John W. Alvord of Chicago Chosen at Chairman Boyd's Suggestion.

MAN OF MUCH EXPERIENCE IN THE WORK

Engineer in Charge of Many Important Public Undertakings and Arbitrator or Appraiser in Other Municipal Purchases.

John W. Alvord of Chicago, consulting engineer for sanitary and hydraulic works, was chosen by the water board yesterday afternoon as the appraiser for the city on the board of three to determine the value of the water works plant. His name will be presented to the mayor and council for confirmation next week. If confirmed, the Omaha Water company must name its man within thirty days, which it will no doubt do.

Mr. Alvord is the personal selection of Chairman James E. Boyd, who was delegated to find a competent appraiser. The candidate's name was accepted unanimously pervision of the state of Nebraska. at the regular meeting by the members present, Mesars. Boyd, Congdon, Coad and Barlow. The preparation and adoption of the formal resolution required but a few minutes as the board had previously decided upon the appointment. Mr. Alvord terms have been fixed.

Career of the Candidate.

the Hyde Park station in Chicago. Later he engaged in surveying in Chicago. In 1884 he was appointed city engineer of Lake View, now a part of Chicago, and remodeled and extended the Lake View water works system to four-fold its original capacity. He planned and superintended many miles of street paving, lake shore protection, lake shore boulevards, and organized all the methods, records and work that go to make a city and to care for the expenditure of about $3,500,000 worth of improvements made during his term of office. When Lake View was annexed to Chicago in 1888 Mr. Alvord went to Europe and spent nearly a year there examining public works and collecting data on water supply, sewerage and sewage purification. In 1889 he was appointed chief engineer at Cicero, a town west and adjacent to Chicago, where he designed a system of 380 miles of storm water sewers and about six miles of street improvements. During this period he was consulted as to water works problems by the cities of Muskegon, Mich.; Duluth, Minn.; Hurley, Wis.; Ironwood, Mich., and Terre Haute, Ind.

Chief Engineer of World's Fair.

Mr. Alvord was appointed chief of the engineering department of the Worlds Columbian exposition at Chicago in 1890, having charge of the dredging, grading and filling of the grounds and the construction of roads, surveys and grades. He was also at this time chief engineer for a company which constructed a pipe line of nearly 100 miles from Wisconsin to Chicago, supplying the fair with spring water cooled by refrigerating machinery and circulated on the grounds by insulated pipes to numerous drinking stands all at a cost of $70000.

From 1897 to 1901 he was the consulting engineer of the Illinois and Michigan canal conductindg successful litigation with the sanitary district of Chicago. In 1899 he w engaged by the city of Columbus as consulting engineer and designed for it a system of seventy-five miles of sanitary sewers including a pumping station of 40,000,-000 gallons capacity. He was also employed by the United States government as ex- curs Saturday, when matinee and evening pert in a water works condemnation case at Sterling, Ill., and by Chicago in construct- availing themselves of the season's last ing an interception system of sewers.
