BELGRADE, June 15 .- Prince Peter Karsgeorgevitch was duly elected king of Servia this afternoon in joint session of the Senate and Skupshtina. The announcement was received with every manifestation of rejoiding.

The presiding officer of the joint session proposed the election of Prince Peter as king. Cheers greeted the proposal, which were repeated on the announcement that the vote was unanimous. (3). No officer must accept any reward for the services he rendered his country in the removal of King Alexander.

(4). No officer who is arrested shall appear before the courts in military uniform. The day's proceedings on the whole were characterized by singular impassiveness. Only in the unreserved admiration for Colonel Machin and the other conspirators could it be seen that the event was eminently popular. It was evident during the ceremony, where Colonel Machin stood conspicuously among the numerous brilliant uniforms, and decorations, how proud he is of his work. When, later in the day, the late Queen Draga's regiment, with the other troops of the garrison, took the oath of allegiance, it was obvious that they were in complete ignorance of what they were doing. They swore allegiance to a constihas not yet been formulated that they would have as readily taken an oath of allegiance to the caar or the emperor of Austria. Servia, having no nobility, is governed by the military and official classes, whom the masses blindly obey. The town is full of unsavory gossip concerning the late queen and there is not a scintilla of sympathy for the murdered

It was understood that the army was bound to maintain a monarchy at all costs; therefore, all declarations for a republic were speedily suppressed and the adherents of a republican form of government were compelled to fall back on other proposals, such as supporting Prince Mirko Montenegro and King Peter's son George. A wordy battle raged long and means more effective than eloquence are opposing elements into acquiescence.

Peter Receives News.

GENEVA, June 15 .- King Peter received calmly, but with evident satisfaction, the telegraphic notification of his election as king, to which he wired his acceptance. He also telegraphed to the em perors of Russia and Austria and to the king of Italy, announcing his election and adding that he hoped to work for the good of Servia.

Subsequently, as he received congratulations, King Peter became more excited, laughed hysterically, marched vigorously up and down the room and finally flung blimself in a chair, trembling with ex-His acceptance of the throne is stated to be subject to four conditions; First-That the action of the Skupshtina is constitutional and entirely free from bribery or force.

The massacre at Kishineff was the principal topic of discussion. The council besought the president to use his good offices to secure the ear of the crar. He said the investigation had shown that it is impossible for a high school teacher to do the full amount of work required and retain health.

Member McIntosh objected because he said the cost of teaching in the high school would be increased 20 per cent.

Chairman Funkhouser maintained that only four or five more teachers would be necessary.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 15 .- The most appalling disaster in the history of the state occurred last evening when Heppner was almost entirely destroyed by a cloudburst and probably 500 people drowned. Heppner is the county reat of Morrow county and has about 1.250 inhabitants.

The most reliable reports this evening state that the loss of life will be at least 500 and may be larger. All the telegraph and telephone wires are down and no accurate information can be secured. A report from Ione, seventeen miles from Heppner, states that 200 bodies have been recovered and coffins are asked for for their interment.

About 6 last night a wall of water twenty feet high rushed down into the gulch in which Heppner is situated and carried everything before it. The flood came with such suddeness that the inhabitants were unable to seek places of safety and were swept away. Almost the entire residence portion of the town was wiped out, but some of the business part, which is on higher ground, escaped. Huge boulders weighing a ton were washed down by the current and many people were killed by being dashed against the rocky bluff. Early in the afternoon a thunderstorm broke over a wide region of country and
