AGAINST CANNON CRACKERS
 Police Department Intends to Lessen the Noise of the Fourth.
 WILL STRICTLY ENFORCE OLD ORDINANCE
 Dealers in Omaha Will Not Be Permitted to Sell Fire Crackers
 Measuring Over Three Inches in Length.

Chief of Police Donahue has issued his annual Fourth of July edict. This year it is broader and more sweeping than heretofore. He has instructed the patrolmen to arrest all dealers who sell or offer for sale any fire cracker that measures over three inches in length, commonly known as the cannon cracker. The ordinance making it an offense to sell such was passed in 1897, but heretofore it had not been enforced. This year the chief intends to carry out the law to the letter.

Suppression by Degrees.
 "For several years we have been trying to draw the line and gradually we are succeeding, for an examination of the record shows a great decrease in the reports of accidents. This had to be done by degrees, but the time has come when the anti-fourth celebrations must stop so far as the fire crackers are concerned, and this year will see its finish."

The Ak-Sar-Ben Goat
 is getting a reputation for being "it" almost equal to the Havan shoe among shoes.
 The women, however, will never throw over Havan shoes for goats or shoes made of goatskin.
 The Havan shoe has a distinct style never reached by other manufacturers—all lasts, from the wide toe and low, flat heel to the extreme high arch and military heel. The only shoe makers that have been able to make a perfect match last in a woman's shoe—probably because they make the best men's shoes.
