FREE SILVER MEN CONTROL

Reorganizers Do Not Make a Showing at Convention in Des Moines.

INDICTMENT AGAINST STONE DISMISSED

Intention is to Send All Four of Iowa National Guard Regiments Into Camp with the Regulars.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, May 23.—(Special.)—The democratic county convention for Polk county met here today. There had been very little interest manifested in the outcome, as it is impossible for the democrats to elect any candidate on the ticket, and whereas in former years the party was nearly equal in strength to the republicans it cannot now muster more than one-third of the voters. The convention was presided over by C. O. Holly, an attorney of socialistic tendencies, and the permanent chairman was H. C. Evans, an enthusiastic free silver democrat. The convention was wholly in the hands of the free silver men, none of the old line democrats making any attempt to get on the delegations. A county ticket was nominated except for district judge, which was left vacant with the understanding that the county committee would place thereon the name of the republican nominee for the same position. The resolutions passed affirm the Kansas City platform in strongest terms and denounce the efforts of reorganizers to gain control of the party.

The democrats nominated ex-Congressman Walter Butler and H. C. Evans for members of the house of representatives, both protesting they did not want the place. The convention also named twenty-eight delegates to the state convention and instructed them to insist on reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform.

A conference of republican politicians was held at Adel today which disposed of the senatorship in the district composed of Dallas, Guthrie and Audubon counties. Senator Hopkins is a candidate for renomination from Guthrie and Asmus Boysen, representative from Audubon and the Ninth district member of the state committee, has the delegation from his county. Senator Caldwell had come out as a candidate in Dallas but today it was decided he would withdraw and Dallas will support Hopkins for renomination.

Stone Case Dismissed.

The somewhat sensational indictment against Walter Stone of Cleveland, O., was dismissed in court here today. Stone was a manufacturer of automobiles here and left last summer. Soon after Miss Alice Donahoe claimed he was her husband and declared that they had been married. It turned out that he palmed off a bogus certificate and had the so-called ceremony performed one Sunday afternoon by someone professing to be a minister of the gospel, but unidentified. She claimed not to know of the deception until he had deserted her several months afterwards. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Stone and he was caught in Detroit, Mich., having just gone there after his marriage to a young society woman of Cleveland. He was indicted and brought here and gave bonds for his appearance. The case was allowed to drag along and some time ago Miss Donahoe went to California, and the announcement was made at that time that she would not appear to prosecute Stone. Today the court dismissed the indictment.

Burned Farm Residence.

The fine, large residence of Nathaniel McClellan on his farm, two miles northwest of Highland Park, was struck by lightning last night and burned to the ground. Mr. McClellan and wife, their son-in-law, Thomas Gabriel, wife and child, were occupants at the time. They were more or less dazed by the shock, but all succeeded in getting out. The flames spread with such rapidity that only a piano and several articles of household furniture were saved. Mr. McClellan is a brother of the owner of the Masonic temple building, at Seventh and Walnut. It is not known whether the loss was covered by insurance or not, but it is believed Mr. McClellan carried a considerable insurance on the house and goods.

Seventy-Two New Doctors.

The State Board of Medical Examiners today issued seventy-two certificates to practice medicine or osteopathy in Iowa. There were eighty-five who were examined at the recent meetings in Sioux City, Keokuk and Des Moines and seventy-two passed, of which two were osteopaths.

The annual convention of the Iowa State Association of Drugless Healers will convene in this city next month commencing June 9. It is expected that a big jubilee will be held over the victory just won by Dr. Lyon at Webster City, where she was prosecuted by the State Board of Health last week.

Supreme Court Decisions.

The supreme court today overruled a motion for rehearing in the case of the State against Zenas W. John, from Muscatine county, the defendant serving a ten-year sentence for perjury committed while defending himself in a murder case. The following were the opinions filed:

C. B. Haworth against W. B. Crosby, appellant; Polk county, Judge Conrad; reversed, opinion by Weaver.

William Germauder against Machinery Mutual Insurance company, appellant; Pocahontas county, Judge Bailie; reversed, by Deemer.

William Montgomery against E. J. Mann, appellant; Polk county, Judge Holmes; reversed, by Ladd.

