

LONG STRIKE IS OVER

Blacksmiths Sign an Agreement with the Union Pacific Road.

ARE TO RETURN TO THEIR FORGES TODAY

Settlement is Similar to that Reached with the Other Two Trades.

OLD MEN TO BE REINSTATED IN PLACES

Increase of Ten Per Cent in Pay and Nine-Hour Day Granted.

PIECE WORK LEFT TO OPTION OF MEN

Rumor of a Hitch on the Question of Foreman in Omaha Shops is Declared to Have Been Groundless.

Upon these terms, corresponding with those regulating the settlement with the boiler makers and machinists, the blacksmiths yesterday concluded a settlement and signed an agreement with the Union Pacific.

Strike declared on Monday; men to return to work Tuesday.

All old men reinstated who apply for work within thirty days.

Piecework left to the discretion of the men.

An average of 10 per cent increase in pay.

Nine hours to constitute a day's work.

The matter of the nonunion men is left to adjust itself. This statement of the terms is officially given out by both sides.

Both the former strikers and the company seem well pleased with the outcome and happy over the fact that the strike is ended and peace restored.

Throughout the long conferences, which were animated at times, a fraternal feeling existed and the men express their appreciation at the treatment they received.

President Burt and Superintendent McKean.

About 20 blacksmiths and helpers joined in the strike, all save those at Denver going out July 5.

The Denver men struck June 3 with the machinists.

Omaha Denver, Cheyenne and Kansas City are the places where the men struck.

The workmen in the other shops along the system did not go out.

About seventy-five is the total number of Omahans. Many of these have been at work elsewhere, but nearly all will return and resume their former places.

No Fight on Foremen.

A rumor was out during the conferences that the blacksmiths were making a fight against the foreman at the Omaha shops.

Mr. Mould, James W. Kline, executive committee member for the blacksmiths, who has had charge of the strike here, emphatically denies the rumor.

Whatever was directed toward any foreman, Mr. Kline expressed for himself and others appreciation at the courtesy extended the committee by Superintendent McKean.

Mr. Mould and one or two others of showing them the new shops.

"We are thoroughly satisfied with the terms of the agreement," said President John Sloum of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, after the settlement, and his words were voiced by his associates on the committee.

The men who participated in the conferences with President Burt and Superintendent McKean were President John M. Colvin of Moline, James W. Kline and H. M. Colvin of Kansas City, D. C. Tuhey of Cheyenne, and William Grieb, John Wallace, James White, Charles Hender of Omaha. Mr. Sloum left for his home in Moline yesterday afternoon and the other gentlemen from abroad will leave at once.

This practically wipes out the Union Pacific strike, which has been in progress since the workmen returned to their old places in the shops yesterday.

Men, helpers and apprentices who went out at Omaha eight-fifty went back and many more reported for duty, but took leaves of absence to attend to private matters before returning.

Others will return to the city after having been at work elsewhere, and resume their places. Of the 700 or 800 who struck on the entire system it is believed the overwhelming majority will be back in the shops within the sixty-day limit given for their return.

The machinists, as well as the boiler makers, are well pleased with their settlement and perfect harmony seems to prevail.

Cheyenne Men Return.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 8.—About fifty Cheyenne striking machinists and boiler workers returned to work in the Cheyenne shops this afternoon. It is understood the blacksmiths will resume work this week. The strike is practically ended here.

MURDERS TO ESCAPE WORK

Negro Shoots White Creditor and is Lynched by Georgia Mob.

MACON, Ga., June 8.—W. Cope Winslow, Jr., whose father was one of the leading members of the Georgia bar, was instantly killed by a mob of negroes.

Peavy on the former's farm near Fort Valley this afternoon.

The negro owed Mr. Winslow a small amount of money and was asked to work out the debt. He refused and shot Mr. Winslow through the forehead.

Peavy was soon captured and turned over to the sheriff, but later a mob broke him and he was hanged. His body was riddled with bullets.

POPE REPORTED WELL AGAIN

Holy Father Recovers Usual Health and Strength Without Operation.

ROME, June 8.—The pope's health continues favorable. Since the time his illness was announced by Perugia he has been occasionally troubled with hemorrhoids, especially after a period of fatigue.

This is the case now.

Fortunately the reappearance of the trouble was accompanied by hemorrhage, thus avoiding the necessity of an operation. The pope has experienced much relief and may be said tonight to be entirely well again.

ARAB BRIGANDS PUNISHED

French Artillery Bombard the Village of Figlig with Deadly Effect.

