Liberal Hog Receipts.

CHICAGO. June Z—A builish sentiment again prevailed in the grain pits today and September wheat closed in the aligher. September corn was up he and onts to higher but provisions were easier, the September products closing from Pic to be lower.

Wheat opened strong on unfavorable reports from the southwest, showing that the returns from the threshers were rather disappointing and on heavy rains in that section of the country made up for the continued tack of precipitation in the northtion of the country made up for the continued lack of precipitation in the northwest, where rains are much needed. July was up 1724 to 1874 at 1774 at 1874 at decrease in the visible supply and by the strength in outside markets, and there was active demand from commission houses and pit traders, which resulted in July selling up to 35½ and September to 750,75%; A sight reaction occurred within the last half hour, but July cloued 1½/01%c higher at 75%c. with September 151%c higher at 75%c. With September 151%c higher at 76%c. Clearances of wheat and Bour were equal to 352,500 bu. Frimary receipts were 46%,500 bu, against 50,600 bu a year ago. The amount on passage showed a decrease of 2,136,000 bu. Willie the visible supply decreased 2,575,000 bu. Minneappils and Duluth reported receipts of 31 cars, which, with local receipts of 19 cars, 1 of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 410 cars.

Excessive rains in part of the corn belt, together with cool weather, were the main buil factors in the corn pit and caused renewed strength in that market. Trading was active inroughout the day, with covering by shorts a prominent feature. The higher prices brought out considerable liquidation and as a result part of the advance was lost. The close, however, was strong, with July ½c higher at 50½c, after selling between 50c and 50½c, while September ranged between 40½c and 50½c, closing 5½c higher at 50½c. Closing 5½c higher at 50½c. Local receipts were 711 cars, with 50 of contract grade.

The feature in oats was the urgent demand for July from shorts and a consequent advance in the price of that delivery. The unfavorable weather conditions helped tho more distant futures and aided ry The unfavorable weather conditions nelped the more distant futures and aided helped the more distant futures and aided in the general upturn. Offerings were rather light, with commission houses good buyers of the far off deliveries. After selling between 23%c and 34c, September closed tic higher at 23%c. July closed with a gain of %c, after running between 40% and 40%c. Local receipts were 213 cars.

Liberal receipts of hegs and lower prices at the yards caused an easier tone in provisions at the opening and with a dull at the yards crussed an easier tone in pro-visions at the opening and with a dull trade prices failed to recuperate, holding about steady throughout the day. Brokers and smail packers gave some support to the market early in the session, but selling by commission houses had a depressing in-fluence. September pork closed 2½c lower at $16.87½; September lard, 5c lower at $8.85, and ribs 2½c lower at $9.25. NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS.

Brief Boosting Effect Falls and Market Drifts Lethargically. NEW YORK, June 22.—There was a brief attempt this morning to put up prices, but it was soon abandoned and the stock market was allowed to drift for the rest of the ket was allowed to drift for the rest of the day. Scattered weakness caused the drift to be downwards and the closing was easier at the lowest of the day and very dull. The news of the day was not favorable, and the early attempt to put up prices seemed to be manipulative and designed to contest the effect of the poor bank statement of Saturday. The unnouncement of gold exports was the signal for prices to turn downward. The outgo of gold also gave renewed effect to Saturday's bank statement, and the weather map for the day being unfavorable for the corn and cotton crops, as well as for the harvesting of the winter wheat crop, was added to the dewinter wheat crop, was added to the de-pressing influences. No plausible explana-tion is forthcoming of the discrepancy of over $3,050,000 between the cash showing of the banks in the statement and the known movements of money for the week. So far per bu. box. $2.50.

But discounts have in-dened in London and the price of gold was advanced there this morning, while the decline in sterling and at Paris marks the process of withdrawal of German and geoine in sterning and at Paris marks the process of withdrawal of German and Prench capital from London. It is evident also that those centers are calling home resources from New York. The London Status of June 13, while professing confidence in the soundness of the American situation, in spite of the decline in stocks. expresses the opinion that there will be for a while a slackening of all kinds of business in the United States, which will make money abundant and cheap in New York, which will enable the German banks make money abundant and cheap in New York, which will enable the German banks to increase the balances they are employing here. This week's steamers also are the largest by which remittances can be made for interest and dividends to foreign holders of our securities, due on July 1. The stock market at present is sensitive to the chances of the corn crop, the acreage for which is now being finally decided. The day's unfavorable developments for the crops, as indicated by the strength both in the cereal and cotton markets, was perhaps an equal influence with the exports in depressing stocks. Only one or two of the principal railroad stocks lost as much as a point. International mercantile marine, although not dealt in on the Stock exchange, was weak on the curb on the announced determination of the Cunard company to 'act independently of the combination in making rates. The steps taken in various judicial proceedings against minor industrial corporations were a contributing influence to the depression. Special influence was directed against Colorado Fuel, Metropolitan Street railway, Union Bag stocks and Leather, preferred. The total transactions fell to near the low level for the year.