Cedar Rapids & Marion City Railway Company, appellant, against J. M. Redmond, mayor of Cedar Rapids; Linn county, Judge Treichler; reversed, by McClain.

M. H. King, appellant, against G. A. Nelson; Polk county, Judge Conrad; affirmed, by Sherwin.

Work at Feeble-Minded Institute.

The State Executive council held a session this afternoon for the purpose of approving the plans and plat for the new roadway and other improvements at the State Institution for the Feeble Minded at Glenwood. Some time ago members of the council visited Glenwood and located the depot for the Burlington, the new roadway that would have to be constructed by the company in the institution grounds and other matters. The company has had prepared a definite plat for the improvements it will make and this was approved by the council, so that that work may be carried out in accordance with the contract with the state by which the company is granted right of way through state property.

New Iowa Corporations.

The Klein Clothing company filed amendments to its articles, changing the name to Klein Klothing Kompany of Washington. The Franklin Station Cheese company of Lee county was incorporated with capital of $1,300; H. G. Ort, president; Sydney Ingersol, secretary. The Conesville Savings bank was incorporated, capital $12,000; T. Maxwell, president; J. H. Busen, cashier. The George Stewart Hardware company of Ottumwa was incorporated, with capital of $15,000. The Iowa Drug company of Des Moines filed its articles with the secretary of state; capital, $150,000; by Webb Souers, E. W. Brown and William M. Wilcoxen.

Four Regiments to Camp.

Governor Cummins desires that all four of the Iowa regiments shall go into camp with the regulars this year. If this is done there will be no state camps. Adjutant General Byers today received a letter from General Bates, commanding the Department of the Missouri, asking how many of the Iowa militia it was desired should go into camp with the regulars under the new national militia law, stating that it was not yet known how many could be accommodated nor where the camp would be held, but he had instructions to secure this information and make a report to the War department. Governor Cummins directed that he should be answered by a request that four regiments be sent into camp with the regulars. This will be either at Fort Riley or Fort Sill. When General Bates has made his report to the War department the number of troops from Iowa will be made known, and if only one or two regiments go a selection will have to be made.

GRIPS FIELD CLUB CUP

O. R. Bone Tightens His Hold by Second Victory Saturday

BASE BALL HONORS ARE DIVIDED

First Team Wins from High School, but Second Team Loses to Sprague—Social Features Attract.

The greenness of the fields, the brightness of the sky and the caressing May-tempered breezes lured many to the Field club yesterday afternoon. Causes that were largely meteorological, also, sent 300 or 400 persons to the dancing pavillion during the evening. Altogether the Saturday was surprisingly good for so early in the season and indicated a measure of popularity for the year that made the charter members and the officers rejoice.

Two games of base ball made the raw diamond a busy spot all afternoon, the Field club's first team winning the game against the High school and the second nine losing to the Sprague.

On the links twenty-six of the more skillful golfers contested in the series for the club cup and Mr. C. R. Bone defeated his twenty-five competitors at medal play with a gross score of 106 and a net accounting of 88 for the eighteen-hole course.

Will Lessen Bone's Handicap.

This is the second time Mr. Bone has won a match and one more victory will give him the trophy. His handicap as shown by the score was 18. No other player has two winnings to his credit but it is difficult to anticipate the ultimate result as the committee will see to it that his handicap is lessened before next Saturday's play. The cup was up all last season but still remains unclaimed.

Two of the four tennis courts were lively with players all afternoon and good crowds lounged on the verandas and contemplated the base ball play from the sidelines. Many of the afternoon crowd dined at the cafe and remained for the dance.

On the Diamond.

The Omaha High school base ball team was outclassed by the older and more experienced club aggregation. Lowell, the plucky twirler for the scholastics, kept the ball work limited for a few innings, and surprised the crowd, but, discouraged by poor work behind him, he was touched up rather lively in several innings. Davidson pitched a steady game for the society boys and batted well, securing a hit every time he came up. The score:

MADISON, Wis., May 23.—Chicago won the dual track meet from Wisconsin this afternoon 73½ to 52. The Badgers were handicapped by the faculty action which kept Glynn, who was practically sure of first in the shot-put and broad jump, out of the meet. Chicago took first in both these events. Eschen of Wisconsin won the two mile run in 10:00⅘, beating the western intercollegiate record by seven seconds.