CHICAGO WAITERS SECURING CONCESSIONS

Four thousand Building Men Walk Out at Pittsburgh and 25,000 Are Expected to Be Idle Soon.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Samuel Parks, business end of the Housemiths' and Bridgemen's union, was arrested today and held in bonds for a hearing tomorrow on a charge of extortion preferred by President Paulson of the Hecla Iron Works and R. A. McKean, president of the American Bridge company. It is alleged Parks was given a check for $2,000 to settle a strike in the Hecla Iron Works in May, 1902.

District Attorney Jerome appeared personally at the hearing and asked for heavy bail. He said:

I have received notice that this defendant has collected large sums of money. In the recent subway strike I am given to understand that he got $5,000.

After his arraignment Park said he took the check in question, but said it was to be used for the waiting time of the men on strike.

Frank Bowman, president of the International Structural Iron Workers, said today that Parks had shown the check at one of the meetings saying it had been given him by the Hecla people for waiting time, meaning that it was to go toward paying the men for the strike they lost while they were on strike.

A large number of men received money from the check.

Writers Obtain Concessions.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Two additional restaurants were added to those tied up by the striking waiters and cooks today, although nearly a score of managers and proprietors visited the strikers' headquarters and signed the peace scale.

Several prominent clubs have also entered into negotiations with the union leaders and one, the Washington Park club, is said to have granted the demands of both waiters and bartenders.

Employees of the Union League club were ordered out this afternoon and quit work.

Four Thousand Quit.

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—Four thousand men were thrown out of employment today by the end of the week. It is expected 25,000 more will be idle as the result of the action of the Builders' league in ordering a general suspension of all building work until an adjustment of the differences between the stonemasons and bricklayers has been reached.

Ship Builders Suspend.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The machinists in the yards of the Standard-Dowry Ship Building company went on strike today and in doing so completed a general strike of the machinists in all the ship yards of the firm belonging to the New York Metal Trades association in Greater New York.

New Jersey and Staten Island.

Practically all the local ship-building firms are members of the Metal Trades association and the strike involves 2,000 or more machinists.

A meeting of the Metal Trades association was held today, following which H. C. Hunter, secretary of the association, said:

During the past week practically all the machinists who were members of the International Machinists' union have gone on strike. All the amalgamated machinists are working.

At the conference held today to consider the strike it was unanimously resolved not to concede any of the demands of the local union.

The meeting adopted resolutions in favor of an appeal to the Bulgarian government for a diplomatic solution and a recourse to arms as a last resort.

The members are continuing to adopt rigorous measures to prevent spread of the plague. All the household effects of the family with which the late Dr. Sachs boarded have been confiscated and burned, and all persons who came into contact with the deceased have been segregated for observation.

Frequent conferences continue to be held at the ministry of education with specialists of the hospital where Dr. Sachs died, all the barracks of that institution have been cleaned out and disinfected and visits to the patients have been forbidden.

MACEDONIANS DISTRUST BEAR

Consider Russia Could Settle Balkan Troubles in Single Day if Willing.

SOPIA, June 8.—At an immense meeting held today, Michailovitch, the president of the Macedonian committee, declared the only hope for Macedonia was a direct approach between Bulgaria and Turkey.

The Macedonian committee, he said, had too long been regarded by the world as the tool of Russia, who could stop the Turkish atrocities in a single day if it wished. He advised supporting Bulgaria in exhausting every means for a pacific solution of the Macedonian question.

The meeting adopted resolutions in favor of an appeal to the Bulgarian government for a diplomatic solution and a recourse to arms as a last resort.

The members are continuing to adopt rigorous measures to prevent spread of the plague. All the household effects of the family with which the late Dr. Sachs boarded have been confiscated and burned, and all persons who came into contact with the deceased have been segregated for observation.

Frequent conferences continue to be held at the ministry of education with specialists of the hospital where Dr. Sachs died, all the barracks of that institution have been cleaned out and disinfected and visits to the patients have been forbidden.

ATTACK AMERICAN CUSTOMS

Austro-Hungarian Exporters Declare European Imports Unjustly Handled.

VIENNA, June 8.—The Austrian and Hungarian exporters' association has sent a circular to its members regarding what it describes as the chicanery practiced by the American customs appraisers in handling European imports.

The circular points out that much injustice results from the course of procedure in the case of appeal from the decision of the appraisers, the importers not being permitted sufficient time to obtain proofs from the country of origin that their invoices correspond to the market value of the goods in the country where they are manufactured.

