DENVER TAKES SECOND GAME Bourkeites Make Only Three Hits During the Nine Innings.

MORE PROLIFIC WITH ERRORS, HOWEVER

Listiess Work of the Home Team Accounts in Large Measure for Its Defeat-Another Game with Denver Today.

Denver's men took the second game of the series from Omaha yesterday by bunching their hits in the fifth inning and gaining a final score of 5 to 2. Barber was effective all of the time and kept the locals flown with three scattered hits, one of which was a two-bagger and resulted in a run. Henderson was not at his best, failing at critical times and then not receiving the best of support.

At the bat Omaha was very weak, the players failing to evince any interest in the game when hits were needed, but working all of the time in a listless sort of way that could not fail to lose the game. There was a tendency on the part of half of the focal team to loaf after Denver once got a score in and the runs were made partly through their ragged work, which was inexcusable. Yet it was not a year ago that this same Barber was pitching for Milthis same Barber was pitching for Mil-Games today: Brooklyn at St. Louis; waukee on these same grounds and was New York at Chicago; Philadelphia at Cinunmercifully slaughtered by the Rourkeites. This they seemed to have forgotten and so the wooden Indian style of batting.

The game started out like a whirlwind went to third on Dolan's fumble of Hartzel's hot grounder. But Dolan immediately redeemed his error by throwing McHale out at first and saving the inning. Omaha drew a goose egg then and in the second both teams did so again.

With the third the Grizzlies garnered their first run with no one out. Barber started out with a double to left field and came cantering home when Delehanty singled in the other field. But that was all they could get in the infing. For Omaha Gonding was up and duplicated Barber's hit and stole third and home while Radcliffe was making a bad fumble. Then Henderson flew out, Carter flew out to Radeliffe, who made a sensational catch and Genins went out at first.

In the fifth Denver drew another talley on a base on balls, a passed ball and a double. Then Omaha added one in the sixth on Genins' single, Radcliffe's error and a wild pitch, and that was all they ever got.

Meanwhile the Grizzlies drew three handsome tallies in their half of the sixth. Mc-Hale walked after Hartzel had fanned. Patterson sliced a nice single out into right and McHale scored while Genins was fielding in Radcliffe's long fly. Then Lattimer doubled and Barber singled and two more runs came in and the game was won. Today Denver and Omaha will meet again to try their poettle. Score:

It amounts to $8,000. The horse's rubber received $1,000. McChesney carried the top weight of 127 pounds on a heavy track-not to his liking in a big field of nineteen horses, which was delayed seventeen minutes at the post. The race could not have been more truly run. The start was good. Jockey Gray, who rode McChesney because Jockey Bullman was injured in New York, did all and probably more than that eastern rider could have accomplished. Gregor K. jumped out into the front and the big California colt, Epicure, followed him and Linguist came next. Mc-Chesney was sixth. It was a brilliant piece of jockeying on Gray's part.

McChesney Moves Up. The field did not string far out on the back stretch, but ran nicely and fairly well bunched. Gregor K. kept the lead by a length with Epicure and Linguist close up. Passing the half mile, McChesney was sixth. Jockey Gray moved him up a little, not quickly, but easily, naturally and handily. When the big field had made the bend McChesney had quietly moved up to second place. Only Gregor K. stood between him and victory. The cries of "McChesney wins" began to come and every stride farther down the stretch told that the story was true. Just sitting still and allowing the horse to do his best was the part played by Gray. Gradually McChesney came to the front. He had the race won an eighth of a mile out. Farther along he had a lead of two lengths, and when Gregor K. proved unable to gain, Jockey Gray eased up and won by a little over a length. For Gregor K, it must be said that he ran a good race. It would have been a greater performance but for the fact that it was overshadowed by the wonderful victory of McChesney. Hargis maintained his speed and ran third. Time of the race was 2:10%, which was good considering the track and conditions. The crowd could not get through cheering. There were renewed rounds of applause every minute. The placing of the floral saddle, the appearance of Sam Hildreth in front of the judge's stand and the sight of Jockey Gray were all made excuses for new cheers. Mr. Smathers, pleased | beyond expression, took it as a most personal victory as it vindicates the price he
