

SPEED OF THE SCOOT WAGON

Council Doubles Seven Miles an Hour in Fast Enough Down Town.

PAYMENT FOR PUBLIC WORKS EMPLOYEES

April and May Payrolls Recommended in Despite of the Adverse Opinion of City Attorney Wright.

Automobiles and their speed were subjects discussed by the council in committee meeting yesterday afternoon, and it was decided to pass the ordinance against reckless and careless running, which City Prosecutor Lee is anxious to have enacted.

Councilman Evans put himself on record in favor of the slowest possible speed for the horseless carriages, Huntington related some of his experiences on West Farnam street, where he said he had nearly been knocked "galley-west" several times, and Councilman O'Brien narrated a recent fast ride, his conclusion being that it "takes a lot of sand" to operate an auto.

Mr. Deight favored an ordinance requiring chauffeurs to pass an examination and secure a license from the municipal board of engineers, but no action was taken upon the suggestion.

President Zimmerman and Councilmen Evans, O'Brien, Dyball, Back, Schroeder and Huntington were present, Hoye and Nicholson being out of the city.

Employees to Be Paid.

Despite the protests of O'Brien and Huntington, the committee decided to recommend for payment the $12,000 in salaries due Board of Public Works employees for labor performed during April. Their opposition was grounded on an opinion by City Attorney Wright that the claims are not legal because the men worked without the confirmation of the council and mayor, as provided in the charter amendments effective April 2. The May payroll of the department also remains unpaid for the same reason.

Street Railway Paving.

President Zimmerman brought up the old subject of taking steps to compel the street railway company to place in good repair paving torn up and replaced with inferior material using cement instead of asphaltum, as an example. A resolution was passed arranging for a conference of the general manager of the railway, the city engineer and the council at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

"I believe in being fair with the company," said Zimmerman. "All we want or can expect is that it will leave the street in as good condition as it finds it. If it refuses then I believe in using such measures of compulsion as can be found."

To Fix Appropriations.

Friday the council will meet with the heads of the various departments and make the appropriations for the next fiscal year. An all-day session is anticipated, though the offices of the treasurer, comptroller, city clerk and tax commissioner have been provided for. The questions involved concern the assistants and clerks in the various departments, and if there is any retrenchment along this line it will be done Friday.

Street Parade.

A superb street parade indexing the resources of Gentry Bros., famous shows will move through the principal streets of the city on the opening date of this famous consolidation of trained animal shows. Almost a score of never-before-seen features have been added, and the little folk should be given an opportunity to view this procession, which in its reconstructed state reveals a veritable open page in fairyland's history. The Gentry Bros.' famous shows will exhibit here in all their entirety. Two performances, afternoon and night, Thursday, June 18; Friday, June 19, and Saturday, June 20.

PLAN OF FLORENCE PEOPLE

Why the Engines and Pumps at the Water Plant Are Not Listed as Personality.

N. C. Bondesen, assessor of Florence precinct, explains his failure to include the pumps and engines of the Omaha Water company at the pumping station upon the personal property schedule as follows: "The assessment of the Omaha Water company property at Florence is in the aggregate about $18,000 higher than it was last year, but it has been transferred from the personal property schedule to that of real estate. This was done upon the advice of a large number of the people of Florence, who believed that it would be for the best interest of the township to have the buildings and their permanent contents so listed. "There is no doubt that the city of Omaha will buy the water works some time, and when that is done all of the personal property of the company will be listed at the principal office for assessment. This course will take from Florence precinct all of the valuable machinery, but now we have attached the machinery to the land for the purpose of taxation and we can hold it in the precinct for taxation, no matter who may own the works."

BRICKLAYERS GO TO WORK

Abandon Trades Council and Take Employment Offered to Them. START ON AUDITORIUM AND POSTOFFICE

Small Force Put in Operation by Contractors, Who Expect to Enlarge Rapidly the Number Working.

Work resumed on the Auditorium building yesterday after a suspension dating from March 16. At the federal building work was also resumed. This was the result of the settlement of the strike of the bricklayers, which was inaugurated in May after the members of that union had been idle for nearly two months, as the result of the strike of the hodcarriers and building laborers. The men secured the advance in wages demanded, but withdrew from the Building Trades council and went to work as individuals, agreeing to work with nonunion men.

It was the intention of the contractor on the Auditorium to start to work laying brick in the morning, but when he went to mix mortar he found that the store of lime and cement which he placed in a temporary building on the grounds had been badly damaged during the suspension of work, and he was unable to start bricklayers until afternoon, other material being secured during the morning. While waiting for material a force of building laborers were at work cleaning up the grounds and arranging scaffolding and getting brick in place for the bricklayers, who started to work in the afternoon. Half a dozen laborers were thus employed, a number of them being members of one of the hodcarriers unions who had given up the contest for higher wages. These men accepted the higher wages in force last season and engaged to work as individuals, working with nonunion men. The contractor said that he would put a dozen bricklayers to work as fast as they could be secured, and anticipated no difficulty in securing them, as members of the union had sent telegrams to other places recalling Omaha bricklayers back to the city. Six arrived from Des Moines Saturday night and more are expected today.

At the federal building two bricklayers resumed work and hodcarriers who were at work previous to the strike were re-employed. The force at the federal building will be increased as rapidly as possible, and an attempt will be made to complete the building within the contract time. With the resumption of work by the members of the Bricklayers' union, the brick yards resumed operations with a full force of men. Rochford & Gould's yard was started early in the morning, as the largest and most of the contract to furnish the new quarters at the state penitentiary. The Baker Furniture company would have probably got the whole contract if the board had been in a position to use all high-grade furniture. We consider this a great compliment to Omaha, considering the amount of competition the Baker Furniture company had to figure against.