Bonds were dull and weak. Total sales, par value, $1,405,000.

United States 48, registered, declined ½ per cent on the last call.

NEW YORK, June 22.—COTTON—Opened NEW YORK, June 22.—COTTON—Opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points and ruled generally firm, with values displaying a distinctly upward tendency, the close being steady at a net gain of 9625 points. Total sales futures were estimated at 300,000 bales. The initial advance was under covering, due to the unfavorable turn in the weather throughout the south. The English cables were somewhat under expectations and receipts for the south. The English cables were somewhat under expectations and receipts for the day were fair, but these factors had little influence compared with the unfavorable crop reports. There was also renewed talk of a squeeze in the summer months, following fresh supporting orders from New Orleans and a report that 960 bales of cotton had been shipped out of New York stock to the southern markets. Just before mid-day there was a recession under profit taking, but the market almost immediately railled and continued strong until just before the close, which from realizing eased the list off from the top. as a result trading was active and prices higher.

Beef steer buyers were in the saddle at an early hour and the market could safely be quoted active and fully a dime higher on the desirable grades. When it came to the commoner kinds though the improvement was not so great and some sales did not look much of any higher. The big bulk of the offerings though, was of good quality and as high as $5.30 was paid which is the top price for some time past. As will be seen from the sales below there were several bunches that sold for $5.00 and better. Today's advance carries the market several bunches that sold for $5.00 and better. Today's advance carries the market back to just about where it was at the high time on June 12, so the big slump in prices the early part of last week has now been entirely recovered.

The cow market was also active and generally a dime higher so far as the good stuff was concerned. Receipts were light as the big bulk of the offerings consisted of steers. The grassers in some cases sold a little higher but the advance was not so marked as on the good to choice corn feds. Canners were slow sale the same as they have been for some little time and no particular improvement in the prices paid was noticed.

Bulls, veal calves and stags sold readily at steady to strong prices. There were just a few bunches of stockers and feeders in the yards, but the market showed no improvement, although fat cattle sold higher. The demand from the country is still exceedingly light and as a result the tendency of prices is downward. Some pretty decent cattle had to sell around $4.00, which at one time would have brought $4.50 readily. Representative sales:

Recently a similar suit was begun in the Inited States court of appeals in Ohio, and he decision of the lower court was overruled and the defendant held for trial. Under this decision Walters was again indicted by the grand jury at the May term in this city for writing threatening letters to Senator and Mrs. Kearns, and the case came up for hearing before Judge Munger yesterday. The attorneys for Walters again demur on the ground that the case against their client was finally and irrevocably determined by the quashing of the ndictment in February, 1901.

JESSIE MAKES A GAME RACE Gets Away from the Post with Bad Harness and Meets

Defeat. Jessie Meyers and James Jackson, with Sergeant Dempsey, did a tandem stunt from the city fail to Capitol avenue yesterday, with Jessie as the pace maker. In two minutes and thirty seconds the return trip was made in team style, with the sergeant bringing up the rear. It all came about by Jessie attempting to out down her jall record by one day, She started from the top floor of the city lall and on the getaway she left the police matron at the post. The latter, in an attempt to force Jessie to fly the track, seured about three yards of skirting with which she stampeded the jail crew.

Jim the scrubber and Dempsey the sergeant, the latter hatless and the former game, at least to the extent of a leg. started even and kept that way until the middle of Dodge street was reached, when the sergeant careened elightly to the left to avoid a cobblestone that flew from Jessis's foot and Jim got the lead and held itthe lead of the sergeant. By this time Jessie was fully a block shead, with good chances of lowing herself in the finish.

But the good work of the matron in starting the undoing of Jessie's harness was her defeat. The cheering crowd and the jeering prisoners who were watching the race saw Jessie make a spasmodic grab at where her belt should have been. She made another at the neck band of her waist. She was too late. What the belt had held in place was not there. It was slipping around her feet. With such a handleap the girl was bound to be a loser. but she was even gamer than Jim's leg. She flew the track into an alley near Capitol avenue, through the rear door of Levy's saloon, where she sank exhausted into a chair. There Jim got her, just as the sergeant rounded the corner.

The woman had been sent to fall because she failed to have $3 with which to pay a fine. Today her time would have been out, but Jessie didn't like to wait
