Omaha Band Gives Kansas City a Reminder of Last Year's Game.

HIT FREELY AND PUT UP SNAPPY GAME

Roarke's Men Take Last of Series on the KAW by a Score of Seven to Two, the Latter Due to Companion's Liberality.

KANSAS CITY, June 22.—(Special Telegram)—It makes little difference what Omaha's present standing in the league race is, the Roarke band can give the Kansas Cityans just as hard a game and just as neat a drubbing as in the palmy days of last year when the men from the Nebraska metropolis were right up in the lead. And taking the games played here by the Omahas, there is every reason to believe the men from up the river will be back into the first division before long.

Compelling evidence of this statement was shown here today when the visitors trotted away with the last game of the series with Kansas City by a score of 7 to 2. And Nichols' beauties have Companion's generosity to thank that it was not a shut out. Companion otherwise pitched a pretty game and the five singles of the locals were strung through the nine innings like mile posts. It was the passes that created the disturbance in the goose egg row for Kansas City.

Omaha, after going along quietly for three innings, jumped onto Cabala's trivias in the fourth and landed out three hits for three runs and followed it up in the fourth by making four more runs on five hits. Outside of these two innings, Cabla was invincible.

Kansas City scored in the opening inning on passes to Ketchum and Waldron and Streib's out at first. The other run was made in the eighth on Corbin's single, scoring Webster's pass.

Genia started the music for Omaha in the fourth with a double and went to third on a passed ball. Preston walked and stole second and Hickey also moved up on a pifer after his single had cleared the bases. Gooding's single and the throw in of Companion's fly to center scored Hickey.

Singles in succession by Wright, Dolan and Genia, the latter's stolen base and Corbin's wild throw to catch him, and Gooding's drive, made it four more for Omaha in the fifth. Attendance, 400. Score:

Better Than Champagne.

A good story is told of a St. Louis gentleman. A friend of his sent him a case of Red Raven Split. It arrived while he was absent from home. His wife opened the box and seeing all the dainty bottles mistook it for champagne. She told her husband on his return that he had been presented with a case of wine. He being a general fellow went to the telephone and called a few friends.

POSTPONES PAINTING REPAIRS

Council General Committee Rejects All Bids for Maintenance Work. Attorney for Barber Asphalt Company Raises Technical Objections to the Low Bid Put in by John Grant's Concern.

Repairing of asphalt-paved streets received another setback yesterday. Attorney J. H. Adams appeared before the city council in general committee meeting and raised several technical objections to the bid put last week by the Nebraska Bitulithic company, which was about $600 lower than the bid put in by the Barber Asphalt company, represented by him. John Grant, general manager of the first named company, defended both the form and the good faith of the bid and also declared that he was ready to give bond in any sum demanded to carry out all the conditions of it. The machinery for his new asphalt and bitulithic paving plant and paving materials, he said, have arrived and he will be ready to do the work.

After considerable discussion, and referring the matter to the city attorney for an opinion, the council finally decided to reject all bids. The city engineer was instructed to prepare specifications to be submitted to the city council tonight for approval. The Board of Public Works will then be instructed to immediately advertise for new bids, and work on the streets, if it is now expected, will be commenced early in July.

Delegations were present from the retail grocers and the peddlers opposing the proposed ordinance regulating peddling. Messrs. Mackin and Peterson, for the grocers, argued that fruit and vegetable peddling should be entirely abolished, while Messrs. Stevens and Simons, for the peddlers, insisted on their right to do business on the streets and argued against any increase from the present 125 fee in the license. By a close vote it was decided to introduce tonight a new ordinance making the fee $20 per year, payable July 1, of $20 for every additional wagon on a wagon. The matter of regulating the business will be left to a future date and ordinance.

Word for an Old Comrade. Jonathan Edwards and W. H. Green appeared on behalf of George C. Cockrell as special agent of the legal department. The office, they said, is an important one being that Mr. Ferris deems "Graustark" a permanent investment, and has acted with this idea in view.

Owing to the unprecedented demand for seats, everything for the engagement having been practically sold out yesterday, it was determined last evening to run the play one night longer, and "Graustark" will be the bill until after Thursday night.

Charges were filed by Chief Salter before the fire and police commission last night against William Morrow and Charles R. Fleming for failure to respond to alarms. Fleming was present and pleaded guilty, atoning as an excuse his having been extra sound asleep when the alarm came in. He was fined his off days for one month in addition to losing pay for the days he has been suspended. Morrow will have his hearing next Monday night.

Chief Donahue was directed to file charges against Police Officers Osborn and Morrison, who after arresting two men allowed them to drink beer in front of a saloon while waiting for the patrol wagon. All police officers will be directed to furnish schedule surety bonds in place of personal bonds. A number of them have already done so.

