WORK ON STREET RAILWAY Improvements at Twentieth and Dodge Will Result in Better

Car Service.

The street car workmen have been busy this week placing new curves at Twentleth and Dodge streets, on the Harney and Dodge lines, and in placing connecting switches. The rails at this intersection had become badly worn and racked the cars considerably and the passengers to a much greater extent. Cars have now and then jumped the rails of the Harney line while making the turn. A switch will connect both the in and out lines. The work of making the change is difficult and expensive. Several days have been required to break apart the iron and cement of the old cable tracks, and the new ralls have bad improvement will have a tendency to quiet rumors that the Dodge street hill was Twentieth line and the cars brought along Beventeenth street.

The new switches will greatly facilitate the delivery of cars to the Dodge line at night and morning. Heretofore, when cars were put on in the morning and taken off at night, and when the extras went on for the busy hours, it has been necessary to run down to the Burlington depot and | world has progressed rapidly, but the dithen back on the line. Now the cars, which are all housed in the Harney street barn, can be run directly up to Twentleth and Dodge streets. Another advantage lies in the fact that in case of circuses and other attractions causing a crowd to travel north, cars from other lines can be run out Harney and up the comparatively small grade on to Twentieth and Dodge.
