& Society Woman Must

Devote the most thoughtful attention to her personal appearance.

nature does her best to make all women attractive horris of so do not oppose nature. Make the most of your natural charms and above all try to beautify and pre-serve your crowning glory.

The Other Name

Attractiveness is the other name for beautiful hair, which every woman may have. It requires great care and perseverance in the treatment, but the wonderfully pleasing results that follow fully justify the trouble, to say nothing of suits that follow fully justify the trouble, to say nothing of the future, when the hair will retain its abundance and glossiness, even to a ripe old age. Like a plant, the hair must have plenty of air and sunshine. The roots must be entirely free from disease breeding germs, for if the dandruft microbe has entered the hair follicles all the sunshine in the world is of no avail. The hair will appear lifeless, dull and lusterless, followed by itching of the scalp, and, finally, falling hair. The first treatment is to destroy the dandruft microbe, at once, with Newbro's Herpleide. The healing and beautifying influence of this wonderful compound is little short of marvelous; clear and pure as the mountain snow, it cools the fevered scalp, destroys the enemy of hair growth and sends the blood tingling to the hair roots, where nature's restoration must begin. As a delightful hair dressing Newbro's Herpfelde easily leads the world, especially among fastidious and discriminating people. Its purity and freedom from oil, grease or sediment Imparts to the hair the most charming distinct-lyeness, while its antiseptic action makes it the equal of sunshine in its life-giving properties. Try it; a single trial is convincing

The Man in the Case

No woman should be satisfied to stop with the preservation of her own hair, while a brother, father, husband or son is losing his. Whirling through the vortex of business strife, thoughtful and considerate of all but himself, frequently exposed to "infected" hair brushes, and wearing a hat that could not be improved upon as a microbe incubator, this person certainly needs the thoughtful care of someone. If baldness is prevented. Try a course of Newbro's Herpicide; it has benefited thousands, and if the first application is not satisfactory we will refund your money direct.

R F. A. SEXTON, the well known architect of Seattle, Wash., writes as follows: "I had dandruff ever alece I can remember, until two years go, when your Herpicide was first introduced. Since that time I have not been troubled in the least, and as mine was a very bad case, I ake pleasure in recommending Herpicide to others similarly affected." (Signed) P. A. SEXTON.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 30.—Harry D. Elkes of Glens Falls, N. Y., the premier motor pace follower of the United States, was killed, and Will Stinson, almost as well known as a bicyclist as Elkes, and F. A. Gateley, a motor machine man, were injured in an accident at the initial bicycle meeting on the new Charles River park track this afternoon.

The accident occurred in the first lap of

Way. The track is five laps to the mile and The track is five laps to the mile and the principal attraction this afternoon was a twenty-mile paced race between Elkes. Stinson. Walthour and Moran. The first three were following single motors and Moran was paced by a tandem. Stinson took the lead at the beginning of the race, with Walthour second and Elkes in third place, Moran being out of it from the start. In the fifth mile Stinson's tire burst, Walthour's motor went wrong and Elkes went to the front. His time for the five railes was 6 minutes 21% seconds, beating the world's record.

Waithour's motor went wrong and Elkes went to the front. His time for the five miles was 5 minutes 21½ seconds, beating the world's record.

In the seventh mile Stinsen broke a chain of his second machine, losing a mile before he could again get into the race. Elkes was well in the lead; time for ten miles, 12:30½, still well ahead of the world's record. At fifteen miles Elkes' time was 8 minutes 4 seconds, another world's record. Early in the sixteenth mile Elkes' rear tire exploded, and the mixup which cost him his life occurred. The track attendants rushed to Elkes and found him unconscious with a terrible gash in his head. Stinsen was cut severely about the head and face, while Gateley's foot was split open by the motor, the hig toe of the right foot being nearly amputated.

The men were removed from the track and placed in ambulances to be sent to the Cambridge hospital, but Elkes died before the vehicle was out of the grounds.

The race was continued by Walthour and Moran, the former winning, completing the twenty miles in 25:20%.

Elkes has been the most prominent bicyclist in this country for years. He has raced both in America and abroad. He returned from Europe only a few weeks ago.

"It rained in Des Moines like fury." Rourke says, "and the streets are hadly flooded. When they made up a special train at noon we got things together and came with less than thirty minutes notice. The flood has worked incalculable damage to the city. When we left the city fall and city hall were crowded with refugees from the lower levels of the town. "It is dark in Des Moines tonight, as the electric light plant is flooded and the city water works is in the same condition. I understand that no persons are allowed on the streets tonight, either. All of their ice got caught in the flood and there is no ice in Des Moines. The ice houses were all flooded and of course it melted right away. THIRD RACE IS A FIZZLE Reliance and Constitution Across the Finish Line Amid Hails from Steamers.

advantage. Columbia was nearly three miles away when Reliance finished. In the first leg, which was the only one sailed under fair racing conditions, Reliance had shown again that in a light wind and smooth water it was the queen of the trio. On that leg Columbia again had been badly beaten by both Reliance and Constitution.

and smooth water it was the queen of the trio. On that leg Columbia again had been badly beaten by both Reliance and Constitution.

The course was an eleven-mile beat to windward, a three-mile close across the sound and a broad reach of eleven miles to the finish line, twenty-five miles in all.

Both Columbia and Constitution entered protests. At the start Captain Rhodes, by able jockeying, sent Constitution across the line almost side by side with Reliance and to windward of it, but was recalled by the regatta committee and was compelled to make a new start, while Reliance got safely away.

In starting the second time Constitution, in an awkard position by the recall, forced Columbia to tack almost on the starting line. Columbia immediately hoisted a protest flag.

From the windward position Constitution drew away from the former defender and in half an hour both Reliance and Constitution had it beaten. Reliance added little to its lead over Constitution until the wind began to die away.

Reliance beat Constitution three minutes and fity-five seconds on the first and eighteen minutes and ten seconds on the second, but the falling of the wind was accountable for a good part of Columbia's defeat, and some of Constitution's, although Columbia had been clearly outsalled while the wind held steady. This was the last race of the Glencove series.
