MAY CUT LEGISLATORS' PAY

Judge Ryan Pursues the Case Started by Hun During Last Session.

Ex-Treasurer Norlin of Kearney County is Released on Parole and is to Work on a Farm for Two Years.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., June 22 - (Special.)-The validity of the constitutional amendment inder which the legislature has acted for sixteen years in holding sixty-day sessions and the members thereof in drawing $5 a day as their pay, was seriously challenged preme court commissioner, against Auditor Weston to restrain further payment of came up for hearing before Judge Holmes. Mr. Ryan insists that he is acting merely out of duty to his profession in order that the written constitution may not be impaired with impanity, but there is a strong sumpleion that other motives are behind the action. One of the theories is that the revenue bill enacted at the last session is aimed at. It was introduced at a period later toan the old limit of the constitution permitted bills to be filed, and if the contention of Ryan is upheld, the revenue law, together with many others, will fall by the wayside.

The claim of Ryan is that the legislature has no power to canvass the votes cast on constitutional amendments. The one ir question was submitted at the regular election in 1886. On the face of the returns, as filed with the secretary of state, the amendment failed of passage. In the stipulation of facts filed it was agreed that by the constitution of 1875 the mpensation of members of the legislageneral election in November, 1886, there whereby the compensation was increased to $5 a day for a session of sixty days. to work on the latter's farm near Minden It was stipulated that the secretary of for $20 a month. state's records show that there had been clared that there had been cast for the was secreted in a cornfield. the constitution

Deputy Attorney General Brown for the state defended the action of the legislature. He said that the amendment was carried by the people and the legislature had the right to prescribe a method by which it could be exactly found out. The legislature, he said, had a clear right to pass a law which provided for the canvassing and counting, and that it was not special legislation because it was not of a character inhibited by the constitution. The legisretained by the people. There being no procedure for determining how an amendment had carried, other than by computing the returns from each of the countles, the legislature could, even by resolution gather in the ballots. When there is no general law, he claimed, there was no inlibition against a special law when the

The four officials thus made prisoners were stripped of their clothing, which the convicts put on. Taking the doctor and the steward with them, the mutineers proceeded toward the gates. On the way they captured Mrs. John C. Cleghorn, wife of the warden, and placed her in front of them. Reaching the front gate, they dyna mited it and got outside, taking Mrs. Cleghorn with them. The warden instructed the guards to pick the convicts off, taking care not to shoot his wife. When fifty yards from the prison Mrs. Cleghorn fainted and the convicts released her. In the shooting, which was general from the guard, Convict Kuykendall. No. 5385, was instantly killed William Armstrong, the ringleader, was shot by Night Captain Clark and will die.

Two Manage to Get Away. Tom Fallon was captured on the bank of the big ditch. Two other men are reported captured at some little distance from the prison and two others are known to be gone, one of them wounded. They are on horseback, having stopped a wagon, cuttipg the horses loose and escaping. Fallon was scriously wounded. He was one of the prisoners who recently attempted to escape from the county jail in Denver, and was one of the leaders in today's outbreak. There were fifteen convicts in the party that broke out of prison today, and it is said all have been recaptured. Among the prison officials who were overpowered was Dr. Palmer, the physician, who had been called on the pretense that his services were needed by a sick prisoner. He was bound and gagged and stripped of his clothes, which were donned by one of the fugitives.

Kuykendall, the convict who was killed was serving a sentence for stealing ore from a mine in the Cripple Creek district.

Grain Spoiled by Kansas City Flood Will Result in Expensive. Litigation.

KANSAS CITY. June 22.-The controversy among the grain men over the ownership of grain that was ruined by the flood was taken into court today, through injunction proceedings brought by the Moffatt Commission company, to restrain the directors of the board of trade from suspending or expelling them for refusing to pay for grain concerning which the ownership is involved. The directors of the board of trade have decided that the cases are subject for arbitration and have ordered payment. Many members of the board have declared that they will submit to expulsion rather than permit the cases to be settled arbitrarily