The members are invited to inform the association of all cases where they suffer similar injustice, in order that collective evidence may be submitted to the American government.

KING'S MEDAL FOR AMERICAN

Edward Grants Signal Honor to New York Architect.

LONDON, June 8.—In order to associate himself with the American nation and President Roosevelt in the partial remodeling of the White House, King Edward has awarded the royal gold medal for the promotion of architecture to C. F. McKim, the New York architect, who designed the medal.

The presentation of the medal was fixed for June 22. On the following day a dinner will be given in honor of McKim at the Royal Institute of British Architects, the guests including Ambassador Choate.

FRANCHISE FOR WHITES ONLY

Colored Men Will Not Be Allowed to Vote in Transvaal.

PRETORIA, Transvaal, June 8.—In consequence of the opposition to the municipal franchise of colored men the government has decided to amend the municipal ordinance so as to exclude aliens as well as colored men, thus restricting the franchise to white British subjects.

NAMES MANILA ARCHBISHOP

Vatican Announces Appointment of Rev. J. Hartz of St. Louis.

ROME, June 8.—The Vatican today officially announced that Rev. J. J. Hartz, pastor of St. Leo's church of St. Louis, has been appointed archbishop of Manila.

UNION LEADER IN TOILS

Charged with Extorting Money to Settle Iron Workers' Strike.

BOLD FELONS STILL FREE

Poses Parole Prisoners Who Slew Death Watcher and Escaped from Jail.

MATHEWSON CASE IS NEXT

Indian Office to Decide Soon Whether He is Named Bonded Superintendent.

PRESENT POSITION ENDS JULY FIRST

William J. Carroll, Formerly of Omaha, is Buried at Washington.

—Routine Matters in the Department.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(Special Telegram.)—W. A. Jones, commissioner of Indian affairs, after nearly two months' absence from the department, superintending the opening of bids for annual supplies for the Indian service in Chicago and New York, is again at his desk.

During the absence of Mr. Jones there has been some matters which have been held in abeyance until his return, among them being the question as to what disposition shall be made of Agent Matheuson in Chicago and Winnebago reservation. The last congress failed to appropriate money for the purpose of continuing the Indian agency, and on July 1, Mr. Matheuson will be out of a job, unless Commissioner Jones and Secretary Hitchcock should decide to appoint him bonded superintendent of Indian schools at the Omaha and Winnebago agency, a course which is, by the way, now being seriously considered. Indian agents who have been legislated out of their positions by failure of congress to appropriate money pay their salaries have in many cases been appointed "bonded" school superintendents at salaries almost as good as that which they formerly received. Commissioner Jones said today that he would take up the Matheuson case with the secretary of the interior this week, and it is expected that almost any day a conclusion may be announced.

Former Nebraskaan Buried.

Funeral services over the remains of William J. Carroll, formerly of Omaha, were held this afternoon in the chapel of the undertaking establishment of William J. Lee, and interment was at Rock Creek cemetery. A number of Nebraska friends, ex-senator Thurston, with whom Mr. Carroll had been associated during former years, being among the number.

Frank H. Broadfield of Omaha has been visiting the capital for several days upon pleasure bent, and left tonight for Philadelphia, and goes to New York upon business prior to his return to Omaha.

Room for Taft.

There is a quiet movement on foot to make Governor Taft governor of the Philippine islands, the vice presidential candidate with Theodore Roosevelt. Just how far this movement has progressed cannot be determined but his name was upon the lips of men in Washington today who were formally at the presidential offices.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

It now transpires that the opposition to endorsing President Roosevelt at the time on the part of the senior senator from Ohio was only a ruse to hold the Ohio convention unbound to any candidate until Governor Taft's name had been presented formally as a vice presidential candidate. The activity, however, of Mr. Roosevelt's partisans in Ohio in insisting upon an endorsement of his administration and further insisting upon endorsing him for the presidential nomination of 1904, is not a change in the program.

Governor Taft, however, is being seriously groomed for the vice presidency and it is understood he has back of him many of the astute politicians of the Buckeye state.

To those who know Judge Taft there will be much wonderment that he would accept the vice presidency, in view of his ability and his comparative youth. But more and more are the great parties looking to a vice president who will have all the qualifications a president should possess.

DEGREE OF HONOR PROSPERS

Membership Put at 85,555 in Iowa Secretary's Official Report.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 8.—The superior lodge, Degree of Honor, auxiliary to the supreme lodge, Ancient Order of United Workmen, opened its session here today.

Some