ON BORDER OF THE NATION

As President Stands There He Speaks Glowingly of Alaska.

PREDICTS WONDERFUL FUTURE FOR IT

Expresses Pleasure that Congress Appears Inclined to Legislate for Benefit of This Far Off Commonwealth.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 23.—Glorious sunshine heralded the approach of President Roosevelt to Seattle. As the steamer Spokane, gaily decorated with bunting and flags, emerged from Sinclair inlet, where the president had inspected the navy yards, a hundred sirens greeted it. Steadily it swept forward till at the head of the escorting fleet it approached Seattle. Behind it were the revenue cutter McCulloch and the flagship of the merchant fleet, followed in a double line by forty steamers, great and small, all decked out in their bravest garb and tooting manfully.

A salute of twenty-one guns and President Roosevelt set foot on Seattle soil. He was received at the wharf by Mayor Humes. A few presentations and the party entered the carriages and the long drive through the streets of Seattle began. Every gaily decorated window was thronged with sightseers and the streets were packed with enthusiastic crowds.

In the president's carriage, which was surrounded by secret service men on foot, were Mayor Humes, Governor McBride and Secretary Loeb. Fifteen carriages bore the remainder of the party and the reception committee.

The procession was headed by a squad of mounted policemen, the first regiment band, two companies of the National Guard and a company of high school cadets. Meantime the university grounds, where the president was to give an address, were already thronged.

Speaks to Alaskans.

Among the audience were many veterans of the civil war and several hundred pupils of the high school with their teachers. The stand, calculated to accommodate about 200 people, was guarded by a company of the National Guard. As the president approached cheer upon cheer rent the air.

When at last silence was obtained, Mayor Humes introduced the president with a few words. The president said, in part:

Mr. Mayor and You, Fellow Citizens, the Men and Women of Seattle: It is a great pleasure for me, indeed, to come to this, the queen city of Puget Sound, on this, its fiftieth anniversary, and to express to you my cordial appreciation of your greeting.

And yet, after all, my fellow citizens of Washington, I have not a great deal to say to you, except that you practice what I preach, and I try to practice it myself.

I greet you here as the very embodiment of the spirit which makes us all proud to be Americans. How any man can be a citizen of the city of Seattle and the state of Washington, realizing what has been done here within the last fifty years, as you here can, and not be a good American is more than I can imagine. You are good Americans, but it is not to your credit. You can't help it. (Laughter.) You can't realize how great your future is.

No other body of water on the face of the earth offers quite the advantages as to the people about Puget Sound. And I include about all of them when I say no one has such great advantages as this great state of Washington. Great as has been your growth in the last fifty years, it is bound to be immeasurably greater in years to come. This is a state that looks out as well as in. This is a state that in the future is destined to insure the dominance of this great nation, of which it is a part, in the Pacific ocean. You, the people of Seattle, are at the gateway of Alaska, and even the people of the country that I come from are beginning to appreciate the greatness of Alaska.

Makes Glowing Prophecy.

The men of my age who are in this great audience will not be old men before they will see one of the greatest and most populous states of the entire union in Alaska. I am glad to notice that our national legislature seems desirous of providing at once for that great country. I predict that you will see Alaska, with her enormous resources of mineral, fisheries, her possibilities that almost exceed belief, produce as hardy and vigorous a race as any part of America.

As soon as the applause had subsided the president entered his carriage and was driven back to the wharf, accompanied as before by the plaudits of the people. He then embarked once more on Spokane and started for Everett. After his return from Everett the president was driven to the Grand opera house, which was crowded with Alaskans waiting to hear him.

After delivering a short address on Alaska a committee of the Arctic Brotherhood, an exclusively Alaskan order, came forward and presented him a miniature placer miner's pan of solid gold, on which was inscribed an invitation to the president to visit Alaska as a guest of the order. He was also presented on behalf of the eleven transportation companies doing business in Alaska with a gold pocketbook, containing passes for all those lines, in case the chief executive should ever visit the northern country. After suitably acknowledging the presents the president went to a hotel to spend the night.
