Monday they will cease their regular delivery of meats to Council Bluffs. In place of the meat being delivered daily by wagon as heretofore, it will be brought across the river in refrigerator cars and distributed made from them. This will necessitate the local butchers driving to the cars to get their supplies. Three deliveries a week will be made in this manner. It is not known here whether this new arrangement will be permanent, but it is said that if it should prove so it will result in many of the larger dealers in this city killing their own meat.

Des Moines Not After School. The report that the Commercial club of Des Moines was agitating the removal of the Iowa School for the Deaf from Council Bluffs to that city is denied in a letter received yesterday by Commissioner Loomis from Commissioner Milo Ward of the Des Moines club. Mr. Ward, after saying that there is no foundation for the report, concludes his letter as follows: "So far as the Iowa School for the Deaf is concerned, the Commercial exchange of Des Moines is taking no action whatever. We realize fully that this is a matter which we could not influence if we took hold of it. While, of course, there are many reasons for believing that all our state institutions, if centrally located, could be handled more economically, yet there is no such well-nigh notion in our head that this can be accomplished, or ever will be accomplished."

MINIMIZE FRUIT DAMAGE

Rest Authorities Place It: From Slight to About Twenty-Five Per Cent.

NO FURTHER INJURY IS ANTICIPATED

Fifty Candidates for Admission to the Bar Come Before the Examining Board at Its Next Session.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, May 1.—(Special.)—The damage to fruit and crops in Iowa by reason of the frost was not quite as great as had been expected by the farmers and fruit growers. Director Sage of the Iowa crop bureau stated today that he believes the crop will be practically an average fruit crop in Iowa, though of course no such crops as there would have been if the frost had not come. But the records show that there has not been a season for many years in Iowa without a frost that injures the fruit. Henry Wallace estimates today that at least 25 per cent of the fruit in Iowa was killed by the frost. Secretary Greene of the Horticultural society makes an estimate very similar in character. The principal fruit to be injured here is cherries and plums. The apples in southern Iowa are reported injured much more than in the central and eastern parts of the state, where there are many scattered orchards. The danger from further injury is now regarded as past.

Many Would Be Lawyers. The next class for examination by the State Bar commission, which meets here May 12, will be the largest since the new law went into effect, raising the standard of entrance and creating a permanent commission for the examination of those who would be lawyers. The applicants must all be in by tomorrow and are filed with the clerk of the supreme court, and are afterward passed on by the attorney general as to their correctness. The commission will have a class of about fifty for examination, most of them being fresh from the law schools.

Secretary Kennedy of the State Board of Medical Examiners has just returned from Keokuk, where he conducted an examination for the board of those who would be certified for the practice of medicine in this state. About thirty took the examination.

Will Tax Freight Lines. Plans are being prepared for the reports from the freight lines doing business in Iowa, such as the refrigerator lines, stock car lines and fast freight systems. These have been prepared for taxation and the last legislature provided that the state executive council should secure from their reports of their business and assess them on the value of their property used in the state. The taxes are to be paid direct to the state, as it would be impossible to apportion this to the various taxing districts through which their cars run. The companies have never reported and the state does not have any list of them, but will proceed at once to secure this information.

New Plans for a Fishway. New plans are being prepared for the fishway proposed over the dam in the Des Moines river at Bonaparte. The dam has been a source of contention for years. It was offered to the state for $25,000 and could have been purchased for much less and destroyed by the state. But the legislation, providing for taxation and the last legislature provided that the state executive council should secure from their reports of their business and assess them on the value of their property used in the state. The taxes are to be paid direct to the state, as it would be impossible to apportion this to the various taxing districts through which their cars run. The companies have never reported and the state does not have any list of them, but will proceed at once to secure this information.

Robbers Hold Up the Express Agent at Britt, Ia.—Ten Thousand Dollars is Missing. BRITT, Ia., May 1.—Outside of the statement of a farmer's wife living a few miles north of Britt, that she saw a man answering the description of one of the men whom Agent John Peterson of the United States Express company claimed to have stolen a package containing $10,000, not a single clue has been obtained. Detectives of the express company and local police officials have been scouring the country since the finding of Peterson's package in the express office, but they have made no progress. Not a breath of suspicion has been aroused against Peterson, who is 70 years of age and has the contract to carry the mails from the train as well as the express packages.

