We have not been bothered with floods of of rain, which is putting the ranges in the very finest shape. There are some sheep coming into the country, and it is likely that some trouble will crop out sooner or later. Over beyond us, at Luck, an ugly feeling is growing against the encroachment of the sheep, though the cattle are in ahead of them, and the sheep are being herded in small bunches in sections that are not available for cattle. A very large number of cattle are being pastured in the Owl Creek country, northwest of us. and they are in the finest condition. There is no farming of any character being done in that section, as it is exclusively a cat-
