ST. LOUIS, June 6-Like an inland sea the swollen Mississippi has spread out over the Illinois shore about St. Louis. A magnificent view of the angry waters is ob tained from Eades bridge by the thousands of spectators who throng the structure. Far away to the southeast the water covers lower East St. Louis and a big grain elevator that at normal stages stands high above the water line is now isolated with a heavy current pouring past its inland side. Half submerged freight cars stand on the siding and tree tops appear above the surface like small bushes. The shipping district presents a small peninsula on which freight houses stand a short distance above the flood, but beyond these extends a lake half a mile wide, while the water at the eastern edge laps at the foundations of tall business blocks. The foundation whatsoever, although it was St. Louis Hay Warehouse company's building, situated on the levee near Endes bridge, is half submerged and as the water cities. Government Forecaster Bowie be great loss of life before morning. tonight issued a statement that the rise will continue rapidly for the next fortyeight hours and a stage of 37.5 feet will be registered by Monday. He says this stage will certainly be reached and it is probable that the water will go to thirty-eight feet.

Two lives have been lost in the flood, but in both cases the fatalities were the result of accidents, both being boys who ventured too near the treacherous waters, slipped in and were swept away. The victims were James Linton, jr., and John Clark. The body of the latter was recovered late today.

For a time today train service to the west was cut off. The Missouri Pacific track had been used since the flood began by all the western roads and today the swift current of the Missouri undermined a portion of the track bed between St. Louis and Jefferson City. Workmen and carloads of filling were rushed to the spot and the track bed was speedily rebuilt strongly and substantially and service was being drowned near Columbus. resumed this afternoon.

Malaria is caused by a sluggish liver. If the liver and its ducts are kept in good con-dition there is no danger of malaria. In diseases of the liver the bowels are consti pated and this condition must be remedied if a cure is expected.

"I have been using Warner's Safe Cure for the past four months for maiarla and liver trouble. My whole system was permeated with the poison and my blood was in a very bad condition. Father had used the medicine for kidney trouble and had been cured, so he thought it might help me, Although I did not take it regularly, I felt I was slowly improving; then I had more faith in it and took it according to directions. THE OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER

She is Still With Us and Has Come to Stay.

To the old-fashioned mother the mighty manhood of American doffs its hat—the old-fashioned mother who found time from her innumerable duties to look after her her innumerable duties to look after her children, feeling that they were intrusted to her for a short time only; that they in turn were to become history makers, and that she was responsible for their early training. Millions of noble mothers are to-day teaching their children that Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound cures and prevents disease and makes strong, healthy men and women. Thirty days' treatment can be had from any drug store for twenty-five cents.
