

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Output of Gold for Month of May Reaches a Big Total.

HIDDEN FORTUNE PLANT AT WORK

Over Three Hundred Tons of Ore Daily Are Being Treated at Whitehead Creek—New Strike on the Phenacot.

DEADWOOD, S. D., May 31.—(Special.)

The shipments of gold from the United States assay office for the month of May will amount to something over $300,000, which, when the fact is taken into consideration that several of the largest producing plants in the Hills have been idle for the greater part of the month, is a very good record. The Spearfish company on Wednesday sent down to the office its largest gold brick it ever turned out for a fifteen-day run. The brick weighed 1,175 ounces and was valued at something over $22,000. The Deadwood-Standard, working part of the capacity of its mill, sent down for the last half of May a brick valued at $5,000. The Phenacot company also sent a large brick, valued at something like $14,000. Wash 2 and the other Yellow Creek producers will swell the list before the week closes.

After many vexatious delays, the big plant of the Hidden Fortune company on Whitehead creek below Deadwood is running steadily and has been since the first of the week, treating 30 tons of ore daily. It is doing very well and, according to Patrick and Grants miners of the company, located on the divide between Central City and Lead. The company will by the end of this week have its claims on the north end of its ground connected with the railroad and ore shipment from there will be completed. The Colorado Iron Works company, which built the mill under a contract to turn it over to the Hidden Fortune in perfect running order, is operating the mill and will continue to do so until the thirty days' test which it agreed to make has been completed. The big plant is running smoothly at the present time and the indications are that it will continue in operation indefinitely. The company has a large reserve of ore from which to draw and the probabilities are that its product will be added to the gold production of the Hills for many years to come.

Phenacot's New Strike.

Another new strike has been made in the Phenacot, the second within a very short time. The new strike is an ore body ten feet in thickness and of unknown length and breadth, carrying average values of $16 a ton. The new shoot lies to the east of the main workings and has a north-south and southerly course, and is a good quality proposition.

The shaft of the Big Four Mining company is now down to the 100-foot level, and it is getting too deep to haul the material from the bottom by hand with profit, so the company has decided to install a hoisting plant and an air compressor. The machinery has been installed, and work is now being done on the hoisting shaft. It is being lowered to the 600-foot level. The property of the company is located on Deadwood gulch, along the phonetic belt, and at the present depth of the shaft, great quantities of ore have been done, revealing an excellent quality of ore. The Big Four is regarded as a good proposition by mining men, for with its present development it is showing up almost as well as some of the adjacent properties on which a great deal more work has been done.

James D. Hardin, who is the local manager of the company which recently purchased the ground of the Union Hill Mining company at Glenn, has been in the city making arrangements to resume work at various places. He is expected to start work on the ground by the 10th of June, and expects to accomplish results. Mr. Hardin is well acquainted with the ground and the work which he will put on it will not be thrown away.

Horseshoe is in Better Shape.

The affairs of the Horseshoe Mining company are getting in a much better shape than they were some time ago, and the chances for the company to take its place among the good things of the Hills are very promising. Work in the mines of the company has been resumed and daily shipments of rich ore to eastern smelters are being made. It is given out that the smelter of the company at Rapid City will begin in again by July 1, and that there will be sufficient ore of a value high enough to warrant the assertion that its next run will be profitable. Edward Manion, one of the best mining men in the west, and the west wall toward which is being run has not been struck. The ore which is being taken from the workings is carefully tested and assayed every day and shows an average richness of $4.9 a ton, which is rich for a promising proposition when the fact is considered that the Horseshoe company will begin building operations this summer, and put one of the largest stamp mills in the Hills upon the property.

The plan of the Dakota Mining company, which has been in the city for some time in June, it is said, has again started, the internal difficulties which hampered operations having been amicably adjusted.

From Bear Lodge Mountains.

LEAD, S. D., May 31.—(Special.)—Patrick McHugh and Charles Deane of this city have returned from a prospecting trip into the Bear Lodge mountains of Wyoming. The gentlemen spent three weeks on Golden creek, twelve miles prospecting as well as the deep snow, which still covered the ground, would permit. They brought back with them numerous samples of ore which they picked up on the ground and broke from prospecting. The results of the assays of the samples taken from the mines on the alluvial belt of the Black Hills, and one or two assays made of it shows that it carries fair value. The gentlemen, while in the Bear Lodge, staked out several claims and it is said, that for sometime in June, they are some of the shoots which they could trace on the surface were at least a couple of hundred feet in width. The snow prevented their making a very close examination of the vein is considered, but the gentlemen who left for home, leaving their tents and other camp outfit on the ground.

Country is much higher than the Black Hills.

The country is much higher than the Black Hills, which it adjoins on the north, but has all of its characteristic of the Black Hills. It is covered by a heavy growth of timber, while the creeks which flow through it run sufficient water for all mining purposes. It is an ideal country in which to prospect, and although it has been known for years that gold existed there but little attention has been paid to it, the ore being of a much lower grade than that found in the Hills, but as no attempt has ever been made to go to its depths, the mining has not been done in the country, as nothing is to be done for as rich shoots and as extensive verticals may be found there as are found in the Hills. The reports and ore which Messrs. McHugh and Deane bring back from their trip has awakened considerable interest in the city, and it is possible that when they return in June they will be accompanied by several Lead people and that a small stamped in that direction will be started. The snow will be melted by the middle of June and the men who take supplies with them and start a good-sized permanent camp.

