Fornker for Hanna Always.

Senator Foraker, on being introduced by Senator Hanna as the permanent chairman, spoke as follows, being repeatedly interrupted by cheers:

This is Hanna's year-yeaterday was, ir an especial sense, Hanna's day and he im proved it to the utmost. He made our key note speech and I do not hesitate to say it was one of the best I ever heard in any

We have three great duties before us to scharge, all of them important and serharge, all of them important and ser-but easy to perform. the first place, we have the duty of inating here today, and electing in

Our second duty is broader, more im-portant, more serious, but easier still. It is that of electing Senator Hanna to be his own successor. That is so easy that if let alone it will do it itself. But we are not going to let it alone. We are all going to help to do it. And we intend to keep on re-electing him from time to time, just as long as he lives, and we hope he may live forever.

third duty to which I have referred is yet broader, more important, more ser-jous, but if possible, easier still, if any-thing could be easier, and that is to elect Theodore Roosevelt to be his own suc-cessor. We intend to do this because he, like Senstor Hanna, merits the honor; has fairly won it. fairly won it.

Has Surpassed Expectations.

He entered upon the duties of the presi-ency under the most trying circumstances, here were many who doubted his ability There were many who predicted his ability to succeed, many who predicted failure, but today it can be truthfully said that he has not only met but he has surpassed the most sanguine expectations of his most con-fident and most ardent friends. The people of this country have come to know him, because of the works he has done, as a man of brins, as a man of courage, as a man of pure ideals, as a man who is fearless in the discharge of his duty. Quick he is of conception—as it has been said also that he is a sure shot. He hits the buils-eye every time and he will hit the buils-eye in 1904. I do not hesitate to speak in this manner at this time, because we are all agreed that next year he is to be are all agreed that next year he is to our candidate and that next year we triumphantly elect him to the presidence continue to administer republican poi and believe honce and elect to the cut triumphantly elect him to the presidency to continue to administer republican policies and bring honor and glory to the nation. It is a subject of congratulation, my friends as we here today enter upon the initial battle of 1004, that the republicans not only of this state but also of the whole country should be united, as they will be, upon poli-cies, purposes, aspirations and ambitions. We are not halting or doubting about any policy. We are not divided about any question. But look at the ranks of democ-racy! They are all broken. Half of them don't know whether they are yet for free sliver or not. Half of them don't know whether they should be for free trade on against it. And as we are united about questions, so too are we united about egained IL. And as we are united about oundidates the candidate for governor, the candidate for senator and the candidate for president, while they are not united any-where upon any man. Bryan does not want "leveland, and Cleveland does not want "Sryan and neither one of them wants inybody else. But that is perhaps as we'll leveland, and Cleveland does not want Sryan and neither one of them wants inybody else. But that is perhaps as well is not other way, for it does not make a git of difference who they sominate. We will do as Senator Hanna suggested yes-terday. We will declare anew our belief in our principles and purpose, nominate our candidate and go straight forward, and if they don't get out of the way, run over them.

Report of Platform Committee.

The report of the platform committee, as presented by Chairman Charles Dick, was adopted with an amendment asking national as well as state aid for good roads.

All commodities have trary toll in and out having been simply added to the Council Bluffs distance rate. thereby giving that city an unquestionable and a great advantage over Omaha in all matters concerning Iowa commerce.

Lets Iowa Stock In.

The good effect which the new tariffs will have upon the South Omaha packing houses can scarcely be estimated at this time. It has been hard for them to get cattle and other live stock out of lows from a distance of from fifty to 100 miles because of the $4 toll which practically resulted in an embargo on inland cattle. The stockman found it cheaper to send his product to Chicago. He footed the freight bill and he learned by experience that the Omaha bridge arbitrary was a costly thing. Consequently the cutting out of this charge will offer greater attractions for the local live stock market to the Iowa stock raiser. the packing houses are again affected in the subtraction of the $8 toll which they had to pay on their products destined to Iowa cities and towns. This was so high as to discourage nearly all competition and the field has been left largely to lows packers.

Considerable Iowa coal is burned in Omaha. The reduction of $5 a car on the Blacksmiths Look for Conclusion of transportation should logically result in lower fuel prices in this city. The lumber market also should be affected to a limited extent, while exports across the Missouri ought to be greatly augmented.
