ON THE TRAIL OF MATHESON

Young Man Answering His Description Seen Near Mondamin-

Man Injured in Boone Railway Yards Proves Not to Be the One Wanted, Though Answering Description.

Word was received at the sheriff's office yesterday morning that a young man answering the description of George Matheson had been seen near Mondamin. It is known that Matheson has a number of relatives living in that vicinity, and ever since the hunt for the fugitive began it was thought possible that he would seek shelter there According to the report received at the sheriff's office, the young fellow suspected of being Matheson conversed with a boy, who told his name to the stranger, and the latter replied:

"I think I know your brother, he worked at Weston, did he not?" The boy's brother had at one time worked in the postoffice at Weston. The stranger was noticed to wear a ring on the left hand, the same as Matheson did. Deputy Sheriff Knox left for Mondamin as soon as possible after receipt of the report. He telephoned back yesterday afternoon that he was hot on the trail of the suspect, who had driven north towards Onawa in a covered wagon. Word was sent at once to the sheriff of Monona ounty to head off the fugitive if possible. Sheriff Cousins returned yesterday after noon from Boone. The young man who had been injured in the railroad yards there

For treasurer there are now four actively at work antwo more who will announce themselves as soon as the date for the caucus is announced. Prominent Man Insane.

The case of James Duffus, a member of the Soldiers' Home at Marshalltown, who has been adjudged insane and taken to the asylum at Clarinda, is of considerable interest all over the state, as he was at one time a prominent politician and very wealthy. Later he conducted the Florence hotel there and at one time was worth $50,000. He was a prominent Mason. He served in the civil war about one year in Company B, Forty-ninth Iowainfantry.