The meeting of the executive committee of the American Mining congress, which was held in Lead last week, attracted considerable attention from the mining men of the Hills, and at the last meeting of the Black Hills Mining Men's association, held in this city, the members of the committee were shown especial attention. The work of the committee was purely of a nature to prepare the program for the congress, which will meet in this city and Deadwood next September. The program is now being prepared for publication, and will be given to the press in a short time. Secretary Mahon of the committee has established an office in the Hills, and will remain here until after the adjournment of the congress.

Mill High Group Prospers.

CUSTER CITY, S. D., May 31.—(Special.)—The Mill High group of claims, situated in the Phenacot district, is showing up well from recent developments. Samples of ore are taken from the two shafts which are being sunk on the property give returns of $12.50 and $10 respectively. There are twenty-six claims in the group, and most of them more or less work has been done, disclosing ore bodies. A company has recently been organized to develop the property, and work on an extensive scale will be soon be set on foot. The property is situated in a good locality and is surrounded by mines which have produced excellent ore.

W. W. Olds returned the first part of the week from a visit to Michigan and says that during his absence he made arrangements to resume work on the Old Charley mine at Four Mile. He will leave the coming week for Denver and purchase the necessary machinery to do deep mining on the property. A hoist, air compressor and the necessary pumping plant will be installed on the property as soon as possible; the old mill building will be torn down and removed from its present location to the mine, which will do away with a long ore haul. At the present depth there is enough water coming into the mine to run a cyanide or a chlorination plant, it being the intention to put in the process which shall prove from experiments to be the one to adopt. The Old Charley has produced some very rich ore, but its value lies in the fact that the vein is a large one, and, aside from the rich streak which made it famous, carries good average values.

H. D. Clark of Old Springs and W. R. Millham and S. E. Ahnals of Custer City have recently located a group of claims in the vicinity of this city which, from the little work on the surface which has been done on them, promises to develop into something good. Plans for the development of the property have been taken from the very outcroppings of the vein or at a depth not to exceed twelve feet, show values ranging from $3.40 to $12.3 a ton. The group is being developed.

ATTACK FRENCH GOVERNOR

Moore Invites Him to Visit Their Party.

LONDON, May 31.—Advices from Algeria report that M. Jonaert, the governor general, was attacked by nomads near Figui and while journeying from Djennat to Benimouit with a large party. A brief fusillade ensued, in which thirteen persons were seriously wounded. M. Jonaert was not hurt.

Later dispatches from Benimouit shows that the attack on the governor general might have had the most serious consequences. M. Jonaert, who was recently appointed to the governor generalship, was making a tour of inspection. Speaking at a banquet at Djennat-Ed-Dar Friday, he announced that a number of guns would be sent to the port to complete its armament and concluded: "Actions speak louder than words and we do not need to dissimulate. Without encroaching on the domain of diplomacy we mean to enforce all of our rights and defend to the death the honor of our flag."

Governor Jonaert, who is a Frenchman at Benimouit Saturday morning. Arriving at Henaga pass, he was met by the owner of Figui, who invited him to enter the Senaga valley, a series of ravines, bogs and difficult ground. The party advanced to within 200 yards of Figui and inspected the town, all the walls of which were loopholed and manned. The women in the town raised loud cries.

After observing the scene for some minutes the party retraced its steps along the banks toward the pass, but had proceeded scarcely 200 yards when a shot was fired from Figui and this was speedily followed by a fusillade, which a company of French sharpshooters, who were with the governor general's party, returned as well as the nature of the ground permitted. The governor Jonaert, with General O'Connor, and several other officers, were with the party. The party reached the pass amid the his of bullets, but they were unhurt. Reinforcements meantime were sent from Djennat-Ed-Dar.

All the wounded belonged to the escort.

The Amer of Figui, except for one man, was killed by the bayonet. Troops were sent to encamp in the Zenaga pass to endeavor to capture the caravan raiders, and an ultimatum has been sent threatening to bombard Henaga and Figui unless the Moorish raids upon caravans in French territory cease. There is no doubt that the incident will decide the French government to police the border.

EXILE FOR THE BULGARIANS

Turk Hopes Thereby to Restore Order in Albanian Provinces.

LONDON, June 1.—Dispatches from Constantinople to the Times show that the Porte claims that the sale of Albanian chiefs has restored tranquility, but the Ukub correspondent of the paper says he expects further fighting in Albania. The Turkish authorities propose to exile without trial 300 leading Bulgarians from the whole of Macedonia. These exiles are mostly prominent members of the high standing and have been selected as the most dangerous of the 300 persons long suspected of being ringleaders, who were recently arrested. There is a distinct recrudescence of hostilities on the part of the rebel bands, and six conflicts are reported from various directions. Large