The resignation of officer Bebout was accepted. Firemen John Cowger, Louis Selby, Frank Johnson and Patrick Cogan were each granted ten days' leave of absence. The fire department will turn over to the street cleaning department 200 feet of old hose to be used in street cleaning.

Chief Salter notified the board of the death of Lieutenant Robert R. Vanderford, who was a member of the fire department for twelve years. The board adopted a resolution expressing a sense of loss and appreciation of the faithful and efficient services of the deceased, a copy of which will be sent the family.

Lord's hardware store was badly damaged, but the heavy brick wall prevented any further damage to that building. All the furniture in the hotel, except a few pieces, was burned. The hotel building was insured for $800 and furniture for $700. The origin of the fire is not known.

Rowing Men Split. NEW YORK, June 22.—At a special meeting of the Henon Regatta association tonight the secretary was directed to write the American Rowing association of Philadelphia, which controls the American Henon Regatta, asking for a better return for rowing in the Henon Regatta. The only explanation thus far given is that they would not be allowed to compete under the rules of the Henon Regatta association as the rule is meaningless and unfair. A detailed explanation of a letter will be addressed to the Henon and Hudson rivers asking that the entries of men from those clubs be withdrawn from the Henon Regatta. The Henon Regatta is scheduled to take place on July 1, on the Schuylkill.

When the tools were not forthcoming she threatened everyone in sight, and when she was taken to the night with all kinds of punishment. It is thought by Surgeon Trotter that she will recover.

BALL MEN ARE DISCIPLINED

Loftus Suspended, Burkett Fined and Connolly Censured for St. Louis Fight.

CHICAGO, June 22.—An American league magnate-manager, a star batsman and an umpire in the same organization were all disciplined by President Ban Johnson today as a result of Saturday's Loftus-Burkett incident at St. Louis. In the ruling, Manager Loftus was suspended for five days, Burkett is fined $50 and Umpire Connolly has received a reprimand for allowing him to put a stop to the coaching from the bench.

President Johnson suspended Loftus for coaching from the bench, which is strictly against the rules. He also ordered that the game be suspended for five days. Umpire Connolly was reprimanded for allowing Loftus to put a stop to the coaching from the bench.

Judge Permits Ball Park. ST. PAUL, June 22.—Judge Lewis, in the district court today, dismissed the order to show cause and denied without prejudice the application for a temporary injunction to prevent the construction of a new downtown base ball park. He held the erection and maintenance of a ball park not necessarily a nuisance, as alleged by the petitioners, but that they may seek an injunction later if they are able to prove any illegal disturbance by those attending games. Work on the new park will be pushed and the first game probably will be played on July 2.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES

Ferris Stock Company at the Boyd. Miss Grace Hayward certainly has reason to feel proud of the reception accorded her on her first appearance in Omaha this season. She was welcomed at the Boyd theater by an overflow assemblage last evening, drawn thither by the combined attraction of this clever actress and "Graustark," a play written by herself. Miss Hayward's dramatization of the very interesting McCutcheon story is ample proof that her ability is not bounded by mere play acting, showing that she is as capable in construction as she is in interpretation. In adapting the story to the purposes of the play she made very few changes, yet selected her material with such consummate judgment and taste that one gets quite as satisfactory a story from the drama as from the book, a thing rare indeed in the way of the book play.

Miss Hayward is too well known in Omaha to require any lengthy treatment of her style as an actress. She not only made the part of Yette possible on the stage, but she gives it life and vigor as well, and is not only the dignified princess, but a tender, loving romantic girl as well. One decided innovation, a tribute to modern advance, was introduced last evening. Miss Hayward made her first appearance in an automobile instead of the conventional carriage, and was well rewarded by the immense audience. During the progress of the play she wore a number of strikingly beautiful gowns, which brought out much comment from the feminine critics, who were unanimous in commending the excellent taste of the actress in her selections. Several handsome floral tributes were handed over the footlights, a token that her Omaha friends have not forgotten her.

Mr. Ferris is just as much at home as ever as Grenfell Lorry, and he had excellent support in Harry Long, who took Mr. Siddons' place in the cast and presented Harry Anguish, Lorry's friend, with much splendidly located as Dangloss, and Cecil Owen did unusually good work as Prince Gabriel. Others in the cast contributed much to the success of the play. By and large, it was an excellent performance, and a summer stock company, the reason being that Mr. Ferris deems "Graustark" a permanent investment, and has acted with this idea in view.

Owing to the unprecedented demand for seats, everything for the engagement having been practically sold out yesterday, it was determined last evening to run the play one night longer, and "Graustark" will be the bill until after Thursday night.