His son, only 12 years of age, found him engaged with a gunnysack over his head and unable to speak. The express office is right in the heart of the town and business stores throng on all sides. To the right of the store is a bowling alley and it is believed that the noise from this place deafened that made by the robbers when they held up Peterson and compelled him to open the safe containing the package. Peterson in his description of the two men declares that both were 50 years of age and that one wore a gray overcoat with a blue striped suit. Not a train had entered the town from the time of the robbery until Peterson was discovered. The whole affair is shrouded in the deepest mystery.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 1.—Inquiry at the United States express division offices in this city leads to the information that the amount stolen by the robbers at Britt was $4,000 instead of $10,000. Fully half a dozen packages were taken and no suspicion is entertained against any person. The belief is expressed that some agent in town committed the deed.

IOWA WINS THE JOINT DEBATE

Seventh Victory Out of Ten Contests with University of Minnesota.

IOWA CITY, Ia., May 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Compulsory arbitration of disputes between capital and labor, upheld by the University of Iowa, was successful in the annual Iowa-Minnesota debate the evening. The University of Iowa argued that strikes affected the whole people so vitally that their prohibition should be one of the objects of the Department of Justice. Minnesota contended that compulsory arbitration was impractical and that labor disputes were gradually solving themselves by a process of evolution.

E. Hill of Burlington, C. H. Edmundson of Iowa City and E. R. Johnson of Iowa City were Iowa's debaters. Y. L. Wilder, Warren Williams and Irwin A. Churchill debated for Minnesota. Both teams were strong and evenly balanced. Prof. Benjamin Terry of Chicago, Prof. M. B. Hammond of Illinois and W. D. Fullerton of Ottawa, Ill., were the judges. Hon. Joe R. Lane of Davenport presided. The debate was the tenth between the two universities and it was Iowa's seventh victory.

Richards Challenges Indictment. KNOXVILLE, Ia., May 1.—A motion to quash the indictment in the case of the state against W. A. Richards, on account of irregularities in the empanelling of the grand jury, will be argued to the court Saturday. It will be claimed that the grand jury was empanelled in the county superior's office and that the public was excluded on the order of the court. If this fails, an effort will be made to secure a change of venue.

PRINCE OF BOOMERS IS DEAD

D. T. Hedges, Formerly of Sioux City, Found Dead in His Bath tub.

SIoux CITY, Ia., May 1.—(Special Telegram.)—News was received here today of the death from asphyxiation of D. T. Hedges at San Francisco. Hedges was one of the makers of the northwest. He was the leader of the great Sioux City boom, the collapse of which involved a great amount of eastern capital. He came to Sioux City in 1857 and was interested in all the frontier activities of the time. He died in San Francisco and with others engaged in a concerted plan of promotion. He was interested in numerous railroad projects. When the boom was at its height Hedges was reputed to be worth millions. When the Sioux City boom burst in 1893, following the failure of the Union Loan and Trust company, he was left almost penniless. He moved to California because he could not bear to face his old-time associates, after acknowledging a failure. Death occurred under peculiar circumstances and a coroner will investigate. He was found asphyxiated in a bathtub.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE. Jury in McDaniels-Levix Trial Out Six Hours Before Reaching Verdict.

AVOCA, Ia., May 1.—(Special Telegram.)—In the McDaniels-Levix murder trial Attorney Killpack closed his argument at 3 o'clock. After a short recess the judge gave his instructions and at 4 o'clock the jury retired to the jury room. At 10 o'clock a verdict of not guilty was returned for both.

Shortage Cause of Suicide. SIoux CITY, Ia., May 1.—(Special Telegram.)—The cause for the suicide of Charles F. Rademacher, the popular young Sioux City society man, which has been considered such a complete mystery, has been discovered. The books of the Thornburg wholesale tobacco firm, recently absorbed by the trust, are $3,240 short. Rademacher spent $1,500 in one week.

His Platform. "You have your own ideas as to the needs of the country?" they said to the man who wanted to run for office. "You bet I have," he replied. "The country needs me."

"And your political principles?" "Oh, I'm loaded up with political principles, but the greatest principle of all is to get office."

"How about a platform?" "That's where I am especially strong. My platform is to give the public any kind of a platform that it seems to want, and then, if I am elected, to live up to just as much or as little of it as suits me."

Thereupon they knew that they had a practical politician to deal with, and, following precedent, they gave him the nomination.—Brooklyn Eagle.
